A DASTARDLY DEED.

Dynamite and the Torch Used on the San Pablo Rancho.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—An attempt waswas made to dynamite and burn the farmhouse of Henryq F. Emeric on the San Pablo Rancho, two miles from San Pablo in Contra Costa county, last Friday night.

The house was occupied by a Portuguese farmer, a tenant of Emeric. Saturday morning the farmer found stretching across the front yard a line of fuses. One end was at the fence and the other was inserted in a bundle wrapped in newspapers lying on the ground three or four or five feet from the side of the house. Unwrapping this paper he found six or seven pounds of dynamite cartridges fitted with percussion caps, into which the fuse was inserted, but because of some kink or defect the fuse did not carry the line of fire. Had the dynamite been exploded every persons in the house would have been blown to fragmentary death. Further search about the house showed a quantity of lump phosprorous ignited.

A careful inquiry of the attempt at murder and arson has begun. The dynamite, fuse, caps, phosphorous and coal-oil have been placed in charge of the constables at San Pablo. The Portuguese farmer has moved his family from the farmhouse and an armed guard is there now at nights. The farmer is represented as an inoffensive man without enemies. Therefore the motive for the attempt at destruction is regarded as the old enmity growing out of a long fight for possession of the land of the San Pablo rancho.

WITH A CRASH

Big Brick Blocks Fall at Wheeling.

Fire and Smoke Add to the Horror.

Hapless Individuals Caught by the Falling Walls and are Buried.

Very Rev. F. H. Parke Killed—Several Employees Missing and Probably Dead—Criminal Construction.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WHEELING (W. Va.) April 9.—At 8:20 o'clock this morning the south wall of the four-story brick block of Hutchinson & Co., on the corner of Main street and the alley south of Twelfth street, collapsed without warning. Next north of it was the place of Chapman & Son, who were just finishing a five-story brick block, and they had already stored in it about $14,000 worth of paints, glass, etc., and were doing business there. Hutchinson & Co. deal in hardware, saddlery, etc., and the building was packed full of goods. The wall on the alley first fell out, pulling with it the partition wall between Hutchinson's and Chapman's. The crash of the falling buildings was terrific and soon drew thousands to the scene. The horror of the accident was increased by a fire which broke out, and as there were large quantities of oil, turpentine and like matter in Chapman's, the situation was hard to meet.

Four employees were caught in the Hutchinson buildings. They were:

ROBERT WINCHESTER.
EUGENE BIRCH.
P. J. HORAN.
M. J. FORD.

The first three have not been found and are doubtless dead. Ford was rescued and may recover. Charles Hailer, the bookkeeper, and Adam Blum, junior partner, were penned up against the rear wall and were released uninjured. Hutchinson was in the second story and was badly injured, but was rescued alive and hopes are entertained that he may recover. When the collapse came Ford was selling goods to Benjamin Pritchard, a wagon manufacturer of Buchanan, W. Va. Pritchard's dead body was found lying across Ford's legs.

Short before the accident Very Rev. Father F. H. Parke, vicar-general of the Catholic diocese of Wheeling, was seen to enter the alley, and he was believed to be killed, and this belief was sadly confirmed at 6:30 o'clock this evening when his body was recovered. He was 72 years old, a distinguished clergyman, chaplain of Mt. de Chantal Academy, and had been twice administrator of the diocese.

A Western Union telegraph messenger boy named Harry Cowl, aged 14, is also thought to have been in the alley, but his body has not been recovered. No others are known to be lost. There was an early report that a cab, its driver, and four occupants were buried by the falling walls, but this proved to be untrue.

The falling brick and timbers knocked a hole thirty feet long in the three-story brick building across the alley occupied by G. M. Rice & Co., wholesale milliners, and the smoke and water ruined their valuable stock. The smoke also permeated the adjoining house occupied by Speyer Bros., wholesale milliners, and their loss will be heavy. Water caused serious damage to Greer & Lang's hardware store, and Ott Brothers & Co., hardware dealers. The cellars were flooded for a block, ten streams playing all day, and averaging 1000 gallons a minute, and yet the fire was not extinguished until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Great indignation is expressed because at the time the old Melodion Happ property was remodeled, and a story added in 1891 by Mr. Hutchinson, the walls were condemned, but he persisted in using them, and owing to the lack of adequate laws could not be prevented.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Sacramento Trustees Discuss a Proposed Bond Issue.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The City Trustees tonight considered the question of issuing five or ten year bonds for street improvement in accordance with the law providing for them. The adoption of the plan would mean the improvement of nearly all the streets of the city with macadam, which can be done very cheaply as soon as the new rock-crushing plant at Folsom is in operation.

Although no definite action was taken by the board, the sentiments expressed showed that when the proper time arrives the streets not already bituminized will be improved with macadam, as the issuance of the bonds will enable those who cannot pay a lump sum for improving the streets to pay it in instalments, with interest at a low rate, thus avoiding the necessity of waiting till times grow better. Another year will see a large number, if not all, of the streets macadamized.

SHOT HER HEAD OFF.

Suicide of a Wife and Mother at Sacramento.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Mrs. Annie Dathe committed suicide at her home two miles from here on the lower Stockton road this afternoon, by shooting the back part of her head off with a shotgun.

Her husband is employed at a brewery in this city. He says he could not account for his wife's action in taking her life. When he left home she appeared in the best of spirits, and did not complain of anything being wrong with her. Mrs. Dathe leaves three young children.

A POWERFUL CONCERN.

The American Distributing Company Joins the Whisky Trust.

CHICAGO, April 9.—It was announced today that arrangements had been completed for the consolidation of the American Distributing Company with the reorganized whisky trust. The American Distributing Company has controlled the whisky business of the East. Its headquarters are in New York, and with its $5,000,000 capital it has been a powerful concern. Its consolidation with the trust will leave but small spirituous liquor interests outside of the combination.

It was rumored today that sensational discoveries had been made by experts who have been examining the books of the Greenhut management, and important complaints against the old management will shortly be filed, but neither Receiver McNulta nor the attorneys would confirm the story. The stories circulated yesterday regarding the withdrawal of four Peoria distilleries from the Spirits Association are denied by Receiver McNulta today, who declared the rumors were started for stock-jobbing purposes.

A FAKER CAUGHT.

Spiritualist Frank Hamilton is Arrested at Denver.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

DENVER, April 9.—Harry Waite, alias Frank Hamilton, was arrested today by the city detectives on a telegram received from the Chief of Police of San Jose, Cal. He is said to be wanted for obtaining $300 under fraudulent representations from a woman.

Hamilton is a clairvoyant and a spiritualist and since he has been in Denver has had an office on Welton street. He claims that a certain band of spiritualists are trying to drum him out of town and that the charge has been made against him to attain this end. Hamilton is but 23 years of age, but he is an old companion of Jules Wallace, the spiritualistic medium who gained so much notoriety here and elsewhere.

GEORGE W. TYLER.

THE DEATH OF THE NOTORIOUS ATTORNEY.

He Succumbs to Blood-poisoning—A Picturesque Career—Counsel for Sarah Althea—His Trick on Gen. Barnes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—(Special Dispatch.) George W. Tyler, notorious as counsel for Sarah Althea in the famous Sharon divorce case, died tonight at his home in Alameda of blood-poisoning. Tyler had been ill for some time. He suffered much in his later years because his disbarment prevented him from gaining a living by the law.

Tyler had a picturesque career. He came here in '49 and mined in Northern California. He developed more skill at poker than at mining, and he lost two fingers of his right hand because he was raking in a pot on false cards when his opponent lopped off the fingers with his bowie-knife.

Tyler had many fights in court, and he was chosen by Sarah Althea as her counsel because of his fighting qualities. He proved to be a terror to witnesses, and he demolished many who testified for Sharon. His greatest coup was the trick he played on Gen. Barnes, by which his clerk induced Barnes to buy a document, purporting to show that the marriage contract was forgery, for $25,000. Barnes paid the coin and afterward had to make this amount good to Sharon. For this Barnes secured his disbarment.

A MORIBUND COMPACT.

The Underwriters to Dissolve on the Twentieth Inst.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The underwriters are now fully convinced that their compact cannot hold together longer than April 20. On that day the withdrawal notice of the Commercial Union will expire and then there will be a complete suspension of rates unless it does not take place meanwhile. Today many insurance managers warned their policyholders not to cancel until after that date, which in itself shows how general the belief in a suspension is.

Rolla V. Watt has always been known as a conservative manager, and as his two big English companies would not be materially affected by a cut-rate war on this Coast, however severe, he is well qualified to speak disinterestedly. He said:

"Where local boards cannot be formed prior to the 20th inst. all rates and rules will probably be abandoned. This does not imply that policies will be given away, but will doubtless result in a very considerable reduction on so-called desirable risks. Cutting will be slight on stocks which are especially susceptible to damage, but on dwellings and on business buildings the cuts will range from 25 to 50 per cent. in all Coast cities and towns."

"Dou you think the disturbances of rates will last for any considerable time?" was asked.

"I think it altogether probable that the trouble will continue for a year or two, possibly longer."

MAJ. WHAM'S SENTENCE.

Suspended and Placed at the Bottom of the List.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The President has disposed of a case that has been pending for many months in acting upon the record of court-martial held at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., which sentenced Maj. Joseph W. Wham, a paymaster in the army, to dismissal for failure to pay his debts. The President mitigated the sentence to a suspension on half-pay from rank, duty and all privileges until January, 1904, his name to be placed at the foot of the list in the pay department.

The date mentioned is that upon which Maj. Wham will retire, so that he can never again see active service, and he will drop from No. 9 to No. 25 in his rank, so that there will be no possibility of his own promotion, nor can he retard the promotion of majors who may enter the grade hereafter.

A Hairbreadth Escape.

LODI, April 9.—W. W. Willey, a young man from Sacramento, attempted to board a freight-train going thirty miles an hour today. He was thrown under the wheels, but managed to hang on and get his legs out of the way. He suffered no more injury that a badly-bruised head and face.

Billy Murphy and Bishop.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Tonight's mail carried to Texas the signed articles of agreement for a 25-round contest between Billy Murphy and George W. Bishop before the Houston Athletic Club, May 23.

ASPHYXIATED.

Fate of the Imprisoned Miners.

Death Came Quickly in Most Cases.

Some of the Men Were Killed Outright by the Shock of the Explosion.

Story of Kerns, the Only One Who Escaped from any of the Underground Rooms—The Rescuers' Work.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SEATTLE, April 9.—The Post-Intelligencer's New Whatcom special says that the faces of the men who were working in the breast at the Blue Canyon mine were badly burned, but a majority of those who were working in the rooms off the gangway were only slightly disfigured by the fire and many of them not at all. Physicians and miners say that the men working in the breast must have been killed by the shock of the explosion, while the others succumbed to the after-damp as they slid down from the rooms to the gangway, then filled with deadly gas. This gangway is reached by a tunnel 780 feet long and the distance from the interior section of the gangway to the breast where the explosion took place is about one thousand feet. The main air-shaft reached the gangway about one hundred feet from the tunnel and air is supplied by waterpower, which was not affected by the explosion.

Kerns, the only miner who escaped from any of the rooms, says that he was not stunned or even thrown down by the shock, though Morgan, who was working with him, was killed.

Kerns's light was not extinguished and he saw no fire. He slid down the chute to the gangway, losing his light in some way and managed to make his way in the darkness in some miraculous manner along the poisonous passage, over dead bodies and piles of coal loosened by the explosion, to the open air, but before he reached the entrance the work of rescue had already commenced. Out in the tunnel he met a part of brave miners groping their way inward as fast as the escape of the poisonous gases permitted. This party and others following pushed their way into the mine and carried out one by one the bodies of the dead miners, as they came upon them, scattered along the gangway. The first body found was that of the mule-driver, lying beside the dead animal, 950 feet from the mine entrance. From there to the fall of the gangway, a distance of about eight hundred feet, bodies were scattered along as they fell from the chutes leading to the rooms. Most of the bodies showed little evidence of the struggle and in most instances death apparently came quickly.

McAndrews's body was found buried under a slide of coal, and McNulty was on his hands and knees about twenty yards from where he had been working and had his handkerchief tied over his nose and mouth. When the correspondent left the mine, shortly before midnight, the work of washing the faces and hands of the dead men had just commenced. All that is possible is being done to alleviate the distress of the families of the deceased. The president of the company, M. E. Downs, now in New York, has been notified by wire. Coffins have been ordered, and after the inquest tomorrow the bodies will be brought to this city.

WIRES KNOCKED OUT BY A STORM.

TACOMA (Wash.,) April 9.—At 5 p.m. this city was struck by a severe windstorm, coming from the direction of the Columbia River. The wind blew about fifty miles an hour. Almost immediately it began to hail. This continued for ten minutes and was followed by an Eastern thunderstorm which is always a novelty in this section. For ten minutes thunder and lightning alternated in quick succession and a heavy rain fell.

The chief damage was done to telegraph and telephone wires. Tonight the Western Union lines are down over localities to Spokane and north to Seattle. The Postal wires are down north and south, but many linemen are out after the trouble. Both companies' wires being down to the north it has cut off news from the mine disaster at New Whatcom. Some of the long-distance telephone wires were knocked down by falling trees.

The storm struck the steamer Flyer on her trip to Seattle just off Pulley Point. One of the passengers said that the Sound was a mass of foam as far as the eye oulde see. He said:

"Off Al-Ki Point a capsized sailboat was seen with a white man and squaw clinging to it. A boat was put out and the couple saved. The man was barely able to talk, but said that they had been in the water nearly an hour. They were on their way from Port Blakely to Seattle, and the squall had toppled them over.

Old Age a Bar.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Instructions were today issued to a board appointed by the President yesterday to conduct the examinations for retirement of officers of revenue cutter service. The instructions prescribe in detail the duties of the board, and explain that the phrase "incapacitated to efficiently perform the duties of this office," as contained in the law, is interpreted to mean an incapacity to perform all the duties of a revenue cutter officer. By the terms of the law, "the infirmities of age" without other infirmities are held to be sufficient to cause incapacity.

Derailed by a Boulder.

ST. JOHNSBURY (Vt.,) April 9.—The south-bound passenger train on the Passumpsic division of the Boston and Maine Railroad collided with a large boulder on the track near Smith's Mill late last night. The locomotive was derailed and overturned, and Engineer S. I. Rooney and Fireman Lewis Emerson were fatally scalded. It is believed that a boulder, loosened by heavy storms, rolled down upon the track. No passengers were injured, although considerably shaken up.

COUDREY WINS.

Has a Fifty-thousand-dollar Mortgage on "Heaven."

CHICAGO, April 9.—The long-delayed trial by which George W. Coudrey sought to collect $50,000 in a damage suit against Jacob Schweinfurth, the Rockford Messiah, began in Judge Dunne's court today. Coudrey alleged that the defendant alienated Mrs. Coudrey's affections from her husband by inducing her to enter his "heaven."

When the case was called, Schweinfurth was not present and was not represented. Counsel was present, however, who had received letters from the defendant regarding the suit. In them Schweinfurth declared himself to resist the "doings of the man," and intimated that he cared nothing for the case. He emphatically added that he was guiltless of wrongdoing. The first witness called was the aged Dr. Brigham Smith, an ex-inmate of the Rockford "heaven." The doctor's testimony was chiefly confined to intimations that Schweinfurth's morality was not above par.

The jury returned a verdict awarding Coudrey $50,000 damages, the full amount asked for. The jury was but a few minutes in reaching the verdict. Schweinfurth's people say that he has no money to meet the damages.

STRIKING COAT-MAKERS.

The Total Number Out is Now Eight Thousand.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—The striking coat-makers held another mass-meeting today. Reports were received from several additional shops, making the total number out 8000. The shops in Covington, Newport and other Kentucky suburban points have joined the strikers.

Secretary Bloom of the Cincinnati Clothiers' Association stated that the wholesalers would meet their men half way as individuals, but they want to meet the representatives of shops and those of the coatmakers, and not of the protective association.

THE REPUBLICANS ON TOP IN NEW JERSEY.

Hidebound Democratic Strongholds Fall Over—Exposures of Greed and Corruption Partly Responsible.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, April 9.—(Special Dispatch.) The net result of the charter elections in New Jersey was a sweep for the Republicans. The returns received last night indicated that Newark had been taken by Republicans by a majority of 5000. Trenton, ordinarily safe for the Democrats, made a Republican ex-policeman her Mayor by 2500 majority. The last vestige of Democratic officialism was swept away in Elizabeth. The Democratic city of Orange capitulated and even New Brunswick, the most loyal of all Democratic communities, went into the Republican camp.

One of the most notable of Republican triumphs was achieved in New Brunswick. The city and county of Middlesex, in which it is located, have heretofore been so wedded to Democracy that Republicans have often let the malorality go by default. Van Cleef, who is to step down and out this spring to make way for a Republican, has been elected two or three times unopposed. The exposures of Democratic greed in the County Board of Freeholders and the stirring-up of scandals in the administration of city affairs, were responsible for the result.

Sacramento River Breaks Through into Yolo Basin.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—A. C. Hinkson of Sacramento and George H. Swingle of Yolo appeared before Gov. Budd today and petitioned him to appeal to the government engineers having supervision of the Sacramento river to close a break or secure orders from Washington to do so, at a point near Elkhorn on the west side of the river, ten miles above Sacramento.

They allege that there is a break three thousand feet wide, through which a vast volume of water pours into the Yolo basin that is doing great injury. They said so much water is now going through at twenty-one feet as there did at twenty-five feet high some weeks ago; that this is due to the formation of a sandbar below the break, caused by the current being checked by diversion through the break; that the river has cut into its natural bank and is still cutting deeper and threatens to do so until the low land level is reached, when the tendency will be for a large part of the stream to sweep into the basin permanently.

Gov. Budd listened attentively and interestedly and said he would address the government engineers on the subject after consultation with Congressman Johnson.

THE CARSON STEAL.

Michael Heney Said to Have Been in the Deal.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Examiner says James Heney for four years watchman in the refining room of the Carson mint, is missing and accuses him of being a beneficiary of the big steal in the mint. After Heney retired from office a year or more ago, he came to this city and branched out as a speculator. Through his agent, L. W. Howe, he made numerous investments, lending money on mortgages. When the first news of the mint scandal reached this city Heney disappeared. Then stories of his doings while a watchman became current.

Heney, it is charged, while acting as guardian of the Carson mint, became aware of what was going on. By threatening to expose them he forced the men who were looting the mint, to declare him in on the scheme. His brother, Michael Heney, had Heney's share of the bullion remelted and shipped to the San Francisco mint for coinage by a Folsom merchant who was made an innocent party to the steal.

Heney is now supposed to be on his way to England, while Michael is believed to be in hiding somewhere in the State.

Outcome of the Income Tax Decision.

The Treasury Officials Puzzled by Several Problems that Have Arisen.

A Definition of Rents is in Demand—John Bull Pleased that Bonds are Exempt—More Suits Forthcoming.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The decision of the Supreme Court yesterday in the income-tax case has plunged the internal revenue officials into almost inexplicable mysteries and trouble. The more the decision is studied the greater seem the difficulties attending a clear understanding of its scope. The declaration that rents and incomes from real estate are exempted has opened up the question whether the effect of the decision is not to include all profits of whatever character growing out of real estate, including farm products, timber, coal and all mine products, within the exempt clause. Whether losses sustained through bad rents, debts and amount of expenses incurred in collecting rents or for repairs on houses are to be deducted from incomes is also a mooted question.

Under the decision the rents are not to be included in assessing the income tax. Suppose, it is asked, that the man's income is of a mixed character, that is, from real and personal property, the former is exempt. Can he deduct the expenses necessary for the collection of his income from realty from the income from personal property before making his return? The question is puzzling revenue collectors, and a legal opinion on the point will probably be sought. Another grave question raised by the decision is whether the roadbed, roundhouses, stations, etc., of the railroads are real estate or personal property within the meaning of the law.

The laws of several States are said to differ on this point, and on several others of importance involved in the opinion of the court.

As soon as a verified copy of the opinion can be had, internal revenue officials will begin the incorporation of supplementary regulations which will cover in a more or less general way the opinion of the court, leaving the more abstruse questions to be solved as they are presented. Collectors of the tax in different parts of the country already have begun telegraphing for instructions on many points, some of them stating that the crush of those who desire to make returns has already begun.

The debates on the income tax, while the bill for its imposition was under consideration in Congress, are almost barren of figures showing the comparative importance of the incomes from rents and interest on county, municipal and State bonds in furnishing revenue to the government. It does not appear that this matter was touched upon in the House discussion and it was only casually referred to in the Senate. Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island prepared a statement placing the revenue likely to be derived through the income tax at $120,000,000, and crediting rents and public bonds with about 30 per cent. of this amount.

Senator Peffer, who made the principal speech in the Senate in advocacy of an income tax, did not go into this branch of the question at all, but he said today in an interview that he was of the opinion that between nine and ten millions of dollars of revenue would have been derived from those two sources if the Supreme Court had allowed them to stand, and he added he thought this amount would have been about two-thirds of the revenue produced by the income tax.

"The census reports show," he said, "that 52 per cent. of the people of the United States are renters, and it is to be inferred that about this proportion of the land is occupied by renters. The land of the entire country, with improvements added, is put down as worth $39,544,544,223. Of this amount $20,000,000,000 worth is rented. The rental on that amount at the average rate of 5 per cent. would be $1,000,000,000. Just what proportion of that would come under the law is another matter and that could not be gotten at accurately, but let us assume one-quarter of it, or $250,000,000 worth, would be taxable income, that would give $5,000,000 of income tax, and that, I think, is a very low estimate. The bonds, municipal, county and school district, which would be subject to the tax, amount to $806,213,053. Take one-quarter of this amount as coming within the operations of the law and one arrives at the rate of 2 per cent. on this amount, $4,531,065, or a total on the two items of about $9,500,000."

Late this afternoon Commissioner Miller decided to require all persons who have made returns to make affidavits to the facts as to the amount of income received from rents and bonds, and those who have not yet sent in their returns to make necessary correction thereon before doing so. It seems probable that final decision will be that yesterday's opinion in effect exempts incomes received from bonds and rents, the latter to be strictly defined as the amount the landlord derives from his tenant. In computing income it is believed that it will be held that insurance, ordinary repairs and taxes on exempt property may be properly deducted. In that case it is probable that the courts will be called upon to explain just what yesterday's decision intended to exempt from the tax.

Private Secretary Thurber's attention being called to the statement contained in the Washington evening papers today that the President was being flooded by telegrams from all parts of the country appealing to him to call an extra session of Congress to repeal the income-tax law, said that not one single telegram or communication had been received on the subject.

THE LAW TO BE AGAIN ATTACKED.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Attorney J. W. Wilson, who represented John G. Moore in the Court of Appeals in the recent income-tax cases, said this morning that further proceedings would be begun immediately. "Several parts of the law will be attacked," said he, "the principal one being the exemption from taxation of incomes under $4000 annually. This will be attacked as an unjust discrimination. I cannot say just yet who the complainants or what the title of the suits will be, but they will be instituted probably within a few days and be pushed as rapidly as possible."

ATTY.-GEN. OLNEY'S OPINION.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—"So far as the lower courts are concerned," said Atty.-Gen. Olney, "the division of the Supreme Court on the income-tax law is as binding as if the whole court had been unanimous in its favor. I cannot believe that any judge would grant an injunction to prevent a collector from collecting the tax on incomes derived from other sources than rents or State and municipal bonds in the face of the Supreme Court's action. The only way I see by which persons who object to paying the tax can secure judicial action is by paying the tax under protest and entering suit for its recovery."

RETURNS TO BE MODIFIED.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller has sent a telegram to all internal revenue collectors directing them to hold all income-tax lists due April 15 until further orders and retain possession of all returns received. This is done with a view to a modification of the returns to correspond with the decision of the Supreme Court.

JOHN BULL'S AMERICAN BONDS NOT TAXED.

LONDON, April 9.—The Globe, this afternoon, referring to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, as to the constitutionality of the income tax, says: "Every man in this country will regret that there is no Supreme Court of the American variety here. Never in all the long history of the English bench have they soared to the heights of liberty reached by the American judges yesterday. It is quite impossible to establish such a tribunal here."

The St. James Gazette comments on the Supreme Court decision in a similar strain and adds: "No one has suggested that this august tribunal can be bribed in the manner familiar to litigants in some of the inferior courts of the Union. Still, it is significant that the politics of the various judges are carefully mentioned in the dispatches."

STRONG WORDS.

GOV. M'KINLEY SPEAKS AT HARTFORD.

A Brilliant Banquet Attended by Many Notables—He Criticizes the Present Financial System.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

HARTFORD (Ct.,) April 9. — The banquet tendered Gov. McKinley by the McKinley Club of this city this evening in Footguard Armory was a brilliant affair. Many of the State's most prominent men were present, including the entire Congressional delegation. Mr. McKinley was greeted with tremendous applause upon tentering the hall. Five hundred persons sat down to the tables.

John Addison Porter presided and introduced the speakers, who were Senators Hawley and Platt, Lieut-Gov. Cook, Congressman Hendy, ex-Congressman Buck, Speaker Fessenden and Mayor Brainard. Gov. Coffin introduced Gov. McKinley, who spoke for nearly two hours. He was frequently interrupted by applause and was given an enthusiastic ovation at the close.

"Our foreign policy," he said, "for the most part during the past two years, has fallen short of the lofty standard of a century ago and of more recent times as well. While in our domestic situation there is no cause for congratulation, this is not the time to indulge in terms of distrust or aggravation."

Passing to the tariff, he declared that the Brice-Gorman-Wilson bill had reversed the wise revenue policy of the government since its foundation, so that today more money is being collected from internal taxes than custom duties, the figures of Secretary Carlisle a few weeks ago showing that in 1894 the government received $155,000,000 from internal taxes and $131,000,000 from customs duties, laying the burden more directly on the people than at any time for thirty years.

"The present administration has transferred the burden of taxes from import goods of foreign countries to the incomes, investments and property of our own people. In less than two years the government has been compelled to borrow $162,000,000. The people's distrust was produced by the failing-off in the revenues."

Gov. McKinley severely criticised the bond contract, made in secret with the financiers of Europe, which he termed the culmination of the hard-bargain business that began in November, 1892. Regarding the tariff agitation the speaker said: "There are those who say there must be no further agitation of the tariff and no attempt to change tariff, but that we must rest our mighty enterprises and vast business enterprises upon the tariff legislation of the last Congress and adjust them to it, however difficult that may be. That is what we are trying to do and will as best we can, because we cannot for the next two years do otherwise. But it is no permanent settlement of the issue, only an enforced and impatient pause. The Democrat is satisfied with the law, and the party is now seeking other issues to regain lost ground. They now promise to do for silver what they failed to do in 1892. The Republican party must restore the happy homes of 1892 and by the principle of protection, which would restore confidence at home and credit abroad."

After calling attention to the strange spectacle of the greatest government in the world without sufficient money from its own receipts to meet its ordinary daily expenses, he said that the only way to stop loans was to stop deficiencies, both of which seem inseparable from the Democratic party. He closed with these words: "It fear the hazard Washington deprecated a century ago is still great and even now, in the blaze of our marvelous educational progress, there are those of our countrymen who, failing to appreciate our institutions, are too strongly prepossessed in favor of other systems."

The Republican Party Legislates for All Sections and All People.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.,) April 9.—A great throng of people were at Union Station today to greet Gov. McKinley of Ohio. His car was scheduled to stay here ten minutes. The Governor was en route for Hartford where a reception was to be tendered him by the Hartford Republican Club. McKinley was introduced by Congressman-elect Sperry, and spoke in part as follows:

"We know in this country what we want. We have had it before. We know exactly what we lost, and we know how we lost it and we know how to get it back again. The whole people are only waiting to get back into line with the great party which legislates for all sections and for all people."

Judge Sahler Blows Out His Brains. A Lawyer Wanders Off After Spending His Wife's Fortune.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

OMAHA (Neb.,) April 9.—Three well-known Omaha men committed suicide today.

At an early hour this morning Judge John Sahler blew out his brains at his residence. He left a note attributing his act to financial troubles. Sahler had been a banker, lawyer and lobbyist in Nebraska for a quarter of a century. In the past ten years he has attended every Legislature, and was the recognized king of a powerful lobby.

J. J. Jones, an Omaha lawyer, wrote a long letter to the press and disappeared last night. He said he would be dead before the letter was received. He claimed that he had lost his wife's fortune and could not face her. His friends think that his mind gave way and that he has committed suicide.

Mansford C. Bailey, a Union veteran, blew out his brains tonight. He attributed the act to domestic troubles.

Got it Bad.

SANTA ROSA, April 9.—A young girl reported that she had seen two men mounted on foam-covered horses and wearing masks dashing along the road near Guerneville. It is believed that they are the men who robbed the Oregon express and shot Sheriff Bogard. Everybody in the vicinity of Guerneville is on the watch for the two men.

Slapped His Face.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Talbot Clifton, a society leader and famous local whip, tonight slapped the face of Reginald de Koven Norwood of New York, a wealthy young man well-known in society circles, in the Palace Hotel billiard-room. The men have been at outs for some time.

A Big Wine Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The largest personal wine deal ever made in this State was consummated last week when F. Chevalier & Co. of this city, bought from Dowdell & Co. of St. Helena. The wine has already been sold to prominent wine dealers in New York.

FROM FAR JAPAN.

The Peace Negotiations Much Discussed.

Annexation of Part of China's Territory Advocated for the Natives' Good.

A Profound Sage and His Shallow Plan for Doing Up the Mikado's Troops—Mohammedan Valor in Battle.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Japanese mail advices up to March 16 show that in the native press the peace mission of Li Hung Chang occupies a leading place. As they attach much importance to the present embassy, the papers state their ideas of the terms of peace more definitely than heretofore. While some journals are moderate in their demands, others declare in unequivocal terms that peace is an impossibility until the flag of the "Rising Sun" floats over her.

The Mainichi, in rather a philanthropic manner, advocates the annexation of part of the continent, but not for the two usually advanced reasons—to secure the independence of Korea and the maintenance of peace in the East—but for two others, viz, it would be contrary to the principle of humanity to suffer the Chinese in the newly-occupied districts to fall again under the barbarous rule of China, and it would be regrettable to the interests of the Chinese in general if, after the war, they did not have the arts and sciences of civilization.

An excellent scheme for the annihilation of the Japanese, submitted by a sage of high repute, is produced from the Chinese newspapers. The scheme was originated in answer to the proclamation of the Governor of Nanking, who ordered all those under his jurisdiction to devise some scheme for the destruction of the Japanese. The scheme is this: Every soldier should be armed with a sword, a long bamboo pole and a bucket of water. The pole and bucket should be held with the left hand, while the sword is grasped with the right. On charging down upon the enemy the buckets should be hurled at the opposing ranks so as to wet their powder and render the guns useless. The bamboo poles should then be thrust between the legs of the enemy and given a twist, which would cause the Japanese to topple over in confusion. After that it would be an easy matter to finish off the dripping and prostrate foes with swords. The Governor drove the pseudo sage from his presence in a fit of rage.

Evidently the stoutest resistance the Japanese expeditionary army as it advances on Peking will meet, says one of the Japanese papers, will be by Mohammedan soldiers in China. This was indicated by the conduct of Gen. Tsao at the battle of Phyong-Yang. He acquitted himself as a true general should, while Yei, and other Chinese generals disgraced themselves by pusillanimity. Gen. Tsao's conduct at Phyong-Yang and Admiral Ting's at Wei-Hai-Wei were, the paper says, the solitary bright spots in China's dark record during the war. Tsao was patriarch of the Chinese Mohammedans. The story has been told that when the report of Tsao's death reached his native district his wife declared that she would collect some 3000 amazons and avenge the death of her husband and the Mohammedans shared in her resolution.

A BOOM FOR SILVER.

LONDON, April 9.—The Standard today says that silver was in good demand owing to news that the Japanese terms for peace with China stipulated for the opening of a large section of China to foreign trade. It is believed that this will lead to an increased demand for silver in the East.

THE SHOOTING OF LI HUNG CHANG.

VICTORIA (B. C.,) April 9.—The steamship Empress of Japan brings Tokio advices to March 30. Until the peace conference at Bakan was interrupted by the attempt to assassinate the Chinese Ambassador, the entire course of proceedings indicated a speedy and satisfactory issue. When the session of March 24 was ended it was believed that the meeting of the following day would be the last. A few minutes later the town learned with indignation and dismay of the murderous attack that had been made on Li Hung Chang.

After the shot was fired the Ambassador showed great self-control. His attendants urged him to return to his ship, but he declared that he had perfect faith in the Japanese authorities' protection. Since March 27 he has felt scarcely any pain. It is believed that the danger he so narrowly escaped may reconcile the extremists of the war faction to a nearer termination of hostilities than they once thought possible. The criminal is a son of a provincial farmer, who was the cast-off boy of his family. He had affiliated with the Soshi, a body of low political agitators, the bravadoes of unscrupulous demagogues who seek to obtain power by intimidating all who oppose them. Koyami's only motive in this case was notoriety. The governor of the province in which Bakan is situated, has offered his resignation, as has also the local Chief of Police. There is no doubt that the police officials are open to severe reproach.

"BAMBOO AND STEEL."

LONDON, April 9.—The Times will tomorrow publish a dispatch from its correspondent at Shanghai, saying that a Japanese man-of-war has seized the British steamer Yik-Sing, outside of Yakuv, it having on board 22,000 cartridges shipped at Shanghai by a respectable German firm as "bamboo and steel." The owners of the Yik-Sang, it is added, accepted the shipment in good faith.

ARRESTED AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Charles Tong Ging and his bride of one day, Miss May Sharp of Kansas City, had a lively experience with the police today. They were seen at the B. & O. Depot by police of the Harrison-street station who took Mrs. Ging for a Miss Maud Dailey of this city, who has been missing from her home for several days. The officers attempted to take the girl from the train but was prevented from doing so by the conductor.

Capt. Hartnett then telephoned to South Chicago, where the train was boarded by the police and the couple arrested and taken to East Chicago avenue police station, thirteen miles from where they were arrested. The police sent word to Mrs. Dailey that they had found their daughter Maud eloping with a Chinaman, and that both were under arrest. Mrs. Dailey, after one glance at Mrs. Ging, declared that she had never seen her before and the young people were told they were free. Both were highly indignant.

MILLIONS TO WED.

YOUNG MACKAY TO MARRY A VANDERBILT.

Mrs. Grundy Got the Names Slightly Mixed and Instead of Miss Gertrude Miss Consuelo Will be the Bride.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, April 9.—(Special Dispatch.) The departure of John W. Mackay, Jr., for Europe is causing a discussion of the alleged engagement between the youthful millionaire and one of the many Misses Vanderbilt. It will be recalled that Mackay was said to be betrothed to Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, and the rumor was promptly denied by the family. Then it was announced that Miss Consuelo was to wed an English lord. That story was also totally repudiated. This the parties concerned could do, because by some mix-up or other the names of the two young misses had been transposed.

There is really no further reason to befog the matter. Everybody in society knows that young Mackay has made a formal proposal for Miss Consuelo's hand. Mrs. Vanderbilt hesitates, and wants her daughter to wait. When all the Vanderbilts met at Cannes recently with Mr. Duer, Mrs. Vanderbilt's counsel, the marriage of the girl was freely discussed, and no secret was made of the fact.

FOUND AGAIN.

JOHN GRAHAM, THE CRONIN "JURY-FIXER."

He is Discovered in Salt Lake City by a Reporter and Tells His Story of the Wholesale Perjury.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, April 9.—John Graham, who became famous some years ago in connection with the alleged attempt to "fix" the Cronin jury, and who, after his indictment, left the city and forfeited bail, has been discovered in Salt Lake City by a reporter for the Daily News of this city. It was about five years ago that Graham, Al Hanks, Bailiff Solomon and L. Smith were indicted for conspiracy. Shortly after the indictment, Hanks, Solomon and Smith squealed. Graham left the city in haste and had been away ever since. Meantime the prisoners charged with the Cronin murder were convicted. Subsequently the Supreme Court of the State reversed the conviction and granted a new trial for error in the admission of evidence. Bourke and O'Sullivan died in the penitentiary before the decision was handed down, but Coughlin availed himself of a new trial and was acquitted.

The principal witness against Graham was Smith, who about two years ago became the chief instrument in the manufacture of wholesale perjury by means of which fire insurance companies were swindled. On April 4 a representative of the Daily News met John Graham in Salt Lake, but the former well-known Chicagoan was so changed by sickness and trouble that at first sight the reporter was unable to recognize him. The News man inquired of Graham where he had been and what he had to say. Graham ran his fingers through his gray hair and replied that he no longer had a reason for concealment, as hard times forced him out of his last job, and his identity was now a matter of no consequence to him.

Graham said that while it was true that he left Chicago after the indictment, it was not because he was guilty, but because he could not obtain a fair trial in view of the excitement, the nature of the charges and their relation to the Cronin case. He declared that Smith was associated with the divorce lawyer, Goodrich, for whom Graham, with another lawyer, was engaged in trying a case; that Smith talked to him about getting McConnelly, a special bailiff, to put him and a friend of his on the Cronin jury if paid for it. "I told him," said Graham, "that I had no money to pay him, and sustained no relations with anyone who would pay for such service." Smith, when detained, immediately sought immunity for himself by accusing others, including him (Graham.) The last case in which Smith was indicted for perjury was a scheme to rob insurance companies, yet he was allowed to "squeal" on some of the clerks and obtain his liberty at the expense of theirs.

"I left Chicago for Chihuahua, Mexico," continued Graham, "where I became afflicted with chills. Then I went to Victoria, B. C., where I had fever. I was in Victoria nearly four years, and wrote and kept accounts and did some manual labor for a living. About nine months ago I went to San Francisco, was taken sick and nearly died. When I finally recovered so as to be able to walk, I was a changed man. My mind is impaired and my kidneys and liver are in a very bad condition. I had a friend in Salt Lake City and left for here three months ago. I am too weak to work hard, but I do a little something now and then."

When reference was made to his family Graham's eyes became misty, his voice indicated feeling, and he made no reply. Inquiry has been made in the Criminal Court as to the conditions of the indictments against Graham, and it was learned that an order of dismissal had been entered about the time the Supreme Court discharged Smith from custody, as it appeared the prosecution against any one of the men indicted for conspiracy would not be successful. The discharge of Smith was a liberation of the main witness, and even he, by reason of subsequent crimes committed by him, would have little standing in court in the opinion of an attorney identified with the prosecution of the original case.

Steamer Ethelred, Which Was Fired Upon, Arrives at Boston—She Was Floating the British Flag at the Time.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CINCINNATI, April 9. — (Special Dispatch.) The Tribune's correspondent at Havana cables today: "I had a talk with Juan Gualbert Gomez, now in jail at Moro Castle in this city today. It was the first time that he has had an opportunity of talking since he has been incarcerated. His arms are pinioned and his feet and legs shackled. His cell is iron, and his bed is made of a common blanket fastened to the stone floor. 'Yes,' said he to me, 'I expected to be a dead man in less time than a week. The government has promised me a fair and impartial trial, but what does a Spaniard's promise amount to? I know full well how I am to be killed. I am to be put on a train here and started toward Mantanzas. On the route some one of the dirty hirelings of Spain will shoot me while I am looking the other way, and then the government will give it out to the press that I was killed while attempting to escape.

"'Tell the American people that I am not the character that the bloodsuckers of this country have pictured me to be. I love the fair island of Cuba, and if I knew that my death would be the means of lifting the yoke from the necks of my countrymen, I would gladly give it, but I fear that it will be a long time before the people of Cuba will gain their independence. If the United States would only help us the matter could be very easily settled. I am not ashamed of what I have done. I have been promised immunity from the courts if I would renounce all allegiance to the lovers of liberty, but I had rather die than to have my friends say that I had betrayed their confidence.

"'I could never be a friend of Spain. I have seen my people galled by the bands of oppression for so long that my heart has grown sick. When in Madrid I often appealed personally to the government to exercise a more lenient spirit toward Cuba. I have repeatedly pointed out the consequences that would inevitably come to the representatives of the King. At last, finding that persuasion amounted to nothing, I armed myself and attempted to do that which the Americans successfully did over a hundred years ago, and this is my reward. But my death will do the rapacious rascals of Spain no good. The germs of liberty have been planted, and they will live on the island, growing with each succeeding year, until at last the people will be free and independent.

"'Maceo cannot, I fear, win with the present forces he has at his command. The revolution was not permitted to ripen sufficiently before the government was made aware of its existence. If we had had six months longer we would have swept all opposition away as the sunshine does the morning mists. Maceo has not the money. It has been promised, but I am fearful that the assistance promised will not reach our friends in time to do any good. Give my love to all my friends and to all the friends of liberty in America, and tell them that I will die upon the scaffold or from the bullet of the assassin as I have lived, unawed by the pomp and arrogance of Spain. The blood of Christ was the seed of the church, so may my blood be the seed of liberty for my countrymen in Cuba.'"

THE ATTACK ON THE ETHELRED.

BOSTON, April 9.—Steamer Ethelred of the Boston Fruit Company, which was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat on its outward voyage to Jamaica, arrived here early today. She was immediately boarded by a reporter of the Associated Press, who interviewed Capt. Hopkins, her commander, regarding the affair. The captain said:

"On April 1 we were proceeding regularly, when, about 10 o'clock in the forenoon, off Cape May, we sighted a vessel which we could not at first make out. We were about a mile from shore. Suddenly the stranger fired a blank shot across our boats. This caused the greatest excitement on board my boat, the passengers on board being considerably alarmed. Of course, when the shot was fired, I stopped and allowed the vessel to come up within hailing distance. I found it to be a gunboat, but could not recognize the name. The first part of it was 'Neuva.' When she saw the British flag floating over my vessel she changed her warlike attitude and quietly steamed past us. We then proceeded to Jamaica, where I laid the matter before the proper authorities."

KANSAS CITY SYMPATHIZERS.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.,) April 9.—A mass-meeting of citizens in sympathy with the Cuban insurgents was held tonight at Turner Hall. Maj. William Warner, Judge Woffard, D. S. Twitchell, Maj. Blake Woodson, Rev. J. E. Roberts and others addressed the meeting.

D. S. Harriman, agent for Mexican lands, has received a letter from Marcus Morales, president of the revolutionary party. Morales says that with the sympathy of the Americans their cause can be won. They now have $3,500,000 with which to carry on their fight. He states the insurgents are trying to gain a sufficient portion of the island to declare a provisional government.

INQUISITIVE BRITONS.

Sir Edward Gray Replies to Some Interrogatories.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

LONDON, April 9.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, the parliamentary secretary to Foreign Office, Sir Edward Gray, said that the government was aware that the United States had appointed a committee to inquire into the feasibility of the plan for building a canal across Nicaragua to connect the Atlantic with the Pacific, but that Great Britain would not appoint a committee to co-operate with the United States committee unless the government of the United States should desire that Great Britain should do so. In reply to a question, Sir Edward Gray said that in case the construction of the canal was proceeded with the government would take steps to see that British trade was placed on the same footing as that of other nations.

In answer to Sir George Baden-Powell, Sir Edward Gray said that the government had not received any proposition from the United States to summon a conference of powers concerned to deal with the seal fisheries of the North Pacific.

Sir George Baden-Powell also asked whether Great Britain could refuse to join in such a conference, as instructed on the lines suggested by the Paris tribunal of arbitration in 1893, but to that question Sir Edward Gray made no reply. Answering a question of Sir George Beden-Powell as to whether a petition had not been received from Canada suggesting that, in case of the inability of the United States Congress to appropriate the sum agreed upon under the Paris award, and in view of the serious financial difficulties to the seal fisheries which has arisen, Great Britain should announce that portion of the award, pending a final settlement with the United States, Sidney Buxton, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, said: "I am in o position to answer that question."

A "TECHNICAL EVASION."

WASHINGTON, April 9.—It would appear that the answer made by Sir Edward Gray in the House of Commons today to the question from Sir George Baden-Powell, "that the government had not received any proposals from the United States to summon a conference of the powers concerned to deal with the seal fisheries of the North Pacific," strongly resembles a technical evasion of the point.

The correspondence with Great Britain realative to Bering Sea is just being published in pamphlet form by the State Department, and under date of January 23 last, appears a note from Secretary Gresham to Sir Julian Pauncefort, the British Ambassador, in which Secretary Gresham speaks of the deep solicitude on the part of the President with regard to the future of the seal-herd, in view of the excessive number killed last season. The President has become convinced that the regulations in force had not operated to prevent the destruction of the herd, and unless a speedy change was made extermination must follow. Such a deplorable result should, if possible, be avoided. Therefore the President urged that a commission be appointed on the part of Great Britain, Russia, Japan and the United States to visit the North Pacific and report what measures might be adopted to protect the seals.

Meanwhile Secretary Gresham proposed for the consideration of the three other governments a modus vivendi extending the scope of the present regulations so as to include the entire North Pacific from the coast of the United States to Asia, north of the thirtieth degree, during the coming season, and prohibiting all sealing in Bering Sea pending the report of the commission suggested. In conclusion the Secretary of State suggested the necessity for speedy action upon this proposition in view of the approach of the sealing season and the departure of the sealing vessels. As fra as can be learned no answer has yet been received to this note from Great Britain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

THE TURFMEN ORGANIZE AT CLEVELAND.

Billy Murphy and Bishop Matched. The Steeplechase Winner Sold at San Francisco—Tennessee Club Handicap.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CLEVELAND (O.,) April 9.—The convention of turfmen called to organize a sporting league quickly concluded its business when, it finally got to work this afternoon. The committee reported a charter, which gives the name of the organization as the American League and its object to encourage and project the many sports and the business interests connected with them.

The constitution which was adopted provides for a president, secretary, treasurer and vice-president, each State having a subordinate league and also a board of control, consisting of the president and vice-presidents. The affairs of the league are to be managed by the board of control. There is also to be a general assembly to consist of one delegate from each subordinate league. This assembly shall make all the by-laws, elect the officers, and receive the reports from the treasurer and secretary. Subordinate leagues must consist of not less than ten members, the membership and officers to be reported to the main league upon its organization. The membership fee is fixed at $1, but the board of control can in emergencies assess each member in a sum not to exceed $1 in any one year.

The following officers were elected: President, Maj. P. P. Johnson, Lexington, Ky.; vice-presidents, W. F. Milliken, Maine; J. M. Forbes, Massachusetts; Hon. W. H. Clark, New Hampshire; Judge Leslie Russell, New York; Col. A. L. Snowden, Pennsylvania; F. S. Gorten, Illinois; Frank McKeen, Indiana; Col. Z. Clay, Kentucky; Hon. C. L. Benjamin, C. R. Allen, Norman J. Coleman, and Col. A. A. Pope. W. H. Gocher of Cleveland was made secretary. A fund was raised to pay all the immediate expenses of the league.

The Tennessee Club Handicap Won by Ducat.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

MEMPHIS, April 9.—Four favorites and one second choice finished first today. The feature of the day's racing was the Tennessee Club Handicap, which was won easily by Ducat. The track was good, attendance 3000.

Six furlongs: Chiquito won, Hy Rack second, Lucille third; time 1:18½.

Four furlongs: Miss Maxim won, Elusive second, Warren Point third; time 0:51.

Tennessee Club Handicap, one mile: Ducat won, Prince Carl second, Santiago third; time 1:43.

Four furlongs: Lady Inez won, Captive second, Becky Sharp third; time 0:49½.

Seven furlongs: Dick Behan won, Burrell's Billet second, Advocate third; time 1:30½.

Cumberland Park.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.,) April 9.—The track at Cumberland Park was still muddy and threatening weather caused a decrease in the attendance.

Five furlongs: Henrietta won, Marion second, Pine Top third; time 1:06¼.

Four furlongs: Mercy Nell won, Gaiety Girl second, Rondi third; time 0:52½.

Six and a half furlongs: Minnie Cee won, Mollie R. second, Millard third; time 1:27.

Seven furlongs: Cattaraugus won, Signora second, One Dime third; time 1:33¼.

One mile: Text won, Vida second, Abbess third; time 1:50¼.

It is stated that ex-Recorder Frederick Smythe is to be the next grand sachem of Tammany. The selection of nine of the thirteen sachems have been decided upon. All belong to the Croker faction.

SPURIOUS STAMPS.

A Most Gigantic Swindle is Uncovered.

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Two-cent Adhesives Have Been Counterfeited.

The Gang Said to be Operating in Several Cities—A Chicago Man Gives the Officers of the Law the First Tip.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Tribune says that the United States Secret Service operatives in Chicago and Washington have unearthed probably the most unique and at the same time important swindle ever perpetrated upon any government. Its magnitude can only be guessed at, but it is believed that thousands upon thousands of dollars have been secured by a number of skilled counterfeiters, who have reproduced with wonderful skill and accuracy the pink 2-cent stamps of commerce. Whether the counterfeiters have accomplices in dishonest postmasters is not known. It is thought the country is flooded from New York to San Francisco with these spurious stamps, and the United States has been carrying millions of letters from which not a cent of revenue was received.

Chicago has apparently been the headquarters of the gang, and its product has been shipped to distributing agents through express companies. Just exactly how the information reached the government officials is not known. But they evidently got a straight tip, for last evening Capt. Stuart, of the Postal Inspectors' Department, and Capt. Porter, of the United States Secret Service Bureau, called at the Wells-Fargo office. They were taken into the storeroom, and there found an oblong package looking like a big roll of music. It contained 10,000 of the counterfeit stamps. It was impossible to get Inspector Stuart or Capt. Porter to say a single word regarding the package. No one knows anything of the case. It was said in Washington that while the gang had headquarters in Chicago it was operating in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Buffalo, and as far west as San Francisco.

OFFICIALS INTERVIEWED.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Chief Inspector Wheeler of the Postoffice Department refuses to say anything about the stamp counterfeiting in Chicago, though he has received several telegrams concerning the affair. It was learned from other officials, however, that the extent of the counterfeiting has been overestimated.

Third Assistant Postmaster-General Craig says that counterfeit stamps have carried letters through the mails and have been canceled, but that stamp-counterfeiting cannot be carried on to any great extent, as the cost of making stamps and the difficulty of disposing of them is so great as to render the counterfeiting of little profit. Large purchases of stamps are usually made from responsible and known men. Unknown persons having stamps to sell, he said, are under suspicion of having stolen them and large purchases therefore are not likely to be made from them.

Chief Hazen of the Secret Service division of the Treasury Department received a telegram today from one of his agents at Chicago stating that he has seized $700 worth of counterfeit 2-cent postage-stamps. They had been shipped from Buffalo and were due in the Wells-Fargo express. The officials have been on the alert for something of this kind since July when they learned of a man making inquiries, under suspicious circumstances, as to the process of printing stamps. The officials of the Secret Service are working on the case in connection with the postoffice inspectors.

It has been learned at the Postoffice Department that the stamps known to be counterfeit were made at Hamilton, Ont. About $750 worth have been captured.

THE HERO OF THE HOUR.

CHICAGO, April 9. — The counterfeit stamps seized at the Wells-Fargo express office in this city were addressed to Nathan Herzog, a cigar dealer in the Chamber of Commerce building.

"A week ago Sunday," said Mr. Herzog, "I saw the following advertisement: 'We have $115 worth of United States 2-cent stamps which we cannot use here and will send them by express C.O.D., privilege of examination, for $100.

(Signed)

"'CANADIAN NOVELTY AND SUPPLY COMPANY, Hamilton, Ont.'

"I answered the advertisement and said I would take all the stamps they could furnish me at that discount, and requested them to send me the number advertised. Yesterday an express messenger brought in the package. I examined the stamps. The color and general appearance led me to suppose that they were counterfeit. I said so to the messenger. He replied that I need have no fear; that he had delivered four similar packages within an hour, and the people had paid for them. My suspicions were confirmed, because the firm had said that they could not furnish more than $300 worth a month. I called up the officers. They got possession and found that they were counterfeits."

Secret Service agents in Buffalo and Canada have been wired the facts, and the postal authorities are expecting the capture of the culprits.

GOOD WORDS FOR US

Los Angeles Enterprise and La Fiesta.

A San Francisco Envoy Impressed with What He Saw During His Stay.

The Los Angeles Presbytery—Seamen's Strike—"Dandy Jim's" Pardon—The "Star of Freedom" Found.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Auxiliary Committees of the Half Million Club in charge of La Fiesta excursion to Los Angeles, have their final arrangements well advanced. No doubt exists as to its success. D. M. Carman has returned from Los Angeles, where he went as the representative of the General Citizens' Committee. He brought with him assurances of the most satisfactory character that the leading men of the southern metropolis will co-operate with the club. In speaking of Los Angeles he said:

"My trip to Los Angeles has been productive of good in more ways than one. The cordial reception I received placed at rest all questions as to the feeling entertained regarding the proposed excursion. Director-General Meyberg, manager of the fiesta, assured me that only the kindest feeling existed, and that our people will be met with open arms. He took me to several of the leading citizens, and in the evening introduced me to the advisory board. I found these gentlemen not only wide-awake, progressive and enthusiastic, but genial and warm-hearted.

"I had an opportunity during the evening of seeing what has made it possible for Los Angeles to produce the finest display of its kind that America has ever seen. The business tact, the system, the energy and public spirit evinced by the committeemen is a guarantee that even their great undertaking will be carried to successful completion. It also explains why Los Angeles has made such strides during an unprecedented period of commercial depression."

CHOSEN FRIENDS.

Meeting of the Grand Council at San Francisco.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Grand Council of Chosen Friends met here this morning in Odd Fellows' Hall. About one hundred and eighty delegates are in attendance. The jurisdiction of the council takes in Nevada and California.

The session will probably last four days. The election of officers, the event of greatest interest, is expected to take place on Thursday. Great interest in already manifested in the outcome. Candidates have already been announced as follows: For grand councillor, T. H. Selvage of Eureka, Cal., the incumbent, and T. H. O'Brien of San Francisco, now grand assistant councillor; grand assistant councillor, M. Boehm of San Francisco and William McFadden of Anaheim; grand vice councillor, John Skelton of Sacramento, the incumbent; W. H. Pratt of Virginia City, and E. R. Tiel of Sacramento, now a grand trustee; grand recorder, S. C. Wallis, the incumbent; grand treasurer, M. Brickmedel, the incumbent for four years.

The report of the grand secretary will show that for the year ending December 1, 1894, there were 833 new members initiated; 840 members were lost by suspension or withdrawal and 107 by death, making a net loss for the term of 64. This is considered a remarkably good showing, as it covered the period of greatest commercial depression ever experienced in this section. There are 148 councils in this jurisdiction, including seven organized during the last term. On December 31 last the membership numbered 7330 and about 300 members have been initiated since.

It is likely that quite a number of delegates will leave here at the conclusion of the session for La Fiesta at Los Angeles, as the delegates from that section are doing energetic missionary work with that object in view.

A SAD QUEST.

George W. Forsyth Seeking His Lost Wife by the Golden Gate.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Mrs. Ella Forsyth, scarcely 20 years old, left her home early last Friday morning, since which time nothing has been seen or heard of her, although her husband, the police and many friends of the young woman have made a most thorough search for her. Before she left home and before kissing her aunt good-bye, she said she was going to the beach near Fort Mason to gather seashells, and since Saturday the husband, George W. Forsyth, a pressman in the employ of the Schmidt Label and Lithographing Company, has maintained an almost constant day patrol of the beach from Fort Mason to the Cliff House. He fears that his wife, in a moment of daring, attempted to scale the rocks along the beach, but slipped and fell into the water and was drowned. Every incoming tide find him patrolling the beach in the hope, if his worst fear is correct, that the sea will give up its dead.

The husband has taken very little rest since his wife went away, and when not inquiring about the city for her he spends his time walking over the sand or scaling the rocks along the shore line. The last thing he does at night before returning to his home is to visit the morgue to inquire if her body has been taken in at the city's dead-house.

The husband says that he does not believe that his wife committed suicide, neither does he believe that she has run away, as she had only 35 cents in her purse when she left home.

A MISSING DRUMMER.

Fears that J. D. Fielding Has Met with Foul Play.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—J. D. Fielding, commercial traveler for a New York stationery firm, has been missing from his room at the Palace Hotel since Friday. He was accompanied to the Pacific Coast by his brother and the latter's wife. The brother, suddenly summoned East, left his wife in charge of the missing man. She is distracted over his disappearance.

Five days ago he was seen under the influence of liquor and exhibited several hundred dollars in gold. He has since then vanished, and his friends fear foul play.

"DR." PLOUF DEAD.

A Charge of Murder to be Placed Against McGaughey.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—"Dr." John B. Plouf, who was shot on Saturday afternoon, March 30, by J. D. S. McGaughey, during an altercation on the street, died at 7 o'clock this evening at a private hospital. A charge of murder will be placed against McGaughey, who has been in jail pending the result of the shooting.

Some days after Plouf had been shot, his sister, Mrs. Edwards of Boston, wired that she would come to see her brother. It was a race that death and she had from the Atlantic to the Pacific. At 11 o'clock this morning a cab dashed up to the hospital, and five minutes later the doctor and his sister greeted each other. At 6:30 o'clock tonight Plouf breathed his last. After the dying man had greeted his sister this morning, he said to the doctor in attendance: "Now it is all right. I don't care what comes of the case," and thereafter he sank steadily.

Dr. Anderson said tonight, in referring to the case: "We consider it a marvelous one. For a week, at least, life was sustained solely by restoratives administered hypodermically. The heart's action was maintained in this manner and all the functions of the organs controlled. It was a great fight."

PHILBROOK'S LATEST.

Still Endeavoring to Get Around the Disbarment Proceedings.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Attorney Philbrook is endeavoring to continue his practice of the law by appearing as his own attorney in the courts. There is a provision in the statutes which gives any man the right to act as his own lawyer. Philbrook seeks to make full use of the privilege by having his own name substituted for that of his client in the cases in which he appears of record as attorney. In Oakland Philbrook succeeded in arguing a case before Judge Ellsworth in this way, but on the San Francisco side of the bay Judge Hunt, of the Superior Court, has denied Philbrook's petition to be substituted in place of his client in a case.

Several days ago Philbrook appeared before Judge Hunt to make the request. He desired to have the substitution made in the case of Seth Warner against the F. Thomas Pressing and Dyeing Company. If the substitution were made Philbrook would insist upon his right to appear as his own attorney. Judge Hunt denied Philbrook's request to be substituted as plaintiff, and did not give any reason for his decision. It is likely that Philbrook will appeal from this decision and compel the Supreme Court to put itself on record again.

SUNDAY BURIALS.

Baptist Ministers Adopt Resolutions Against the Custom.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Ministerial Union of San Francisco is discussing the question of Sunday burials with a view to securing the abolition of the custom. At a meeting of the Baptist ministers, Rev. Dietz, however, took exceptions to this, saying:

"The Lord lets people be born on Sunday, he lets them die on Sunday, and why shouldn't we let them be buried on Sunday? Why should there be any distinction in the matter of days? I do not think the ministers uniting and fighting the practice of Sunday funerals will lessen the number that are held on the Lord's day. Our efforts will be futile, and it seems useless to undertake a reform of this sort. We ministers can bury the dead but we cannot regulate people's dying. I do not think Sunday funerals desecrate the Lord's day."

Finally the Baptist clergy indorsed this resolution:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this body that a reasonable regard for the comfort and convenience of those engaged in the burial of the dead, as well as a proper respect for the Lord's day, are sufficient reasons for the discontinuance of Sunday funerals when it is possible to make other arrangements."

A PIRATE CHIEF.

The Man Who Stole the Star of Freedom Arrested.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Bartels, the notorious sea captain, is in the clutches of the law at La Paz, Mexico, and is to be prosecuted for stealing the schooner Star of Freedom from this port. The schooner is owned by Capt. Johnson, and he left her in charge of a watchman while he went to sea in another vessel. Bartles tried to charter the Star of Freedom, but Johnson would have nothing to do with him.

When the owner was away Bartles bribed the watchman, and the two men sailed away with the schooner. As the vessel could not be cleared, the papers of the schooner Natalie were stolen. The Mexican authorities, not liking the appearance of the papers, decided to detain the vessel. Capt. von Helms, of the steamer Willamette Valley, which reached La Paz today, told the Mexican authorities of Bartles's piratical act, and wired to Johnson, who sent instructions to prosecute Bartles.

"DANDY JIM."

He Was Pardoned to Show the Way to a Mine.

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) April 9.—J. H. W. Jensen is in receipt of a letter from S. F. Patterson, dated "Coon Creek, Ariz., February 28," which is grounds for the sensational article in today's newspapers concerning the Indian scare.

"Dandy Jim," referred to, was pardoned by Gov. Hughes, it is said, at the instance of parties who believed Jim had knowledge of a mine fabulously rich in the Sierra Anchas Mountains, indefinitely described as situated between the Superstition Mountains, and Pleasant Valley. The Indian, "Dandy Jim," is Massie's son, of the Tonto Apache tribe. He was pardoned with three other murderers, confederates, under life sentence, but Massie held as hostage to compel fulfillment, it is said, of "Dandy Jim" showing the location of the mine.

There has been some trouble on the upper Salt River between settlers and Indians, but whether these are the ones it is impossible to determine tonight.

SHORT OF MEN.

Shipowners Having Trouble in Getting Non-union Crews.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN DIEGO, April 9.—Considerable trouble is being experienced among shipmasters in this port in securing crews, the Coast Seamen's Union being on a strike for $35 per month. Thus far no open outbreak has occurred here, but it is looked for in the case of the schooner Sequoia whose skipper, Capt. Larsen, says he will not pay the wages demanded under any circumstances, and who has been trying to secure a non-union crew. Yesterday it was noticed that the agent of the Sailors' Union, Oscar Boslin, followed Capt. Larsen wherever he went, and also posted men at every corner to shadow the skipper's movements.

Capt. Blom of the schooner Mary E. Russell held out against the demands of the union men as long as he could, but yesterday concluded to pay the wages demanded, in order to save time. He sailed today for the North.

THOSE FOREIGN BONDS.

Another Swindle Perpetrated, This Time at Angels Camp.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—A. M. Decker, a broker at No. 304 Montgomery street, in this city, is accused of fraudulent practices by residents of Angels Camp, who have filed information with the police.

Decker issued a prospectus about six months ago for the firm of "Wiesen & Co., representing the German-Australian Bond Investment Company, No. 123 Montgomery street," announcing that the firm was selling Italian, Hungarian and Holland bonds, and that purchasers would be entitled to all premiums while paying for the bonds in installments. Decker went to Angels Camp, and his operations netted him considerable money. It is now learned that "Wiesen & Co." is a mythical firm, and that Decker had no bonds to sell. He could not be found today.

THE WATER-FRONT LOTS.

Valley-road People Hope to Get a Lease by Friday.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—On Friday a special meeting of the Harbor Commissioners is to be held, at which Gov. Budd and representatives of the valley road will be present. The subject of the desired lease of the Mission Bay land will be brought up, and it is hoped by the railroad people that the papers will be signed, sealed and delivered.

Tomorrow morning the valley road directors meet to hear the propositions which the citizens of Visalia have to submit.

A JUNKET FOR EXAMINER'S EMPLOYEES.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Examiner will send a special train through the San Joaquin Valley Thursday morning. The object of the trip is to gather subscriptions for the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railway. The special will make its first stop at Stockton and will the by easy stages go through the valley towns to Bakersfield.

A REWARD WANTED.

Detectives Sue the Southern Pacific Company at Woodland.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WOODLAND, April 9.—Suit was commenced in the Superior Court of Yolo county today by J. A. Gibson and T. J. Burke, two detectives, against the Southern Pacific Company, to recover $5000, the sum offered for the capture of the parties who wrecked the train near Sacramento during the strike last July.

These two men claimed to have arrested and worked up the case against Worden, who was convicted and sentenced to death, and the railroad company are not willing to pay the reward on account of the failure to convict the rest of the parties who were arrested. Interesting developments are likely to come to light when the case is tried. Gibson and Burke are railroad detectives, but it is rumored that they have been let out by the company lately.

LOS ANGELES PRESBYTERY.

Annual Meeting at San Diego—One Hundred Present.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN DIEGO, April 9.—The Presbytery of Los Angeles, ranking as first in California and fourth in the United States, met here today in annual session for the routine discussion of Presbyterian church matters and to consider the best methods for extending its missionary work in this part of the State. One hundred ministers are in attendance, the Rev. R. W. Cleland being moderator.

Fire at Oleta.

JACKSON, April 9.—Fire at 2 o'clock Sunday morning at Oleta destroyed the stable of C. Atkinson and a two-story storehouse of the same owner; also the dwelling house of Gus Gumbert. Atkinson's loss is fully $4000 and Gumbert's $1000. Three horses were burned to death and another is fatally burned. A man named Ed Conners, a stranger, was arrested for causing the fire and was lodged in jail here last night.

A Letter from Secretary Herbert.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Hugh Craig, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, has received a letter from Secretary of the Navy Herbert in reply to a protest at the transfer of the ship Monterey, stating that the Monterey had only been ordered on a cruise in southern Pacific waters, and that she had not been permanently assigned to a foreign station. She is now at San Diego en route to Callao.

A Schoolgirl Disappears.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Miss Blanche Lamont of Butte, Mont., who has been visiting relatives here for several months, has not been seen since last Wednesday. She is a pretty brunette, 18 years old, and has been taking a special course at the High School. She was quiet and well-behaved, and her relatives, who are prominent in religious circles, scoff at the idea of an elopement.

A Reception to Gov. Budd.

BERKELEY, April 9.—President Bradley, of the Associated Students of the University of California, has called a meeting for tomorrow for the purpose of considering the advisability of tendering Gov. Budd a reception. An effort will be made to have the reception take place on April 25, which is the date of the sham battle and competitive drill of the university military battalion.

Peaches Destroyed on the Snake.

SPOKANE (Wash.,) April 9.—Peaches and other tender fruit on the Upper Snake River have been almost totally destroyed by frost. A telegram from Lewiston, Idaho, says peaches will be nearly a total failure. Early cherries and Bartlett pears are badly hurt, but other fruits were not injured.

ABANDONED RESERVATIONS.

The War Department Turns Them Over to the Interior.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A general order was issued from the War Department today, turning over to the Interior Department abandoned military reservations no longer required for military purposes. The tracts are a part of the Fort Brady reservation in Michigan, on the St. Mary's River, three and a half acres; reservation of Depot McKinney, on Powder River, Wyoming, 640 acres; Fort Reno, Okla., timber reservation, known as Council Grove, twenty miles southeast of Fort Reno, 750 acres; reservation of Fort Stevenson, N. D., on the Missouri River at its junction with the Douglas Creek; the military reservation at Fort Lewis, Colo., on the west bank of the Rio de la Platte, eight miles south of Parrot City.

The general order specifically defines the bounds of the military prison reservation at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

A Chalk-plate Decision.

ATLANTA (Ga.,) April 9.—A decision was rendered today by Special Master Slater in the suit of the Hoke Engraving Company of St. Louis against R. W. Butler of this city for an infringement of a patent on chalk-plates for newspaper-cut work. Argument is that Hoke was the inventor of chalk-engraving plates and that Butler, the defendant plate-maker, is an infringer. As chalk-plate engraving has grown to be a most important item of newspaper work, this finding will be of great interest to newspapers.

Anti-German Sentiment.

PARIS, April 9.—French Socialists are organizing a meeting to protest against sending a squadron of French warships to Kiel to take part in the ceremonies attending the opening of the Baltic and North Sea Canal in June. The Alsatian delegate proposed that the Strassburg monument in the Place de la Concorde be draped with crepe upon the day of the opening of the canal.

A GRACEFUL ACT.

VENEZUELA RETURNS THANKS TO UNCLE SAM.

President Crespo Calls the Attention of the National Congress to This Country's Attitude Toward Great Britain.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Crespo of Venezuela has sent a special message to the Congress of Venezuela concerning the attitude of the United States on the British-Venezuela question. Immediately following the receipt of the President's message the Congress passed resolutions heartily thanking the United States for its sympathy and support. Senor Andrade, the Venezulean Minister here, today received copies of the message and resolutions. President Crespo's message says:

"The high powers of the United States have just given, in the pending question between Venezuela and England, a signal proof of the extent to which the principle of human justice prevails among that great people. The Chief Magistrate of that powerful republic being persuaded of the great peril which is involved for American interests through a prolongation of a conflict of such a grievous nature, expressed in his message to Congress the strong wish of inducing Great Britain to put an end to the dispute by arbitration. In the House of Representatives there was introduced in consequence a resolution which has been inserted in the yellow book of Venezuela, and in the terms of which is disclosed the noblest interest toward seeing the controversy closed informally with justice and reason. The resolution earnestly recommends to the two contending parties the adoption of the course indicated by the message of the President of the United States in order to peacefully settle the dispute. The legislative act referred to was approved by both chambers, and President Cleveland affixed the signature and seal thereto on February 21.

"Such tokens of the spirit of justice with which the transcendent question of the Guiana boundaries is studied and considered by the Magistrate and Legislature of the great republic of the north requires from Venezuela a significant act of special gratitude which only you can sanction, so as to express the wish of the people of Venezuela. Certainly I feel this idea will have the most enthusiastic acceptance in the hearts of our worthy legislators."

The Congress in joint assembly at once acted upon President Crespo's suggestion and the resolutions express the deep appreciation of Venezuela for the co-operation of the United States in the contention.

Word reaches the legation here that Venezuela feels so secure in her rights that she is pushing forward improvements in the disputed territory. This is shown by a report from the commissary-general, stating that he has furnished a church which is to be the nucleus of a settlement in the Amasure region. This is a sort of Venezulean outpost, where they are taking a stand to resist further encroachments of Great Britain.

AN IRIDESCENT HUMBUG.

Dr. Depew Gives His Opinion of Gov. Altgeld.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Chauncey M. Depew last night replied to a recent interview with Gov. Altgeld of Illinois. Said Depew:

"This man Altgeld is a iridescent human humbug. He flutters in the uncertain sunshine of notoriety. I did not mention his name in my speech. I said that Debs raised a revolution that awed two governors and which it took the United States troops to quell. It seems that he has found the shoe fits him and was, without any further urging, induced to put it on. He stands convicted upon his own testimony. He says I prefer to wrap myself in the American flag. I judge that he is angry because I do not wrap myself in the red anarchistic rag that he has adopted. I think I will stick to the Stars and Stripes. He culminates his remarkable epistle with the assertion that I don't know anything about railroads. I have been ten times elected president of the New York Central Railroad by its 13,000 stockholders and never had a vote cast against me. I will wager that he cannot be once elected to his office after a fair hearing.

"Mr. Altgeld is an odd mixture. He is worth three or four million dollars, far more than I am. The assertion of the people with whom he associates is that no man accumulates more than $1,000,000 in this world unless he steals it. I don't need to work out the problem any further. Altgeld owns the biggest building in Chicago. His cry is always for a division of property. He knows very well that the rest of the people will not allow it and he gets all the credit of being a reformer without endangering his fortune. If he would practice his preaching he would divide his property first and then, after setting his example, call on the rest of the country to follow his lead."

HOLY WEEK.

Great Preparations for the Celebration in Mexico.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 9.—Great preparations are being made in this city and throughout the republic for the celebration of Holy Week in magnificent style. The balconies about the city are ornamented by the thousands of palms blessed in the church and by the priests Sunday and which will remain displayed for the remainder of the year as a benediction to the families whose houses they grace. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will witness the most curious ceremonies among the faithful. The bells of all the churches cease ringing at 10 o'clock on the morning of Thursday and remain silent to the same hour Saturday.

On Thursday the washing of beggars' feet takes place in the principal churches. On Friday will be enacted the famous "passion play" of the Mexican Indians, giving a representation of the scenes of the crucifixion, while Saturday the ludicrous blowing up of Judas by gunpowder and fireworks will take place.

LITTLE ROCK'S SCANDAL.

No Foundation for the Charges of Bribery.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.,) April 9.—The bribery investigations ended today in a complete whitewash for all parties about whom rumors have been frequently circulated, and against whom Representative Yancy made a direct charge on the floor of the House last Saturday. A majority report of the special committee to investigate the charges says that a full and thorough investigation has been made, every rumor run down and more than forty witnesses have been examined, and that the majority believes that there was absolutely no ground for the charges of bribery that have been so freely made.

Attack on American Imports.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—German agrarians are missing no opportunity to strike at American agricultural imports that promise to find a market in Germany in competition with their own products. Their latest attack is upon American cracked oats. The facts have been reported to the Department of State by a consular officer.

INTO THE TORRENT.

A Freight-train Hurled into the Clarion River.

BRADFORD (Pa.,) April 9.—A westbound freight-train on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railroad, while running at moderate speed near Sykes, a small station between Duboise and Punxatawney, ran into a washout. The tracks run alongside Clarion river at this point for some distance. The fog was so dense that at 5 o'clock this morning Engineer Taylor did not see the washout until he ran into it. The train was dumped into the raging torrent.

Engineer Taylor and Fireman Charles Clark, together with Brakeman McClellan, are buried under the wreck and were killed. The engine and eighteen cars were demolished.

THEY MIXED IN.

Men Arrested in Mexico for Connection with Border Troubles.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN JUAN BAUTISTA (State of Tabasco, Mexico,) April 9.—Four prisoners are held here as the result of alleged criminal participation in the late border difficulties between Mexico and Guatemala. They are named Joaquin Cetina, Diego Feligrana, Edward Soubikeousky and Vellon. The latter is a Frenchman, one is a Pole, and the two remaining are Mexicans, and they were brought from the Pacific coast border on the last steamer. As two of the parties are foreigners, it is probable they will make appeal to their respective governments for protection.

THE DANGER POINT.

A BATTLE AT MINERSVILLE NOT UNLIKELY.

Shots Already Exchanged—Dynamite Stored in the Village—A Committee of Strikers to Wait on Non-union Men.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

POMEROY (O.,) April 9.—The mining situation at Minersville is growing more serious and a battle is expected between the strikers and the strangers employed to take their places. Shots have been exchanged already. Seventy-five pounds of dynamite is known to be in the village. At the meeting of the strikers last night it was resolved to continue the strike and force non-union miners to cease work. Arms are carried openly on the streets and workmen go armed to work and to the stores. A committee of strikers will wait on the non-union men, and it is expected that matters will come to a crisis. The scene of the trouble is three miles above here on the Ohio side, at the John Williams mine, the largest in Pomercy Bend.

GUARDING EMPTY PITS.

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—Deputies at the Jumbo mines at McDonald are guarding empty pits. Only one man reported for work this morning. The strikers claim both fire bosses have joined their ranks, also that the mine could not be operated today even if they had men.

WAITING ON THE LORD.

The Mormon Conference in Expectation of Important Revelations.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.,) April 9.—The apostles of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, now in annual conference at Independence, went into secret session today, Joseph Smith, head of the church, presiding. Very important revelations are expected during this week. It is not improbable that today's secret session of the twelve apostles will be productive of results. There are two vacancies among the apostles which have existed for many years. These can be filled, according to the doctrine, only by direct command from God.

It is hoped by the saints present at this conference that this commandment will be given some time this week.

LATER.—The expected message from heaven was not received at the conference today. President Joseph Smith, Jr., spent the entire day with the twelve apostles and the delegates to the conference, momentarily expecting to hear that the revelations from on high had been made. Nothing having come after today's long sitting, revelations are not now expected at this meeting.

COUNTESS RUSSELL.

Her Appearance in Court Marked by Extreme Nervousness.

LONDON, April 9.—(By Atlanctic Cable.) In the suit brought by the Countess Russell for restitution of her conjugal rights, the Countess was today subjected to a long cross-examination by Sir Henry James, formerly attorney-general, leading counsel for Earl Russell. The Countess became so nervous that she could not answer and would only reply: "I am so dreadfully nervous, Sir Henry." The latter counsel brought out the fact that she has continually charged her husband with immorality and vile practices, and tried to get her servants to support her case.

Danger in Iowa.

ALBIA (Iowa,) April 9.—A clash between mine operators and striking miners at the Cincinnati mines in the southern part of Appanoose county seems inevitable unless the militia is ordered out. It is reported here that 100 strikers from Mendota, Mo., just over the State line, have joined the strikers from Cincinnati, Rathburn, Mystic and Seymour to prevent the men whom the operators imported from entering the mines. Notice has been served on the leaders of the strikers if they did not permit the operators to open the mines an appeal would be made to Gov. Jackson to order out the militia.

Heavy Rains at Bradford, Pa.

BRADFORD (Pa.,) April 9.—Owing to heavy rains since Sunday the Tunagowant is out of its banks and the lower part of the city is flooded to a depth of eighteen inches. Six inches of water is pouring through the Oil City House, and is still rising. Traffic will be suspended unless the water recedes. Reports from neighboring towns say the bridges are washed away.

Fighting About Squaws.

PERRY (Okla.,) April 9.—Jennison McClure, a wealthy Chickasaw Indian, quarreled with Joe Paul, his nephew and an Indian judge, last night over the widow of Paul's father, and killed him. Two years ago Joe Paul killed his father, Sam, who had married a pretty young squaw, who later deserted the father for the son.

Schools for Indians.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Secretary Smith has decided to use the $5000 he was authorized to expend for the education of Indians in Alaska in building two schoolhouses, one at Douglas Island, the other at Kotchikan. Plans for the buildings are in the course of preparation.

Mrs. Gen. Miles Ill.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Mrs. Gen. N. A. Miles was stricken with a slight attack of heart failure last night, but is very much improved today.

John H. Knowles, a sailor who made himself famous during a naval engagement in Mobile Bay between the Hartford and Tennessee by lashing Admiral Farragut to the rigging of the Hartford, died at Annapolis yesterday. He had been in the navy forty-five years.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

San Jacinto Shooting Affray—Both Men Dead.

RIVERSIDE, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) A shooting affray took place Monday evening at San Jacinto, in one of the low-license saloons established in that city under the license ordinance lately adopted by the Board of Supervisors, and which seems to have gotten into pretty fair working order. Charles Marshall, a somewhat notorious character, not a bad man when sober, but something of a desperado when under the influence of liquor, and Deputy Sheriff Frank Hamilton, who is also Constable at Cahuilla, met in the saloon and were taking a drink together. A quarrel arose over some previous difference. Friends intefered, and Hamilton, always a peaceable fellow, and a man very much respected in the locality, accepted the agreement arrived at to call matters even, and was leaving the room when he was called back by Marshall, calling him a vile name, the latter at the same time drawing a revolver and opening fire on Hamilton. Hamilton, though shot in three places, twice in the abdomen and once in the right hand, returned the fire, wounding Marshall in the right elbow. Marshall shot four times more, one shot missing Hamilton and taking effect in the abdomen of Albert Larson, an innocent bystander. The physicians summoned after the affray was ended, pronounced Larson mortally wounded. Marshall was placed under arrest and this morning Sheriff W. B. Johnson and Deputy Sheriff George W. Dickson left for the scene of the trouble. Public sympathy runs high in favor of Hamilton, and it would not be surprising if Marshall was lynched.

After the officers had started for San Jacinto word was received by wire for the Sheriff to hurry up, as things did not look bright. This would seem to indicate danger of lynching.

Coroner Sherman and the Times representative started for the scene at 4 p.m. today.

BOTH MEN DEAD.

Sheriff Johnson returned this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the scene of the shooting, bringing Marshall with him. Both men shot by Marshall are dead, Hamilton having died about noon and Larson a few hours later. The Sheriff says the shooting was unprovoked, and that the people in and around San Jacinto are greatly excited over the affair. There was such strong talk of lynching that he brought Marshall away from San Jacinto as quickly as possible.

From what could be learned of the tragedy, it appears that Marshall picked a quarrel with Hamilton in a saloon. He then went and borrowed a revolver of the Constable. Returning, he met Hamilton and Larson coming out of the saloon and at once opened fire on them. The first bullet passed through Hamilton's right hand and entered Larson's abdomen. The next two shots took effect in Hamilton's stomach.

Hamilton then raised his revolver with his right hand, although wounded in that member, and fired at Marshall, breaking the latter's left arm between the wrist and elbow. Marshall had his revolver leveled at Hamilton, holding it in both hands, when hit by a bullet from Hamilton's revolver. Had it not been for his left arm being in the position it was, the ball would have taken effect in his left breast, and would, without doubt, have killed him.

Marshall has been a desperate character in San Bernardino county, and was once shot in resisting arrest. He associated principally with desperadoes and was greatly feared by the people about San Jacinto.

LOCAL NOTES.

Riverside feels just pride in the polo team which covered itself with glory Saturday at Burlingame by winning the game against other good players. Those composing the team, each with two ponies, were G. L. Waring, Robert Bettner, C. E. Wand and T. H. Woods.

Thursday of this week is the date fixed for the baseball game between the "fats" and "leans," and, as the game is for the benefit of the junior band, the money to be raised in buying new uniforms, there is likely to be a large attendance.

Ex-Supervisor S. A. Stewart of Elsinore was in the city Monday. He says grain is not doing as well in his locality as it should. There was not as much rain there as in other portions of the county.

The Riverside wheelmen desire it said that none of the club took part in or were present at the opening of the Murrieta wheelmen's track, Sunday. The club here occasionally take properly-conducted Sunday runs of a social nature, but do not engage in nor encourage track events on that day.

H. B. Bruce was Monday granted a divorce from his wife, Clara E. Bruce, on the grounds of desertion.

The flower festival netted the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church about $160. The Executive Committee, to whom is due the credit of the success of the entertainment, was composed of Mrs. George Ford, chairman; Mrs. F. M. Gardner, Mrs. W. Forkner, Mrs. M. S. Bowman and Mrs. Rev. Caswell. Among the merchants and others contributing to the festival, and to whom the ladies feel under obligations, are G. Rouse, J. C. Hardman, William Metcalf, Tuck Sing Suey, G. C. Poose, Capt. Keith, Mr. Nicholson, Mrs. Langworthy, Mrs. Olive Bayley and the Riverside Art Club.

There are now no tramps confined in the County Jail. Members of that element have about all departed from our midst.

Dist.-Atty. Anderson, who has been very low with consumption for some time, is much better.

The county convention of the W.C.T.U. will be held at South Riverside Thursday and Friday of this week. An interesting programme has been arranged for the session.

John C. Koch left Tuesday morning for Colorado Springs, where he enters the home for printers. He is well known with the craft hereabouts.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will meet tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. J. F. Hervey, Mrs. Emily Satterlee, Mrs. M. J. Lyman, Miss Laura Twogood, Mrs. Helen Mitchell and son, went to Pasadena Tuesday to visit friends.

The cantata "Under the Palms" will be rendered by the young people of the Baptist Church Wednesday evening of this week.

City Attorney W. A. Purington has had prepared the plans for a $2000 residence by Architect Logan. The contract will be let in a few days.

D. Ormand will erect a cottage for himself on Orange street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. The contract has been let to Pilar, Masters & Co.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) Albert G. Sheehan, who, for some months past, has been considered dangerously ill with lung disease, died at 11:30 o'clock today, at his home on the corner of Cypress avenue and Fourth street.

Rafael Moremo was arraigned before Judge Camp this afternoon, charged with cruelty to animals, the complaining witness being Dr. C. E. Wilson. The defendant pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for 9:30 o'clock a.m. Thursday. Maremo was placed under $50 bonds.

The Union High School grounds have lately been divested of a surplus of weeds.

Today James Malden was sentenced to serve ten days in the county bastile for vagrancy, by Judge Baker.

The Lower House at Boston spent almost the entire day yesterday discussing the bill to regulate the observance of the Lord's day and then engrossed it in concurrence with the Senate.

CIRCULATION.

Sworn Weekly Statement, of the Circulation of the Los Angeles Times.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, SS.

Personally appeared before me, H. G. Otis, president and general manager of the Times-Mirror Company, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that the daily circulation records and daily pressroom reports of the office show that the bona fide editions of The Times for each day of the week ended March 30, 1895, were as follows:

Sunday,	March 24	19,600
Monday,	" 25	13,850
Tuesday,	" 26	13,775
Wednesday,	" 27	13,725
Thursday,	" 28	13,775
Friday,	" 29	13,780
Saturday,	" 30	14,000
Total		102,505
Gross daily average		14,643

(Signed) H. G. OTIS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of March, 1895.

(Seal) J. C. OLIVER,
Notary Public in and for Los Angeles County, State of California.

NOTE.—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above aggregate, viz., 102,505 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 17,084 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation; both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time.

The gross daily average circulation of THE TIMES for January, 1895—14,637 copies, shows a gain of 118.3 per cent. over the daily average—6713 copies—for the month of August, 1890, the month of "The strike that failed."

FOR SALE—FOR ALMOST 50 YEARS WE have been studying tone, finish, durability and prices, as regards pianos; it has taught us how to buy; we always get the worth of our money, so we can always give you the worth of yours; many an honest dealer has to charge you more for his goods than we do; he paid too much himself; ignorance is less provoking than dishonesty, but it costs you just as much. Need we point to the moral? When you come to us you get the benefit of what we know. KOHLER & CHASE, 233 S. Spring st.

FOR SALE—
High-grade upright pianos, slightly used, at hard-times prices, warranted for 5 years; money is too scarce to pay fancy profits to consignment dealers; my bargains are genuine and cannot be duplicated; from $50 up. Who wants a nice Decker Bros.' upright for $328? Call or write for bargain list; piano-buying made easy by TURNER.
Cut-rate dealer, Orpheum Theater Block.

BUSINESS

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, April 9, 1895.

Money continues to accumulate in the savings banks and in the hands of private capitalists, and yet rates are keeping up very firmly. The same seems to be the case, only more so, in San Francisco, to judge from the following observations, which are taken from the latest issue of the Real Estate Circular, published in San Francisco by Thomas Magee & Sons:

"Two of our largest savings banks—the Hibernia Bank and the Savings Union—have a million dollars each in cash on hand, not to speak at all of the very much larger sums they have in easily convertible bonds. Nevertheless, the city rate of interest is still maintained at 7 per cent. Six or eight large loans were, however, placed at 6 per cent. last month by private lenders. Therefore, a reduction to 6½ per cent. at our largest savings bank, the Hibernia, cannot, we think, be much longer deferred. The sources from which interest is paid—wages, rent of dwellings and of wholesale and retail stores and from factories or farm products—are certainly not increasing in either city or country, here or elsewhere; and with idle money piling up by the million we can see no reason why interest should not now be somewhat reduced.

"Maturing loans in the country are generally renewed, but the banks never renew such loans unless interest is fully paid up; while, in addition, the borrowers are frequently called upon to reduce the principal sum due. New country loans are not being granted and are not liable to be for some time to come. The total number of mortgages made was 399, of the value of $1,318,689, and the number of releases of mortgages was 281 of the value of $1,233,561."

COMMERCIAL.

The fruit-growers of California have not much reason to be satisfied with the changes that were made in the tariff under the Wilson bill. Even where there was an intention of benefiting the fruit-growers the wording of the duty has in several cases been arranged so clumsily that means have been found by the importers to get around the law.

This has been particularly shown in the case of dried currants. A dispatch was received in San Francisco from New York last week stating that the United States appraisers had decided against the government making currants free. The government will probably appeal.

Referring to this matter a San Francisco dealer in dried-fruits spoke as follows to a reporter:

"Most of the currants imported to this country in previous years have come from Zante, and the Wilson bill placed a duty upon such goods of a cent and a half a pound to protect, as it was supposed, California raisin-growers. The wording of the law especially states 'currents from Zante,' and as soon as this became a law most of the shipments were made from other points in Greece than Zante, and we understand the duty on currants was paid under protest, they making a claim upon the government a short time ago for a refunding of all such duties paid.

"The apraisers have decided that the importers were right, and that the government must refund duties already paid, virtually making currants free again, and this result is anything but satisfactory to California raisin-growers, who feel that they are entitled to even more than the protection proposed for them by the small duty on currants provided for in the Wilson bill.

"It is hoped that the government will be sustained in its appeal and that the duty may remain on these goods, for they are a great competitor with the cheap grades of California raisins.

"The product of California has nearly succeeded in driving the foreign raisins from the Eastern markets, the importations of the past year showing a decided falling off as compared with previous seasons, and most of the importers acknowledge that they have lost money on most of the goods brought to this country.

"With the increased production it is believed that California will not only supply the United States, but export raisins if the people here but continue to receive even the meager protection proposed in the Wilson bill."

Meantime the orange-growers of Southern California are complaining loudly of a tariff which permits European and other foreign growers to ship hundreds of thousands of oranges into this country and compete successfully with the home product.

It has been recognized by dealers in the East for some time past that California prunes are equal if not superior to the imported article, but it is another thing to have a French dealer admit this fact. P. M. Loubrie, a member of the firm of Talbot Freres of Bordeaux, France, packers of peas, mushrooms, tomatoes and other vegetables and olive oils and prunes, is in San Francisco. He said to a Call reporter that his firm shipped no prunes to California, and very few to the Eastern States, while a few years ago they did a large business in that line. "California prunes have taken the market all over the United States," he said; "where we exported large quantities a few years ago there is now very little sale and, of course, no French prunes come to California."

Speaking of the relative merits of California and French prunes, he said that the essential difference was only in the appearance, which was due to the difference in the manner of packing and the care taken. It would be well, he said, for the Californians to insist that their prunes be sold as California prunes, and get all the credit for their good name instead of allowing the dealers to pass them off as French prunes. The French pack all such articles much more neatly and attractively than the Californians. It was for this reason as much as for anything else, Mr. Loubrie said, that they were enabled to compete here with the finest class of vegetables which they export. "We French say," he said, "that we eat as much with our eyes and our nose as with our mouth."

It may be that the recent deal which is reported to have been made between the Standard Oil Company and W. P. Fuller & Co., was hastened by a protest which had been prepared and was to be filed a couple of weeks ago with the Board of Railroad Commissioners, against the advance in freight on petroleum and its products in less than carload lots. The protest referred to an application that had been made by the Southern Pacific Company to increase the rate of petroleum and its products from third to first-class in less than carload lots. According to the San Francisco papers the Standard Oil Company was behind this proposition for the increase in rates. The general freight agent of the Southern California Railway in a letter to the commission, gives the following particulars in regard to petroleum shipments over that line:

"We send our shipments of petroleum and its products twice a week, running three cars each time; that is sending one car to each portion of our line. The cars average about 6000 pounds, leaving Los Angeles, but distribution begins immediately, and during the latter part of the haul the cars contain but very little freight. The distance for the San Diego car is 130 miles, the Barstow car 141 miles, and the San Jacinto and Temecula car 111 miles. This you will see is a very expensive service for the revenue it is possible for us to earn, and there is no possible way that we can consolidate shipments with other freight without incurring greater loss from leakage than we are compelled to assume for this extra service."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

The uses to which wood is put are constantly being extended. For some time past wood has been the chief material used in the manufacture of paper, and now it is being converted into a very good imitation of wool, which is used for surgeons' dressings, napkins, etc. At this rate of development of the wood industry the forests of the United States are likely to be soon depleted. The "wood wool" is now being used in the Los Angeles County Hospital for surgical purposes.

Owing to the great distance of California from the principal markets of the country, the question of successfully preserving perishable products is a most important one to the producers of this section. Experiments are continually being made in this direction, and some valuable results have already been achieved. A doctor named Buckley has hit upon a process which is said to arrest decay in a wonderfully effective manner. Briefly and simply it is the discovery of a process by which air and water may be sterilized. The air is first sterilized and then forced into the water, sterilizing it and destroying all its germs. The apparatus with which these experiments were made consists of a small tank of water, a tube leading from the tank to an air pump, and a glass bulb in the center of the tank containing certain chemicals which destroy the germs in the passage of the air to the water.

The San Francisco Examiner has the following in regard to the development of this invention:

"The doctor's intention is to apply it to fruit cars, which he will fill with sterilized air, nor is it necessary for the car to be hermetically sealed; to the household water tank and to meats, vegetables and everything that is perishable. To the epicure this invention will open a grand field for novel delicacies. He will get his Oregon pheasant and prairie chicken as fresh as the day it was shot, his pond mullet from Honolulu and his golden plover from Hawaii, his goose from Canada, and with the flavor unimpaired by freezing, which is a destroyer of those nice qualities which thrill the palate with most enjoyable sensations."

Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Fruitland Colony Company of this city, formed for the purpose of buying, selling, colonizing, developing and improving lands in Southern California and elsewhere, etc., with a capital stock of $100,000, which has been fully subscribed. Board of directors: H. A. Pierce, T. M. Gibson, John H. Roller, Henry E. Carter and J. J. O'Brien.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Wholesale Quotations Revised Daily.

LOS ANGELES, April 9, 1895.

Everybody is looking to fiesta week to boom trade, and the effects of the forthcoming celebration are expected to be felt in most lines well on into the summer months. At present, conditions are somewhat of the "betwixt-and-between" order, everybody doing business as best he can. The Northern market for eggs being off, the reflex is felt here more or less.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The stock market was even duller today than yesterday. Dealings, however, were firm at the opening and some shares traded in show advances on the day. There are a large number of shares which are lower than at the close yesterday, and they include Grangers, most of the coalers and some of the leading industrials. A firm tone prevailed at the opening, but the volume of business was light and the trading soon became irregular. The coalers continued strong. Delaware and Hudson advanced 1¼ per cent. On the other hand, Sugar and Manhattan fell off ¾ per cent., and other shares a smaller turn. After mid-day the speculation became dull and there was but little business in the usually active stocks. The market gradually became steady, and about 1:30 o'clock a reaction of ¼@¾ per cent. was recorded, the latter in Manhattan. Subsequently the market recovered its tone, but again became irregular, closing dull and about steady. The principal advances in the general list on yesterday's closing figures are: National Linseed, 1¼ per cent.; Denver and Rio Grande preferred, ¾; Rubber and Leather preferred, Sugar and Long Island Traction, ⅝ per cent. The declines are all fractional, except in Louisville and New Albany, which broke 1¼ per cent. Manhattan and Delaware and Lackawanna are down ¾ per cent. and the Grangers ¼@½ per cent. There was a moderate amount of trading in bonds today, but the speculation was irregular. The aggregate sales were $1,681,000.

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

At the recent State Manufacturers' Convention in San Francisco there was a long and animated discussion over the introduction by a delegate, who is a leading spirit in the Federated Trades and other labor organizations, of a resolution to the effect that: "We declare ourselves in favor of the organization of labor."

It is not surprising that the manufacturers of San Francisco should hesitate before adopting such a resolution as this. The convention of manufacturers at which this resolution was presented was made necessary by the fact that the manufacturing interests of that city are in a state of collapse, and that unless something is done speedily to resuscitate them the probability is that the manufacturing industry of San Francisco will before long become a thing of the past, or will be confined to smaller and less important production.

A number of causes have been assigned for the falling off in the industry, such as the competition of other cities on the Coast, exorbitant railroad charges, high cost of fuel, etc. But, as The Times recently observed in commenting upon the call for a convention, there is no doubt that one of the principal reasons for the dry rot which has affected the manufacturing industry of San Francisco is the attitude which labor has there assumed toward capital on every occasion when there has arisen any opportunity for a difference of views on a subject. It is this more than anything else that has made San Francisco an unpopular place for those who invest their money in manufacturing plants. It has already driven many of them to other localities, and should the same unreasonable spirit continue to be exhibited by the employees it will undoubtedly result in forcing many more manufacturers to leave San Francisco, however hard and effectually the Manufacturers' Association may work to improve the condition of affairs.

Under these circumstances it certainly seems to savor of impudence for these men to come before a convention of manufacturers and ask them to declare themselves in favor of organizations that have been doing everything in their power to destroy the manufacturing industry, and who have been, as stated, one of the main causes which have led to the necessity for calling such a convention as this. It is a good deal as if a delegation of highway robbers should appear before a convention of citizens called for the purpose of organizing a vigilance committee to suppress crime and should ask that a resolution be passed in favor of sandbagging.

As The Times has frequently stated, organization of labor is not only proper, but desirable, and should be encouraged as long as such organization seeks to further the interests of labor by reasonable means. But it has come to the extent in this country that "organization" among working men is now generally understood to mean a combination for the purpose of coercing employers to do certain things whether they will or not, and of preventing others than members of the combination from working for these employers in case the latter should refuse to accede to the demands of the men. It is this spirit—a spirit that has been worked up and encouraged by so-called "labor leaders" whose interest it is to foment strife in order that they may retain an occupation and a salary—it is this spirit that has made labor organization almost synonymous with strikes, with the boycott, with violence, with closed factories, idle men, weeping women and hungry children.

The workingmen of San Francisco should show that trades organizations can be reasonable and just and law-abiding, before they can expect the manufacturers to indorse them.

The manufacturers in convention assembled showed their good sense in coming to table all reference to both organized and unorganized labor, but to a great extent they neutralized the good effect of this action by subsequently electing as a member of the board of directors, to represent "labor interests," a pestiferous agitator named McGlynn, formerly of Los Angeles and who was driven out of this city by the force of public sentiment, backed by this journal. Another great blunder was made by the organization in selecting representatives in this section who are not calculated to inspire confidence in the support on the part of Los Angeles business men. The persons bearing the names of L. M. Holt and J. Mills Davies will not add weight to the Manufacturers' Association, "if the court knows herself—and she think she do."

A CONDITION, NOT A THEORY.

The situation in the various county offices, as regards the payment of deputies' salaries, is serious. The legal fraternity seem powerless to offer any suggestion in the nature of a remedy for the existing state of affairs, while the Supervisors and county officials appear to be equally helpless. Meanwhile a large number of clerks and deputies, whose work is absolutely necessary to the conduct of the county business, must either work with no guaranty of compensation, or quit work and thus greatly embarrass the county government.

The situation is extraordinary. With the law of 1893 declared unconstitutional, and the failure of Gov. Budd to approve the bill passed by the Legislature at its recent session to take the place of the former law, matters are left in a state of chaos from which there seems to be no visible means of escape. If some of our millionaires would come forward and guarantee the payment of salaries, taking their chances of reimbursement at the next session of the Legislature, the difficulty might be solved. There is not much doubt that the Legislature would promptly pass the necessary measure of relief. But it is not probable that private capital will rush forward with any great degree of avidity to fill the yawning chasm. As matters now stand, nobody seems to know what can be done, nor whether anything can be done, to straighten out the tangle.

A great deal is said nowadays about "the shrinkage of farm values," as if they were the only values that have declined within the past few years. The truth is that all values have declined, and none, perhaps, to a greater extent than railroad securities. An exchange notes that "a few years ago Atchison stock was quoted at $110 per share and the other day sales of that same stock were made at $3.50 for shares of the face value of $100. Union Pacific stock, which sold as high as $120, has been selling of late at $9. More than nine-tenths of the wealth which those shares were at one time supposed to represent has been annihilated." It is a well-known fact that a large proportion of the railroads of the country are in the hands of receivers. The foreign holders of American railway securities are much dissatisfied with their investments, and have unloaded a great many of them within the past few years. The values of manufactures have also shrunk with the shrinking demand for manufactured goods, and this in return has reacted disastrously on labor. The shrinking process began to assume an acute phase about the time Cleveland was elected, and is still going on.

The Maine Legislature is still very old-fashioned and non-progressive. The salaries of its members are $150 each and mileage at 10 cents per mile. The House recently decided, by a vote of 73 to 37, against increasing the compensation of members to $300. It is hardly necessary to add that the Maine Legislature contains some of the ablest and best men in the State, and that wildcat legislation is comparatively rare.

The Washington Post is authority for the statement that the Finance Committee of the Senate will be reorganized and a new chairman selected. This new chairman will probably be Senator Sherman of Ohio. Mr. Sherman is undoubtedly the ablest financier in either Senate or House, and his selection as chairman of the Finance Committee would be an excellent choice.

At Florence, Or., the new woman has "arrove" in all her glory. At the recent election held there women were elected to all the offices. The entire Council, the Marshal and the Recorder are women. It remains to be seen whether the men will succeed as well in taking care of the babies as the women will succeed in running the government.

The Call declares in the friendliest of tones that "the southern fiestas will be picnics for the State." Los Angeles proposes to make her fiesta season a gala time, at which all will be welcome to come and enjoy themselves to the utmost. We shall have a magnificent show, for "Enterprise" is the watchword to whose music we keep step.

A bill was recently introduced in the Illinois Legislature to prohibit voters from writing on the printed ballot the name of any person or persons for whom they might wish to vote. In a test case involving the same question, just decided by the Illinois Supreme Court, it is held that the Legislature has no more right to pass a law taking from any citizen the right to be voted for for any office to which he is eligible than it has a right to disfranchise a voter. This decision seems to be in accord with constitutional law and common sense.

The city is beginning to blossom out for our approaching fiesta festival. Gay colors are already streaming from the walls of many buildings, but they are like a drop in the bucket compared to what will be when all is completed.

We have had a somewhat hypothetical "Monroe doctrine" for a great many years, but it has not been enforced very rigorously. It is now time that we should have an American doctrine, and should live up to it.

All but the silurians of San Francisco are kicking against her cobblestone pavements. The people are very tired of them and want something less noisy and that can be more easily kept clean.

The Omaha World-Herald observes that "Democrats everywhere are getting ready for the contest of 1896 in a way that means victory or bust." One thing is certain; it doesn't mean victory.

The new woman! Will she take her hat off to men when she meets them in the elevator and on the street?

This is just the kind of weather we want for fiesta week. It could not be finer.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.—The potency of "The Girl I Left Behind Me," which comes to the Los Angeles Theater April 16, is as great as ever. There are business depressions, political upheavals, strikes and rumors of war, but still "The Girl I Left Behind Me" continues its popularity. Belasco and Fyles have undoubtedly supplied Charles Frohman with a play that will have a long life, and it is hardly to be wondered at when the fact that their play is a military drama in every sense of the word, yet without the slightest melodramatic effects, and devoid of all that could offend the most delicate sensibilities. The third act depicts all the horrors of war, but none of its carnage, and without the shedding of a drop of blood nor the firing of a single shot in the presence of the audience, every person present is filled with the sense of danger, and waits breathlessly the arrival of the rescuing party, or the massacre of the handful of men and women huddled together in the stockade, momentarily expecting to fall into the hands of the howling redskins outside. The play also tells several love stories, and supplies several sets of lovers, whose alternate hope and despair keeps the sympathies of the audience at concert pitch in different, but not confusing directions.

Rev. E. P. Hart of Alameda, the senior general superintendent of the Free Methodist church is expected in the city during next week. He will preside at the session of the Southern California Annual Conference which convenes here on Wednesday the 17th inst.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A Timely Protest.

SANTA ANA, April 8.—(To the Editor of The Times.) I see in the proceedings of the City Council yesterday that Mr. Savage, one of the members, moved to change the ordinance so that the license for transient hacks shall be $10 a day instead of $1, so as to protect home hackmen during the fiesta. Adopted. Now, if our angel Councilmen will just pass another ordinance making transient bands of music, transient buggys, transient home guards and transient outsiders generally pay a heavy daily license, so as to protect our home angels from outside intruders, the revenue for the city will be largely increased, or else the angels can have everything their own way. To an outsider who cannot afford to pay $20 per day for riding in a hack with his family in the fiesta procession, this ordinance is the worst monopoly ordinance he ever knew an angel Council to pass. Fair play for all who wish to come to the great feast of the angeles is what I say. OUTSIDER.

PARIS IS PREPARED.

Enormous Stocks of Provisions Kept Constantly on Hand.

(Philadelphia Record:) Should the fortunes of war ever again expose the city of Paris to the hardship of a siege, the besieger would find the reduction of the French capital to be a far more difficult undertaking than did the German armies in the winter of 1870-71. It may be doubted whether the city could ever again be compelled to capitulate. The fall of Paris, as is well known, was not accomplished by the German siege batteries, but the city was starved into submission. A recurrence of such an emergency is supposed to have been made practically impossible by the development of the art of preserving and compressing a great variety of nutritious foods into the smallest possible space.

Thus, for example, 40,000 rations of preserved vegetables can be placed in a cubic space measuring only forty inches each way, and millions of these rations, together with solid soups and preserved meats, are constantly kept ready for the eventual military necessity of the military provisioning of Paris. An enormous stock of flour and biscuits is always maintained by the War Department, while the introduction of compressed fodder and the silo system have facilitated the storage of sufficient food for the horses required by the cavalry, as well as by the omnibus and street-railway companies. One of the gravest causes of distress during the last siege of Paris was the scarcity and poor quality of milk. Such quantities of this indispensable article as could then be procured were worth their weight in gold, and the mortality among infants, resulting from their deprivation of this necessary food, reached a frightful rate. In the next siege, however, milk will not only be plentiful, but very good, thanks to Dr. Autefage's process of "pasteurizing" milk, which has been adopted by the French government, and by which milk can be preserved almost indefinitely, absolutely pure and unaltered.

Twenty years ago the art of preserving meat by means of cold storage was in its infancy, but the French government has fully availed itself of every improvement that has been made in this direction, and at the first sign of impending danger the authorities would be prepared to store hundreds of thousands of carcasses of beeves and mutton. The military magazines are always kept filled, but at the approach of war the numerous warehouses and buildings which have been indicated for the purpose and prepared for the storage of provisions, would be immediately brought into requisition. By means of the Fixary process, dressed beef and other meats can be kept sweet and fresh for many months.

In its careful preparation for the dire emergency of hostile attack, the French government seems to have overlooked nothing; even coal, wood, petroleum, chemicals and a thousand other things have been provided in ample quantities. It seems almost impossible to believe that any future siege of Paris could be prolonged until the War Department should have exhausted its fabulous accumulations of provisions, which are constantly maintained at their proper level, by renewals of stock as fast as they are used up. "The best-laid plans o' mice and men," however, "gang aft a-gley."

AN ODD SPORT SEEN IN SIAM.

Fish Trained for the Prize Ring and Fight to a Finish.

(London Field:) The two fish are placed in the same bottle. They proceed to take each other's measure, shoulder up to each other in schoolboy fashion, and back and push around the "ring," the small fins vibrating rapidly all the time, and each little being quivering with excitement and wrath. This goes on for some minutes, until, as the spectators are growing impatient, one fish suddenly flips his head around, makes a dart, and a considerable dent in his adversary's tail shows at once that he has got home. Henceforth there is no hesitation, until one or the other cries "peccavi." In regular fish fights, on which money depends, the battle is continued until one fish turns tail and is chased around the bottle by the other. But this is usually an affair of an hour, and frequently of three or four.

The pluck and determination of the fighters are wonderful. The ordinary stream fish do not evince nearly so much as those that have been bred and reared for the purpose. The tail is the part which shows most damage, for it is very easily torn, but a good grip on a side fin is more effective. When one pins the other by the nose, a very exciting struggle takes place, the two lying fastened together like professional wrestlers, and then shaking each other backward and forward with might and main.

They often seem extremely exhausted, but still fight on bravely, and sometimes it is a matter of difficulty to part them. They display considerable agility in evading their opponent's mouth, and also in suddenly twisting around and taking a piece out of his tail. In twenty minutes or so these appendages, which looked so brave and bright as they went into the fray, are torn to ribbons.

The fish's general appearance after the fight suggests that of a sailing ship emerging from a hot action, with her canvas hanging in streamers, her topmasts shot away, and her crew gasping for breath, but still ready to fight again. The combatants sometimes succumb to a long contest, but generally they only take superficial damage, and are immediately ready to feed. After a match, they are always rested a week or longer, according to the extent of their injuries, and most of the dents and cuts are repaired by nature. Enthusiastic owners often wager £6 or £7 or more on their favorites, and many people earn a little money in this way by breeding fighting fish and then backing them against others.

Off and On.

(Harper's Magazine for April:) A lawyer, noted for his success on cross-examination, found his match in a recent trial, when he asked a long-suffering witness how long he had worked at his business of tin roofing. The answer was: "I have worked at it off and on, but have worked at it steady for the past twelve years."

"How long off and on have you worked at it?"

"Sixty-five years."

"How old are you?"

"Sixty-five."

"Then you have been a tin-roofer from birth?"

"No, sir; of course I haven't."

"Then why do you say that you have worked at your trade sixty-five years?"

"Because you asked how long off and on I had worked at it. I have worked at it off and on sixty-five years—twenty years on and forty-five off."

Here there was a roar in the courtroom, but not at the expense of the witness, and his inquisitor hurriedly finished his examination in great confusion.

EATON CANYON TRAGEDY.

THE BODY OF WARBURTON IS BROUGHT TO THE CITY.

The Unfortunate Young Man Fell Off a Precipice, but Exactly How is not Known—A Coroner's Inquest Held.

The discovery of the dead body of J. W. Warburton at a point about half a mile above the spot where he was last seen by his friends in Eaton's Canyon on Sunday, was made this morning at 8 o'clock by O. J. and Grant Griswold, who were of the original searching party which went out Monday morning to seek for traces of the unfortunate young man. It was the opinion of the party, upon examining the place, that the body was somewhere in the canyon below, as stated in the Times report, but nothing definite was known, and the search Monday night failed to disclose any details of the tragedy. Yesterday morning the Griswold brothers, skillful mountaineers, traced him step by step to the edge of the cliff from which he fell, and found but one track, proving that he was alone upon the mountain and that the suspicions of foul play had no foundation. Whether he threw himself from the summit, or was dazed and stepped off will never be known.

The place from which he fell was a sheer descent of 200 feet, and as the sides of the declivity are thickly overgrown with bushes, it would be easy for one unskilled in mountain traveling to have made a misstep. The watch found upon the body had stopped at 3:42, and from the trail left it was the opinion of the Messrs. Griswold that Warburton did not wander long in search of a place from which he might safely make his descent to his friends below. It is the opinion of some of the party that he lay down and fell asleep, and upon waking was in haste to seek the rest of the party, and went in almost a straight line to the edge of the cliff.

The body was fearfully crushed and mangled, and death must have been instantaneous, and had already come before his friends left the canyon.

Warburton's body was brought to the city yesterday evening and taken to Kregelo & Bresee's undertaking rooms, where Coroner Campbell held an inquest. J. H. Kelfer, manager of the Troy laundry, where Warburton was employed; Detective Insley, the Messrs. Griswold and Barnhart of the searching party that recovered the body, and other witnesses, were examined.

Only two members of the pleasure party of which Warburton was a member, attended the inquest. One was Mr. Wagner, a driver in the employ of the Union Ice Company; the other, Mr. Campbell, an employee of the Standard Oil Company. Both told about Warburton's stroll up the mountain side and his disappearance. Both were positive he was not drunk, although they thought he had taken four or five small glasses of beer.

Wagner testified that he and two other young men of the party went up the canyon about three-quarters of a mile and yelled and whistled but could get no answer. They tried to climb the mountain side where Warburton went up, but could not do so. Finally they concluded he had got lost and reported the matter at the toll-house at the mouth of the canyon. They thought he would probably find his way out of the mountain by nightfall, so they left him. None of them had the presence of mind to stay in the canyon and light a fire which might attract his attention.

Mr. Griswold told how he and his companions went in search of the missing man, found his trail and followed it to the edge of a precipice. The tracks showed that he turned at the brink and walked along the edge about thirty feet, when he seemed to have lost his foothold and fell to a ledge about six feet below, from which he bounded and fell a total distance of about 200 feet.

All of the party were of the opinion that no drunken man could have climbed the slopes he did; and on the other hand they could not understand how the man could have tried to walk along the almost perpendicular wall of the canyon where he fell down, unless it was after dark or he was demented.

Mr. Kelfer testified to Warburton's sobriety and good character, as did other witnesses. Mr. Kelfer never knew him to drink, but Mr. Wagner often saw him drink beer, but only knew him to be intoxicated on one occasion. On the fatal Sunday he was the most cheerful man in the party and was evidently enjoying himself. He was reckless in his love of adventure and he evidently lost his life on account of a whim to excel his companions in mountain-climbing.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death, no one evidently being to blame for the accident but the victim himself.

The only censure expressed by any one present at the inquest was that of the party of nineteen of whom about one-half were young men, not one had the courage or presence of mind to stay and search for their missing companion, although it is probable that a search would have been in vain, as he was, to all appearances, already dead when the party started back to Los Angeles.

Warburton came from Dayton, O., about two years ago. He was about 25 years old and has well-to-do relations who have been communicated with and his body will probably be sent East for burial.

THE FIRE CHIEFS.

The Science of Fire Fighting to be Discussed.

It is announced that the indications are that the meeting of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs, which is to be held in this city next week will have a good attendance. A number of members who it was thought would be unable to be present have since signified an intention of being here. For the meeting the use of the hall over engine house No. 2 has been secured, and will be appropriately decorated for the purpose.

The convention will meet Monday morning, and it is expected that an adjournment will be taken to the day following. The business sessions will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Besides fire chiefs there are to be present a number of fire apparatus men, and fire fighting in its various details is to be discussed. The sessions will be held at such hours as not to conflict with the exercises of the fiesta. Besides other business there will be the election of officers for the ensuing year. The chiefs will parade on Friday, and on the evening of that day will attend the fire department ball. On one of the evenings during the week there will be a banquet tendered by citizens of Los Angeles who are interested in the organization.

A number of excursions, theater parties and other details are to be arranged for the entertainment of the guests.

Recognized by His Lung.

(Montreal Star:) An eminent Scotch surgeon and professor in the University of Edinburgh was entirely devoted to his profession. A quaint incident in his practice will show this. The poet Tennyson had at one time consulted him about some affection of the lungs. Years afterward he returned on the same errand. On being announced he was nettled to observe that Mr. Syme had neither any recollection of his face, nor, still more galling, acquaintance with his name. Tennyson thereupon mentioned the fact of his former visit. Still Syme failed to remember him. But when the professor put his ear to the poet's chest, and heard the peculiar sound which the old ailment had made chronic, he at once exclaimed: "Ah, I remember you now. I know you by your lung." Can you imagine a greater humiliation for a poet than to be known, not by his lyre, but by his lung?

JOHN J. SCHALLERT.

Death of a Good Man and Sterling Citizen.

The city has lost a sterling citizen in the death of John J. Schallert, which occurred at his Eleventh-street residence yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Schallert was not only a public-spirited, enterprising citizen, but he was that best of all things, an honest man, a loyal and faithful friend, a devoted and loving husband and father, a clean-souled, high-minded, splendid gentleman, whom it was an honor to know. He leaves behind him a loving widow and a five-year-old son, besides a host of friends who will mourn his loss with a sense of personal bereavement. Mr. Schallert was a business man of signal ability and a musician of more than ordinary talent. It is to his efforts, in great measure, that St. Vincent's Church (Catholic) is indebted for the splendid choir which has made that house of worship noted among the churches of Los Angeles, and his loss will be grievously felt in that society.

Great heart, kind friend, salute and farewell! M.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

Mrs. John Bradbury gave a charming luncheon last Friday. Covers were laid for nine. The decorations were very beautiful; in the drawing-room there were great bowls of Duchesse and Papa Gontier roses. The dining-room was all in yellow, and the table was decorated with broad yellow ribbons, tied in stunning French bows, the loops standing upright. The centerpiece was an enormous pot of maidenhair ferns, surrounded by large, loose bunches of yellow marguerites. The guests were: Mmes. J. F. Sartori, O. W. Childs, E. M. Cook, Hugh Vail, O. A. Stevens, Misses Mary Banning, Maggie Winston and Suzanne Easton.

Y. M. C. A. LADIES NIGHT.

"Ladies' night" at the Y.M.C.A. called together a crowd that packed all available space. Palms, fiesta streamers and flags were arranged in graceful decorations. The evening class gave an exhibition of the regular drill, after which proceedings were enlivened by a visit from the Cahuenga Athletic Club. Fencing, bar work, jumping and vaulting contests were held. After the athletic exercises a social hour was passed in the parlors, and light refreshments served.

The concert which was to have been given by Prof. D. H. Morrison on Thursday has been postponed until May 6, Prof. Morrison being confined to his bed by illness. On Saturday night the concert for men occurs. Free tickets will be furnished to all desiring them on application at the office.

KINDERGARTEN ENTERTAINMENT.

An enjoyable entertainment for the benefit of the free kindergarten was given last evening at the residence of Mrs. Dorticos, No. 926 West Washington street.

Roses and marguerites were used profusely and artistically in the drawing-room. A delightful programme was rendered, consisting of a violin solo, by Miss Helen Davenport; vocal solo, by Mrs. Schnable; whistling solo, by Miss Harriet True Regan; reading, by Miss Murphy. This was followed by a successful repetition of the farce, "An Obstinate Family," so well given a short time ago at Mrs. Eastman's. A lunch was served later in the evening.

UNITY CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the Unity League and Legion last evening, W. F. Wentworth gave an entertainment at the Unity Church, consisting of recitals and impersonations. He was assisted by Miss Jennie Winston, soprano. Mr. Wentworth's best work was done in the impersonations and the New England dialect sketches. The programme closed with the reading of Langfellow's "Sandalphon," illustrated by a moving tableau by ten young ladies, with musical and illuminating effects.

A PRETTY CONCERT.

A delightful concert was given by the Venetian Lady Troubadours at Hotel Gray Gables last evening.

There were six o' the ladies gowned in their national costumes, and the music they drew from their mandolins proved very enjoyable. The hotel was profusely decorated with roses and smilax; there were about two hundred of the guests of the hotel and their friends present, and many lovely gowns were worn. Following the programme dancing was enjoyed from 11 until 1 o'clock. Dainty refreshments were served. Among those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Moody, Dr. and Mrs. d'Souchet, Dr. Burns, Mrs. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Turner, Maj. and Mrs. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Michener, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Mmes. Anderson, Shipman, Groshon, Kirkpatrick, Allen, Loeb, Mr. and Mrs. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Gen. and Mrs. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Lownes, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Pride, Misses Kirkpatrick, Judson, Peck, Calvert, Messrs. Holman, Clark, Shaw, Dunn, Grant, Kitchin, Cleaver, Gannon and Bertrand.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

At the First Congregational Church on Thursday evening William. Pridham, president of the Associated Charities, will read a paper on the work of that organization, after which questions may be asked in regard to its work. Miss Morse, secretary of the Y.W.C.A., will give a brief outline of the work, as will Mrs. Abbie E. Johnston, in regard to the work of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald of Duarte were in the city yesterday.

Miss Grace Hall of Ohio is visiting her cousin, Miss Bessie Tonner of Twenty-third street.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Pacific branch, Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will occur Wednesday, April 10, at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Broadway. Dr. and Mrs. Scott, late of Tsun-Hua, China, are expected to be present.

Mrs. C. A. Higgins, wife of the assistant general passenger agent of the Santa Fe system at Chicago, is visiting in the city and will leave for a short visit to San Diego today.

The Misses Crawley, daughters of J. M. Crawley, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, will leave for New York today, by way of the Santa Fe, en route to Germany, where they will resume their studies.

Mrs. H. K. Gregory, wife of the assistant general passenger agent of the Santa Fe, will leave the city today, accompanied by her sister, for a short visit at San Diego.

Licensed to Wed.

Marriage licenses were issued at the County Clerk's office yesterday as follows:

Harry Dohany Smith, a native of Iowa, to Lieschen Muswick, a native of Germany; both of this city.

Edward J. Malone, a native of California, 26 years of age, to Marie M. Finn, also a native of California, 25 years of age; both of this city.

Robert R. Elliott, a native of New York, 35 years of age, to Adaline M. Platt, also a native of New York, 30 years of age; both of San Fernando.

Giacomo Massa, a native of Italy, 29 years of age, to Catarina Bertucci, also a native of Italy, 26 years of age; both of this city.

The Science Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Southern California Science Association was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room. Mrs. Burton Williamson read an interesting paper on "Shells on Our Pacific Shores," illustrated with charts and specimens. Prof. O. P. Phillips of the University of Southern California followed with a microscopic exhibition.

CLEVER CROOKS.

ONE ROBS A HOUSE AND GLORIES IN IT.

While a Detective Was at the Door the Crook Ransacked the House. Poked Fun at the Police.

It has been known for some time that some very clever crooks are at work in the city, so clever indeed that the local hawkshaws are almost powerless to detect them. Burglaries have been frequent of late, but the smoothest and most audacious depredation of this kind that has yet come to light occurred yesterday, in broad daylight, on one of the most prominent thoroughfares of the city.

In this case the burglar sent his compliments to the police department and robbed a house while a detective stood at the front door getting clews to the contemplated burglary. The police are somewhat reticent about giving out information concerning the robbery, as the burglar has not yet been caught, but the story as learned by The Times, is as follows:

John H. Myers lives with his family in a comfortable two-story house at No. 933 South Broadway. Mrs. Mathewson, a friend of the family, is a roomer. Last Sunday evening about 7 o'clock, the lady went up stairs to her rooms and was astonished at meeting a well-dressed man, whom she had never seen about the house before, in one of the rooms.

"Excuse me, madam," said the stranger, "don't be disturbed; I am looking for Mr. Myers."

"You will find Mr. Myers down stairs," said the lady.

"Thank you," said the visitor as he sauntered leisurely down the stairway. Mrs. Mathewson followed him, and just as he got to the foot of the stairs he broke for the front door and left the house in a great hurry.

Mrs. Mathewson gave the alarm to the household, but it was too late; the burglar, for so they felt sure he was, had vanished.

The family locked the doors and windows securely that night, but hardly presumed that the burglar would have the hardihood to return to the premises. Monday afternoon, however, Mr. Myers received a letter through the mail, postmarked 1 p.m., reading in substance as follows:

"Mr. Myers: If it had not been for meeting a lady in your hallway last evening, I would have gotten more than I did. It is useless for you to lock your doors. It won't keep me out. I am

"AN EXPERIENCED BURGLAR."

The experienced burglar also begged to have his compliments conveyed to the Chief of Police.

Mr. Myers obligingly reported the occurrence to the police and yesterday afternoon a detective went down to Mr. Myers's house to make an investigation. The front door was open and he rang the bell but no one responded. Then he tried the back door, but that was locked. It happened that all of the family were away except Mr. Myers's little boy who was playing about the yard.

The detective returned to the front door, and there he met Mrs. Mathewson returning from a neighbor's, where she had gone to make a short call. The detective introduced himself and while they stood at the front door, she told him all about the burglar. The hawkshaw having secured a satisfactory description of the man, returned up town.

Mrs. Mathewson went into the house and presently proceeded up stairs to her room. There she found everything topsy-turvy. Every drawer and locker had been ransacked but nothing of value was missing. Mrs. Myers's room presented the same appearance. Six or eight dollars in money was missing here, but no jewelry or other valuables. On Mrs. Myers's writing desk was the following note, evidently hastily penned:

"Mr. Myers: I have just got through your house while the lady was speaking to a detective on the front steps."

There was no signature this time, but the burglar again begged to present his compliments to the police department.

The detectives are now all on the lookout for the bold thief who dares add insult to injury.

FOR HOUSEKEEPERS, AND PRACTICAL HEALTH CALENDAR.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10

Temperature yesterday: Maximum, 67 deg.; minimum, 41 deg.; clear.

Inmost heaven its radiance pours,
Round thy windows, at thy doors,
Asking but to be let in.

BREAKFAST. Apples and Dates. Cracked Wheat. Beefsteak. Baked Potatoes. Apple Sauce. Ginger Snaps. Coffee.
DINNER. Canned Salmon. Sliced Lemon. Stuffed Eggs. Steamed Potatoes. Spinach. White Bread. Grape Marmalade. Sponge Cake.
SUPPER. Graham Mush. Biscuit. Fried Potatoes. Honey. Milk. Tea.

CRACKED WHEAT.

It is necessary to cook cracked wheat three hours or more, and so it must be reheated for breakfast. Leave in the inner porcelain boiler over night, and then fill outer boiler with boiling water. When put to cook at first, use a quart of boiling water to a half pint of wheat, and a teaspoonful salt. Do not stir. Each grain should be light, porous and distinct. A very wholesome dish, eaten with cream, or sugar and butter.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The Riverside Reflex has issued a handsome souvenir edition, in commemoration of the recent meeting of the Farmers' Institute in that city.

The number of votes cast at San Bernardino in last Monday's election shows a gain of 192 votes in two years, an increase of over 16 per cent.

Colton is not satisfied with its present electric lighting, and is discussing the desirability of owning its own plant with arc lights in all streets, and furnishing 1000 incandescent lights for stores and residences. The proposed cost is $5000.

The Orange County Herald, published at Santa Ana, passed its eighteenth milestone last week. It began its new volume with a greatly improved appearance, and with a clear, concise and comprehensive descriptive article on the resources of the county, which makes the issue useful for Eastern readers.

University having declined to become part of "Greater Los Angeles," the suburb might possibly consent to join "Greater Santa Monica." One way or another, it seems destined that the entire valley down to the sea shall be so settled as to ultimately be in effect one town. If University doesn't like the city's domination, it might attach itself to the other end of the string.

It is claimed in Santa Ana that the Democrats have a minority on the "books," but, all the same, it appears from the result of the city election there on Monday that they have a majority at the polls. Perhaps, though, the "unterrified" secured their result by the old, time-worn dodge of "vote for the best man," providing he be a Democrat. Santa Ana Republicans ought to "take a tumble to themselves," so to speak.

The Times takes pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of an invitation from the Committee on Invitations, at Anaheim, to take part in the celebration to be given in that city over the completion of its electric light system. The event will come off tomorrow, April 11. The Times, in return, wishes the citizens of Anaheim a pleasant evening and a continuance of the prosperity their energy entitles them to.

The news from Arizona that an Apache Indian who was recently released from the Yuma Penitentiary has placed himself at the head of a band of renegades, will confirm the opinion that is firmly held by old-time Arizonans, that the only good Indian is a dead one. This may not perhaps be altogether true of every tribe of American Indians, but there are certainly good grounds for the opinion of the Arizonans that it holds good in regard to the murderous Apaches.

"Philo" writes The Times desiring to call the attention of the city authorities to the deplorable condition of Bellevue avenue, especially that portion of it between the Epworth Church and the Methodist Church, South. The writer says that that part of the avenue is particularly dangerous to vehicles, owing to the remnants of the track of the old mule-car line which have been allowed to remain. The suggestion of the writer that these abandoned rails should be taken up is a good one, and should recommend itself to the city authorities.

It is estimated that there will be at least a thousand persons in the excursion which is to come to Los Angeles from San Francisco and other northern points during our fiesta. Some adequate provision ought to be made for the welcoming of these visitors. Perhaps we need not send the Queen of the fiesta to meet them in person, but there should at least be a goodly delegation of the subjects of Her Royal Majesty to meet them at the railway station, escort them to the city, and unfold to them the wonders and the beauties thereof.

Thus saith, and saith truly, the San Diego Union:

"The Southern California Railroad Company has often granted concessions to San Diego in railway fares, at times when it has been sought to secure large outside attendance at local festivals, and now like courtesies have been extended to Los Angeles. San Diego should be as prompt in manifesting its appreciation of the opportunity to visit the northern city as Los Angeles has always been in taking advantage of such special inducements for making a trip to San Diego. The fiesta, soon to be held in that city, should attract a large attendance from this section. It is to be a notable exhibition and worth seeing on its own account, but San Diego owes Los Angeles some consideration on account of past courtesies coming the other way. Now is a good time to pay the debt."

J. T. Sheward,

113-115 N. Spring St.

THERE is a rumor on the street; it is being talked about; it is spreading that Sheward's trade is more than doubling up. The Fiesta is bringing in the crowds. We are having the crowds every day. The Silhouette artist is having all he can do. In place of diminishing, the people are just beginning to take hold and have their pictures taken by the best artist in the world in his particular line. Fiesta colors are selling freely; the people are beginning to decorate; the city will this season far surpass anything of the kind ever attempted in the West. More people have already purchased colors than were sold all together last season; this store has bought unusually heavy; our stocks are the most complete in every detail. Prices are lower and the times far better for big buying. Duck suitings are taking the lead in wash goods; 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c and 30c a yard for the largest assortment we have ever carried; all new styles and the choicest assortment that money will buy. The large outlet we now have for goods enables us to replenish our stock with the most desirable goods every week. You will always find something new and taking on our counters. Side combs with metal tops 10c and 16c each; real value 25c and 35c. New capes from $5 up; they are the best values yet offered in the cape line. New silk separate skirts as well as a full line of best fitting silk skirts; made by regular skirt makers, they hang better and keep their shape better than made to order skirts. Prices from $4 up for wool skirts and from $15 and up for fine silk skirts. All-wool suits in a splendid assortment at the lowest prices. We are largely increasing trade by cutting the prices down to the lowest margin for legitimate selling. New silk waists; they are choice styles and just the thing for Fiesta week; more of the flawless wash Kai Kai silks; the real Jap goods without a particle of dressing; they are absolutely free from glue or sizing. Black dress goods in all the new weaves. Our millinery department is now in the best condition it has ever been; plenty of new ideas for Easter and for Fiesta. Nearly every lady will have a new hat for the Fiesta and they should.

A Little Breeze in the Police Commission.

A Lively Tilt Over the Action Which Was Taken on an Anonymous Letter.

Frank Tofte Remanded to Jail Until Monday—Judge Shaw Disposes of an Irrigation District Squabble.

The Police Commission yesterday acted on a number of saloon matters. There was a lively tilt between President Teed of the City Council and some of the commissioners, as to what action should be taken on a certain communication before the board.

At the Courthouse yesterday the Tofte habeas corpus and contempt cases were continued at the request of the respondent's attorney, until Monday next. Judge Shaw heard and dismissed the proceedings instituted against A. P. Wiley to remove him from the office of secretary of the Big Rock Creek Irrigation District. Several cases of more or less interest were to have been taken up, but for various reasons were postponed.

AT THE CITY HALL.

The Police Commission.

TROUBLE RAISED OVER AN ANONYMOUS LETTER.

A small-sized war cloud cast its shadow over the meeting of the Police Commission yesterday. There was open rebellion, and appearances indicate that it will require the exercising of a good deal of tact to settle the differences that have arisen. The expressed wishes of the president of the City Council, were ignored, and it looks as if some of the commissioners would hear uncomplimentary remarks about themselves if they are present at the next meeting of the City Council.

The board met at the usual hour, there being a full attendance. As soon as the minutes had been read the Mayor offered as a suggestion that hereafter all men elected police officers shall be considered by the board to be on probation for a certain period and that their chances of remaining on the force depend on the efficiency they show during the period of probation.

After discussing the matter briefly, the board, on motion of Commissioner Barham, adopted it as a rule that all officers hereafter elected shall be on probation for a period of three months after their election in each case.

On reports presented by the Chief through Secretary Moffatt, applications for liquor licenses and transfers were granted as follows:

Jospeh Shendell for a transfer of saloon license at No. 823 East Fifth street from Frank P. Francis, Natallie Salvadora for a restaurant liquor license at No. 1622 San Fernando street, Frank Schettin for a saloon license at Nos. 1485 and 1487 Mission road, Jerry Illich for a saloon license at Nos. 219 and 221 West Third street and E. L. Maxwell for a saloon license at Nos. 230 and 232 West Second street.

It was announced that the applications of Robert Kern for a saloon license at No. 225 West Third street and of Starin & Hurt for a restaurant liquor license at No. 109 West Second street had been withdrawn.

The petition of Nine de Mersame for a restaurant liquor license at No. 1507 Main street was denied, it being stated that the place is near East Side Park. It was explained that it was not thought best to grant liquor permits for places near any of the parks.

The question was raised as to whether boarding-houses and hotels where liquors are served with meals shall not be amenable to the restaurant liquor license ordinance. It was stated that there are not a few places where liquors are served with regular meals without any license for so doing.

Councilman Teed, who was present, stated that the operation of the restaurant liquor license ordinance had gone far beyond what was intended by the City Council when the ordinance was adopted by that body. It was intended that the ordinance should provide that claret or other liquors could be served with regular meals at eating places. It was not designed that the ordinance should be made a means of doing a saloon business on Sundays.

In the former Council he had ready to present a resolution to amend the ordinance so that no restaurant liquor license could be granted for a place having a saloon license, but, not having sufficient support, he had not offered the resolution.

The discussion drifted to the matter of the way in which the Sunday-closing ordinance is observed by saloon-keepers. Commissioner Barham said he believed it was getting to be understood that the board was in earnest about the matter. "Just let me find a case," he said, "where there is a violation of this law and see how quick I will move to revoke the license for the place where the law is violated."

A communication from the City Council stated that a certain anonymous letter, which had been received by the Council, had been referred to the board. The letter was as follows:

"How is it that L. Simpson and Jim Smith can sell liquor without license on Sunday and any other time, and we saloon men are forced to close. They sell it openly and I have never seen any license. Now please bear this in mind. It's from a taxpayer and a saloon man. Their place is No. 151 North Los Angeles street."

Commissioner Pirtle said he was not in favor of noticing such communications.

President Teed of the City Council said that the communication in question was somewhat different from ordinary anonymous letters and he thought the matter mentioned in it ought to be investigated.

It was moved by Commissioner Field that the communication be filed.

Councilman Teed urged that if the board did not wish to investigate the matter the letter ought to be returned to the Council.

The motion to file the document prevailed, although with some opposition. As soon as this had been done Councilman Teed, with a show of indignation which he was evidently unable to suppress, took from his pocket a memorandum book and copied from the communication which had been the cause of the controversy. He soon afterward left the room.

Applications were referred to the Chief as follows: John Singer, for a saloon license at No. 329 South Main street; Maier & Kellogg, for a transfer of saloon license at Nos. 215 and 217 East Second street, from P. Maier; Jacob Finicke, for a transfer of saloon license from No. 105 San Pedro street from Charles Markhausen; Dicker & Horatto, for a restaurant-liquor license at No. 240 East First street, and Frank Sareno for a restaurant-liquor license at No. 312 Commercial street.

Applications for appointments as policemen for service during fiesta week were filed as received from the following-named men: C. W. Dobyns, J. M. Moreno, Martin Brannan, Vincent J. Butlerich and A. H. Miller.

H. V. Bard was appointed special policeman for service as foreman at East Side Park.

An application of Day S. Hutchinson for appointment as special policeman for service as humane officer was granted.

A communication was presented as signed by J. H. Anderson and F. P. Burch which read as follows:

"We, the undersigned, respectfully request permission to conduct during the fiesta to be had in this city during the week ending April 20 an exhibition of the various Spanish-American novelties and games similar in character to the exhibitions at New Oorleans and the various South American countries and which have always been freely visited by the best classes of both ladies and gentlemen. It is our intention to have a centrally located building or pavilion which will be decorated in a manner to make it an attractive feature of the fiesta, to have the best music, instrumental and vocal, that can be obtained. The pavilion is to be open to the public without any admission fee. No liquors will be sold nor will we be connected with a saloon."

Chief Glass stated that the establishment which the applicants desired to conduct included roulette tables and games of "monte." Both of these games were in violation of the law.

On motion the application was denied.

Charles G. Lehnhausen was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the dismissal of Officer Heidt. The board thereupon adjourned to meet at 10 a.m. Friday, for the purpose of acting in the matter of the appointment of special officers for service during the fiesta.

New City Jail.

THE POLICE SAY PROVISIONS ARE INADEQUATE.

There has been heard in police circles a good deal of talk to the effect that the City Council has not made adequate provision for the police department when it is removed from the building now occupied.

The police station and jail now in use, it is generally admitted, is and for a number of years has been unfit for the purpose by reason of the cramped accommodations. It has frequently been necessary to crowd prisoners in it to such an extent as to make the condition far from sanitary and women and juvenile prisoners could not be properly isolated.

The proposed bonds for a new jail and police station which are to be voted on next month contemplate an issue of $40,000 for that purpose. The property now in use has sold for $42,000, which, added to the other sum, makes a total of $82,000. This amount is all that has been provided for the purchase of the necessary ground and the erection and equipment of the building.

It has been argued that if a workhouse for city prisoners were to be built as has been proposed, but little jail accommodations would be needed. It is stated, however, that the relief to the City Jail resulting from the working prisoners being confined elsewhere would not be great. It is true there would not need to be provided quite so much jail room nor quite as extensive table and other accommodations.

Other than this, however, there would be needed for the jail and police station proper the same apartments and space as if the working prisoners were confined in it. For the use of the Chief and the detectives more space is greatly needed, as well as for the secretary, bailiff and other officers.

There should be, it is argued, decent quarters where the officers—or a special detail of them—may sleep in time of emergency. Such quarters could also be fitted up with inexpensive gymnasium apparatus and bathing facilities.

Another detail which seems to have been entirely overlooked is the providing of stabling for horses used in connection with the department. There are at present six mounted men and, besides the horses kept by them, are the two horses used on the patrol wagon.

The horses are at present stabled at various places about the city. In case of an emergency it is stated it would be a great aid to the efficiency of the force if all the horses were kept in the rear of the jail where they could be had at a moment's notice.

If the horses were to be kept in this way they could undoubtedly be kept at a good deal less expense, for they could be cared for largely by "trusties" from the jail.

As the matter now stands the $82,000 above mentioned is all that is set aside for the purpose. It is thought, however, that, when the necessity of providing a police station and jail that is ample not only for present needs, but also for future requirements is seen, some provision will be made to make the structure what it should be. The accommodations, it is asserted, should be sufficient to provide for the city for twenty years to come.

The suggestion has been offered that the branch police stations, which will probably be built in various portions of the city as its growth continues, will relieve the central station. Those whose opinions on the question are entitled to respect, however, say that the branch stations afford virtually no relief to the main station. They merely accommodate their respective neighborhoods.

School Building Reinsurance.

It is stated that reinsurance of school buildings, mentioned in a resolution offered by Mr. Garland at the meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening, will accomplish a considerable extension in the insurance without cost to the city. The proposition is to cancel all the insurance policies now outstanding and to give in exchange for them new policies for a longer period. There are at present outstanding policies amounting to $253,000. The average length of time which these have yet to run is about eighteen months. It is proposed to give, in exchange for these, other policies for the same amounts respectively, but running for a period of three years. The city, therefore, without the payment of any money exchanges, gets eighteen months' insurance for three years' insurance. It is said that this kind of an extension may be secured as a result of the rate-cutting which has been going on for some time past.

Fell Down a Bank.

Deputy Street Superintendent Hutton met with an unfortunate accident yesterday. He was driving with his horse and buggy near the gravel pit not far from Hill street and Bellevue avenue, when in some manner the check-rein became entangled in such a way as to render the horse unmanageable. The horse fell over an embankment about ten feet high, breaking the buggy badly. Mr. Hutton jumped from the rig in time to save himself from injury, but the horse was a good deal bruised.

City Hall Notes.

The Fire Commission will meet this morning.

Most of the saloon licenses for this month were paid on or before yesterday. Those which are not paid by 5 o'clock this afternoon are liable to revocation for delinquency.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

The Courts.

AN IRRIGATION-DISTRICT SQUABBLE DISPOSED OF BY JUDGE SHAW.

The defendant in the case of John H. Carter vs. A. P. Wiley, appeared before Judge Shaw in Department Five yesterday in response to a citation requiring him to show cause why he should not be deprived of the office of secretary of the Big Rock Creek Irrigation District for alleging failure and refusal to perform his official duties.

Carter, who was formerly treasurer of the district, claimed that he demanded of Wiley a certified copy of the bond of L. R. Tighlman, the treasurer-elect of said district, upon his refusal to allow him to inspect the bond itself, but that he refused to furnish him with one, in spite of the fact that the fee was tendered. Wiley, however, claimed that he simply declined to accede to Carter's request until he had examined the law governing the subject; and the court, upon this showing, dismissed the proceedings, much to the chagrin of the informer, who was compelled to pay the costs.

THE WILSON WILL CONTEST.

In the Probate Court yesterday afternoon the contest over the will of Mrs. Bridget Wilson, deceased, who died on March 14, 1893, leaving an estate valued at about $285,000, was called for trial by Judge Clark. There are two contests, the heirs of Mrs. Alicia McMahon, deceased, a sister of decedent, objecting to the codicil to the will; and John Wilson, the husband of decedent, contesting the will itself. The latter contest, however, not being at issue yet, the matter went over until May 7 next, by consent.

Frank Tofte again appeared before Judge Clark yesterday to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of and punished for contempt of court in having attempted to evade the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by his wife for the purpose of obtaining possession of her child.

His attorney, W. P. Hyatt, Esq., not having had time in which to prepare his defense, and the defendant consenting to remain in jail while the matter was in abeyance, a continuance was ordered until Monday afternoon next, Tofte being remanded, meantime. Judge Clark, however, expressly informed Tofte that the fact that he had voluntarily remained in jail for a week, would not influence the court in its disposition of the matter, should he be convicted of contempt.

SENT TO HIGHLANDS.

In accordance with the recommendation of Drs. Lasher and Cole, the examining commissioners, Miss Minnie S. Dunlap, a native of California, 23 years of age, was duly adjudged insane and committed to the State Asylum at Highlands by Judge York yesterday.

The unfortunate young woman, who resides with her parents at Whittier, imagines, among other things, that she has been married and that she is enceinte. She also starves herself for days at a time, and wanders off from home at every opportunity. While not dangerous to others, it is feared that she may do herself some injury while despondent, and in order to avoid such a contingency it has been deemed advisable to restrain her.

A COACHMAN'S DAMAGE SUIT.

Suit was commenced in the Superior Court yesterday by George M. Chickering against Spencer H. Smith of San Gabriel, by whom he was employed as coachman, to recover damages in the sum of $5000. In his complaint Chickering alleges that on February 2 last, while performing his duties at the stable and barn of his employer, the swinging door, 12x12, and about four inches thick, fell from its fastenings upon him. As the result of this accident, Chickering claims that his spinal cord and the muscles of his back and abdomen were permanently injured, and, although only 39 years of age, he claims that he can no longer perform or enjoy his marital duties and obligations.

THE TRUSTEES INDORSED.

The case of M. K. Karns vs. E. A. Hibbard et al., as trustees of the city of Pomona, came up for hearing before Judge Van Dyke in Department Four yesterday upon demurrer to the petition of plaintiff for a writ of mandate, which was sustained by the court. Plaintiff declining to amend his petition, the alternative writ of mandate issued by Judge Van Dyke was discharged and final judgment ordered for the defendants therein.

The Board of Trustees of the city of Pomona recently advertised for bids for the paving of Second street, in that city, with asphaltum, and Karns and Fairchild & Vincent, responded. The bid of the latter firm was accepted, and the defendant having offered to do the work for $2700 less, sought to compel the trustees to accept his his bid, because it was the lower of the two.

The court, however, held that the Board of Trustees had the right to reject any or all bids, and to use its judgment and discretion in awarding contracts for public work.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The Supreme Court met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Chief Justice Beatty presiding and Associate Justices Harrison, McFarland, Gavoutte, Van Fleet and Henshaw sitting in bank.

Upon motion of G. Wiley Wells, Esq., and presentation of license from the Supreme Court of Ohio, J. T. Kiggens, Esq., of Santa Monica was duly admitted to practice in all the courts of this State.

The motion to dismiss the appeal in the case of Weisendanger vs. McFarland was denied, and the appellant granted thirty days' time within which to complete the record.

The motion to dismiss the apeal in the case of Suman vs. Archibald et al. was ordered dismissed.

The application of Earl Edmundson, Esq., for admission to practice was denied upon the showing made, but the applicant was granted leave to furnish additional proof of his admission by the Superior Court of Tennessee.

The petition of Earl Earlston for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

In the matter of the examination of the class of applicants for admission to the bar, it was ordered that the first six names of the list be examined by Department One and the other six by Department Two.

The following applicants were subsequently admitted: Theo. Madson, J. F. Geary, D. R. Weller, T. W. Robinson, W. C. Petchner, Jefferson P. Chandler, E. E. Milliken, Henley C. Booth and John B. Gibson.

Court Notes.

C. Eifler, a butcher, filed his petition in voluntary insolvency yesterday, attributing his failure to bad debts, loss of custom, non-employment, insufficient wages, "following the act of the Legislature known as the Pedro bill." Liabilities, $350.35; no assets.

The transcripts on appeal in the cases against John Lechner of Redondo Beach, recently convicted of having sold liquor to minors, were received yesterday, and the matter set for hearing in Department One on Saturday next.

In Department One yesterday morning William Stevenson, one of the men charged with having robbed Robert Hicks of Pomona on February 3 last, appeared for trial, but the complainant not having been found, the matter went over until May 27 next, by consent.

Erhard Jensen, a Dane, was duly admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge Van Dyke yesterday upon producing the necessary proof of qualification and taking the requisite oaths.

The case of Abel Stevens vs. J. T. Yarrington, as executor of the estate of T. A. Saxon, deceased, an action to foreclose a mortgage on five acres of land in sec. 24, T 1 S, R 12 W, for $1061.90, came up for hearing before Judge Van Dyke yesterday and resulted in judgment for the plaintiff, as prayed.

Judge Shaw heard the application of Mrs. C. T. Thompson for a decree divorcing her from John W. Thompson upon the ground of desertion, but, not being satisfied with the proof offered, continued the matter for further evidence.

The decision of Judge McKinley in the case of E. J. Culley vs. G. P. Dutton, was erroneously stated to be for the plaintiff on Thursday last, judgment having been rendered for the defendant therein.

New Suits.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Bayley B. Froman vs. Sarah F. Valentine et al., action to foreclose a chattel mortgage for $600.

J. P. Lescombe vs. Joseph Camon, action to foreclose a chattel mortgage for $2598.

George M. Chickering vs. Spencer H. Smith, action to recover $5000 damages alleged to have been suffered on account of injuries received on February 2 last.

C. B. Campbell, Jr., vs. G. H. Blount et al., action to recover $515.96 alleged to be due on an Orange county judgment.

BAR-MITZVAH.

AN INTERESTING JEWISH CEREMONY PERFORMED.

The Celebration of a Boy's Attainment of His Religious Majority. A Rite of the Passover Festival.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the Bar-Mitzvah, or attainment to religious majority of Master Philip Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris, was celebrated with beautiful and solemn ceremonial at the Masonic Hall. Rabbi A. W. Edelman, assisted by First Minister Israel Shulman, conducted the impressive service, and Christian visitors as well as Jewish members of the congregation listened with the deepest interest and attention.

All those officiating and the chief men of the congregation wore long, oriental looking scarfs woven of pure wool, the holy garment which must be worn during religious services. Master Harris was dressed in black, with a scarf of white, bordered with black, and, during the earlier part of the service occupied a chair near the officiating priest.

The service was opened with the customary sonorous chant in Hebrew, followed by prayers, the congregation standing and facing the east. The ark was then opened amid strains of solemn music, and the holy scriptures taken out with a chanted Hebrew invocation. The sacred book is divided into two parts, the parchment upon which each part is written in Hebrew being rolled around two carved and gold-mounted rods, and the whole encased in a gorgeous covering of wool, made in one case of the Hebrew blue and white, with heavy gold ornamentation, and in the other of dark red, embroidered with symbols and Hebrew letters. A massive wand of carved silver is attached to each roll, and is used to point out the passages as they are read by the priest. The wrappings were taken from the roll containing the five books of Moses, and portions of these were read to a group of five listeners, the principal men of the congregation, who were grouped around the lectern on which was spread the scroll.

The other roll was then brought forward, and the first restored to its case. After the reading from the second, followed by chanting and prayers, both were replaced in the ark which was covered by a drapery of purple velvet fringed with gold. Rabbi Edelman then preached a brief and excellent sermon in English. He began by referring to the wise men of the world, who, as far back as is known by history, have rejected the multiplicity of heathen gods, and have instinctively felt the existence of one Supreme Power.

"It was with them," said the rabbi, "a struggle of human reason against the many errors inherited by them from their fathers; and only by slow and gradual approaches could they reach that point of perfection where the Creator, with His attributes of infinite mercy and irresistible power, stood revealed to their eyes."

In the days when the children of Israel dwelt on the shores of the River Nile, all literature and learning was for the aristocracy alone, and out of the reach of the humble Jewish bondmen; hence the difficulty which Moses found in convincing his brethren of the truth of his mission.

Their wavering belief in the God of their fathers was plainly signified in the divine message given to Moses from the burning bush. "Say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord. I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. I will rid you of their bondage. I will take you to me as a people, and will be to you for a God; and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, who bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians." Although there is no means of ascertaining to what extent Moses himself was learned in the ancient faith of his race, it is certain that he was a man of great wisdom, unselfishness and courage, and his self-sacrifice in forsaking the luxury of his life in the house of Pharaoh for the wretchedness of exile and poverty, and then for the toils and dangers of his mission of deliverance, shows him to have been a true shepherd of his down-trodden people.

"We do not claim any merit for the discovery of our religion, nor do we ask for Moses the highest monument in the temple of fame as the greatest reformer for that religious belief. All that we do say is, that the great object of Israel's redemption from the Egyptian bandage was to be the witness of this great and holy name as it was revealed to Moses."

The rabbi then alluded to the long and bitter trials of his race, and concluded his sermon with this splendid exhortation: "True, that He has often permitted the vine of Israel to be pruned by unskilled vintners; true, that He allowed the leaves to be stripped by those who regarded not the safety of the parent stem; true, also, that He looked on to see the fruit devoured by those who labored only for its destruction; yet the stem itself has not lost its vigor, and to this very hour it draws its sustenance from the thousands of roots which spread deeply in the healthy soil. Let us therefore continue to be true to our trust, and we will see the goodness of God displayed in our preservation. Let us be awake to the good cause of the Lord."

Let us spread a knowledge of our religion among our children, and endeavor to bring others to the footstool of God. In this wise only will we be best able to celebrate the festival of our redemption from bondage, and, with sincere hearts, to assemble around the festive table and recount to them what God has done for our fathers in the coming out of Egypt, to return thanks to Him for the mercy, which He ever displayed toward the sons of Abraham, and to proclaim with our sacred bard: "Praise ye the Lord, our God, for He is good; and His mercy endureth forever."

The rabbi then turned to the young candidate and addressed a few solemn words to him concerning the importance of the step he was about to take, and the rich promise of the years which lay before him if the right use of those years confirmed the promise of the Bar-Mitzvah. The boy was then told to take his position upon the platform, and to answer in the presence of the congregation the questions which should be asked him.

The catechism which followed was an education in itself, covering as it did the fundamental principles of the law of God and the duty of man; the times and meaning of the Jewish feasts and fasts; the great objects and important lessons of religion and the fundamental confession of the Jewish faith. "I believe with a perfect faith that there is but one God, He who was, is and forever will be. That He is the first and the last, and that there is no other God besides Him. As it is written in our holy law. 'Hear, O Israel, the Lord is our God, the Lord is one.'"

After this public and solemn confession the boy was formally received into full standing as a dutiful son of Israel, and blessed as such by the rabbi.

The little fellow then turned to the congregation, and with a feeling that plainly showed his full understanding of the words he uttered, assumed the burdens, cares and responsibilities of a member of the congregation of Isreal, and pledged himself to labor for the cause of Judaism and to share the weal or woe of his people, proud to acknowledge himself a good Jew.

He then addressed his parents, and tears stole down the cheeks of many in the audience as the clear, childish voice broke and faltered with deep feeling for their tender care, and prayer for forgiveness of his childish errors.

The congregation then stood while the little fellow prayed in simple words for his beloved mother, and for the blessing of God upon his future life and work.

The ceremony concluded with his formal presentation to the church by the rabbi, and, after another chant in the stately Hebrew, massive with the weight of centuries, the benediction was pronounced in English.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTION.

New Officers for the Ensuing Year—Patronize Home.

At a meeting of the newly-elected board of directors of the Los Angeles Board of Trade, held yesterday afternoon, the following officers were unanimously elected to serve for the fiscal year of 1895-6, viz.: A. Jacoby, president; Roland P. Bishop, vice-president; E. P. Johnson, treasurer; Gregory Perkins, Jr., secretary; Graff & Latham, attorneys.

A resolution was unanimously adopted that in the performance of all public work in the city of Los Angeles, the best interests of the city would be subserved by giving preference, if any, other things being equal, to local labor, material and manufacture, and to that end the City Council should so amend, revise and make up the various specifications for public work so that under all circumstances, local labor, material and manufacture will have a full, free and fair opportunity to compete for any public work in said city to be done, and that no public work therein be instituted until such amendment and revision are had.

NEVER TOUCHED HER.

OR, IF HE DID, IT WAS A LOVE PAT.

Policeman Kinney Tried for Hitting Mlle. Marmontel, but the Jury Could not Agree—An Unsavory Case.

Twelve good men and true who were to act as a jury to decide whether ex-Policeman E. W. Kinney was guilty of committing battery on the person of Marguerite Marmontel, failed to agree on a verdict last evening, and were discharged from further consideration of the case.

The jury listened patiently to the voluminous evidence, and the more voluminous arguments of the lawyers, which consumed the greater portion of the session of Justice Morrison's court yesterday, and deliberated one hour and a quarter on the merits of the case, finally agreeing to disagree. On making his announcement, however, the foreman of the jury stated that eleven of the gentlemen composing it stood resolutely for acquittal, while nothing short of a verdict of guilty would satisfy the twelfth man. When the latter found it was impossible to convert the eleven stubborn men to his way of thinking, he consented to reporting a disagreement.

The courtroom was crowded all day with spectators eager to hear the testimony and the arguments of the lawyers. Attorneys Appel and Ling appeared for the defense, and Judd R. Rush for the prosecution. Mr. Rush was called to the witness stand by the defense to tell why he had charge of the case for the people, instead of the District Attorney, but he did not give Mr. Kinney's lawyers much satisfaction on this point.

The fair but frail Marguerlate Marmontel, who was the cause of all the trouble, was present and proved a very reluctant complaining witness. She first appeared in court accompanied by Attorney J. Marion Brooks, who stated for her, that so far as she was concerned, she was willing to drop the case. The prosecution, however, objected, and the court decided, in view of the fact that a jury had been impanelled last Saturday at great trouble and expense, that the trial would have to go on.

When the Marmontel woman was called to the witness stand she tried to deny that Mr. Kinney had struck her. Under sharp questioning, however, by Attorney Rush, she finally admitted that Kinney's fingers touched her lips. It was, according to her testimony, more of a love tap than a vicious blow. She acknowledged that her mouth bled, but she was subject to bleeding of the gums.

Mr. and Mrs. Monett, at whose house the fracas occurred, testified that Kinney and the woman were both in a towering rage and flew at each other, but the witnesses were somewhat confused as to whether he deliberately struck her a blow in the mouth.

Mr. Kinney testified in his own behalf, telling about the meeting and the scene at Mr. Monett's house. He said Marguerite pounced upon him after applying a vile epithet to him, and he threw out his hands to defend himself. In doing so he touched her face with his fingers, but did not strike her a blow with his fist, as had been alleged. The whole courtroom smiled as Adonis Kinney set up his plea of self-defense.

Father-in-law Cohn appeared at the afternoon session and told about the interview between Kinney and the Marmontel woman, at which he was present. He did not see Mr. Kinney strike the woman, although he stepped between them during the excitement to prevent a collision.

Ex-Detective Bosqui, who was instrumental in getting Mlle. Marmontel to bring the complaint, was present throughout the proceedings, but was not called to the witness-stand.

Both sides rested after Mr. Cohn's testimony was heard; then Mr. Rush made the opening argument for the prosecution. His remarks were brief and to the point.

Mr. Ling opened for the defense, and severely scored Mr. Rush and his method of handling the people's case. Then he roasted Mr. Bosqui to a crisp, and wound up by painting a halo around Mr. Kinney's head. The defendant himself appeared to be astonished to hear that he was a man of such noble qualities as Mr. Ling described, and Mr. Cohn's bosom must have swelled with pride when he learned what a model son-in-law he had.

Attorney Appel closed the argument for the defense, his remarks being much the same as those of Mr. Ling, and devoted especially to Mr. Bosqui to show the animus of the prosecution.

Mr. Rush closed for the people in a very long and eloquent speech, in which he bore down pretty hard on the defendant.

It was past 5 o'clock when the case was submitted to the jury, who were unable to agree, as above stated. Justice Morrison, after hearing their report, discharged them from further service. It is not probable that the prosecution will be continued.

HERE'S APRIL.

Now Purify the Blood; Feed the Nerves!

Take Paine's Celery Compound Now!

It Speedily Makes People Well.

Cures Disease When All Else Fails.

In Every Civilized Land It is a Blessing.

It is Used by Physicians in Every Community.

Indorsed by Thousands of People in Los Angeles.

In every civilized country people are now taking Paine's celery compound.

Persons employed constantly indoors emerge from the long confinement of winter reduced in strength and nervous vitality. The need of a spring medicine for years impressed itself on the attention of a thinking people.

But with a lack of a really valuable scientific preparation people were accustomed to take all sorts of home-made concoctions—some harmless, but none of any great value.

Finally, in the famous laboratory of Dartmouth Medical School, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., discovered the formula for Paine's celery compound, the remedy that has become the standard nerve restorer, blood purifier and strengthener from one end of the country to the other, the preparation that stands unrivalled as—

The world's great spring remedy.

Not only is this known to the people generally today, but it is the one remedy invariably ordered by the modern class of physicians in all cases of nervous debility.

Since the appearance of Paine's celery compound, when first prescribed by Prof. Phelps, there has been no difference of opinion among scientific men as to its unrivalled merits.

The reports of the many cases where this remarkable remedy has saved life and restored health have again and again been given at length in the medical reviews and the newspapers, until today the whole country is familiar with the power of Paine's celery compound over disease. More than one influential paper has spoken in editorial columns of this great modern remedy as a remarkable instance of a scientific discovery, emanating from the very highest medical authority, and taken up later by the whole people, until today it is the recognized remedy of the world for all forms of weakness.

No such complete agreement of the popular belief and professional judgment ever before happened.

Just now, when the new year—that is, the spring—is overhauling the body and trying to arouse it to drive out disease, it is well to know what to do in order to help the good work along. When the nerves count up the gains and losses of the winter, most every one is sure to find that he stands in need of a spring medicine to tone him up, to make richer and purer blood, and to make his nerves sound and vigorous. The marvelous ability of rapidly reconstructing worn-out tissues, of purifying the blood and feeding tired nerves has won for Paine's celery compound the written indorsement of thousands of careful physicians.

It is a fact much commented on that men and women of national reputation and prominence, educated people, who are careful what they employ when sick, have of their own accord sent letters describing fully their permanent recovery from rheumatism, heart weakness, sleeplessness, debility, kidney troubles and from diseases of the stomach and liver.

In all these cases of recovery from serious disorders and the general feeble health that comes directly from a bad state of blood and impaired nerves, Paine's celery compound has always removed disease and established health again. It begins to give its great help immediately.

This is how it has made men and women come to speak of it as "the remedy that makes people well." This significant phrase has been repeated so often from mouth to mouth that it is now everywhere inseparably associated with Paine's celery compound, not only by the physicians who daily prescribe it, but by the thousands of ailing people, young and old, who go to it for aid and comfort.

Take it now.

LA FIESTA.

DRILLING THE COMPANY OF EQUESTRIENNES.

More Funds Needed—How a Vacant Building Will Serve a Charitable Purpose—Insignia of Rank for Marshals.

The subscriptions to the fiesta fund are still coming in, and the Finance Committee has but a few days before the celebration begins in which to hear from those who have not yet been visited by the sub-committees. There are many citizens, able to subscribe, who have not yet done so, and there is urgent need that there should be ample funds to meet the requirements of the occasion. The fiesta has assumed such large proportions that the expenses are very large, and the committee has prepared a letter, which was sent out yesterday, describing their needs. The committee requests the attention of the citizens of Los Angeles to it, and that they will do their share in assuring the financial success of La Fiesta.

The pocket-guides issued by the Public-comfort Committee, containing information about the city and list of hotels and lodging-houses, are now ready for distribution. Copies can be obtained at fiesta headquarters.

All members of the Ladies' Riding Club will meet this afternoon at the corner of Seventh and San Pedro streets for drill. Mrs. Jennie Hooper, president, requests that all members attend. The drill will take place at 4 o'clock. The company is composed of some of the most charming young ladies of the city and they are taking great interest in the organization. They will present a superb appearance in the floral parade.

Yesterday the School Committee was enabled to make arrangements with the street-car officials for the free transportation of the school children to their homes after their parade disbands on Thursday. This very generous action on the part of the street-car management will be of great benefit to the children and add very materially to their comfort. The line of march is not finally determined as yet, but will be short enough not to tire the cadets.

The Kindergarten Jockey Club is growing in numbers and had a drill yesterday on their ponies. Mr. Sumner is very much pleased with the enthusiasm of the boys, and they will have a very striking feature in the parade.

There was a full meeting of the Parade Committee last evening when details of the committee's work during the various days of carnival week were discussed and acted upon. The committee decided that the parade officers will wear badges instead of sashes. Staff officers red, division marshals green, and division marshals' aids yellow.

WINDOW SEATS.

The generous donation of Mrs. Irvine to the Associated Charities of Los Angeles, in the shape of the new Irvine Block on Broadway, to be used and rented by the association during fiesta week, will doubtless meet with a warm response from the people of the city.

The large five-story block occupies a most advantageous position, and the rooms will go like the proverbial hot cakes because of their extreme desirability no less than the consideration of the worthy cause to which the rental is to be devoted.

The corner room on the third floor, which is to be occupied and decorated by the Daughters of the Revolution, will be one of the features of La Fiesta, and it would be an excellent idea if other societies would decorate the other rooms in line with it, and thus put the whole tier in keeping. Mrs. Irvine has retained the corner room on the second floor for her own use. Mrs. T. Brown has the next room toward the north, and Hadley Douglas, Gens. Mathews and Field, R. M. Widney and R. S. McDougall occupy the other rooms in line. J. T. Newkirk, No. 139 South Broadway, is in charge.

THE RACES.

Agricultural Park is beginning to look like a race track. The thoroughbreds are arriving in numbers, and every morning many of them are galloped and jogged over the track in preparation for the great races to be decided during the coming fiesta.

A. B. Spreckels's string was the first to arrive from the North. It is composed of eleven thoroughbreds, nearly all of which have proved themselves fit to cope with the best in America. Trainer Cy Mulkey is delighted with the city and track, and says he thinks the stop-over here on his way to Chicago will do the horses a vast amount of good.

Cadmus, the famous son of Flood and Cornelia, will not be started in the great Newton handicap, which is to be run next Saturday afternoon. Mulkey is of the opinion that as he has not raced since last January he should not be compelled to pack 122 pounds, and run against a lot of horses from San Francisco which are right up to a race.

The stable will pin its faith on Candid, a handsome big black mare that Mr. Spreckels imported from Australia. At San Francisco she proved to be a race mare of high quality, and as she will carry but 109 pounds in Saturday's race, her chances are considered very favorable.

Gallant will be sent after La Fiesta Derby. He won some excellent races as a two-year-old, and is a candidate for the National Derby to be run this summer at Chicago. Ramble, a chestnut colt by Flambeau-Music, Pique, by Flambeau-Petroleuse, and Ravelston, by Flambeau-Shannon Rose, will all run in the two-year-old events. They are said to be crackerjacks, and as they are sons of the sire of the sensational two-year-old Crescendo, their performances are likely to be marvelous.

Pat Murphy, the three-year-old brother of the well-known sprinter Tim Murphy; Headflower, a maiden, by Flood-Rosetta, and Bridal Veil, by Cheviot-Nellie Collier, are the others in the string. Homer Coombs, one of the cleverest jockeys in the West, came along with the stable, and will do all the riding. At the conclusion of La Fiesta races the horses will be shipped direct to Chicago over the Santa Fe.

Dave Bridges arrived from San Francisco yesterday afternoon with two carloads of racehorses. There are eleven in all. Among the lot are such well-known performers as Garcia, an aged horse by Wildidle-Night Hawk; Duke Stevens, by the Duke of Norfolk-Ednak; the one-eyed Pescador, by Gano; Huensme and Emma D. The last three are Southern California-bred horses. The stable will try to win the Newton handicap with Duke Stevens, who showed such a turn of speed last winter when he defeated Sister Mary at one and one-sixteenth miles. Besides those named, Mr. Bridges has in charge six two-year-olds.

Billy Appleby's string, consisting of ten good performers, will arrive here today. Willie Flynn comes with Appleby to do his riding. He signed a contract with Appleby which allows him $50 a day whether he rides or not.

GENERAL FIESTA COMMITTEE.

Badges to be Furnished to All Newspaper Men.

A meeting of the General Fiesta Committee, composed of a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, press representatives from The Times, Herald, Express and other local papers, the local press club and the Editorial Association of Southern California, was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. The special committee appointed to wait on the Fiesta Committee reported that badges would be printed and furnished to all newspaper representatives, good for all entertainments given under the direction of the Fiesta Committee; also that the Merchants' Association of Los Angeles would, in addition to the reviewing stand set apart for newspaper reporters and correspondents, build another stand for them and for ladies, capable of seating 300 persons, at a point contiguous to Central Park, where the grand review is to take place. The regular press badges to be issued will admit the holders to that stand also.

The committee further reported that Mr. Bilicke of the Hollenbeck Hotel would give the use of a room in that hotel during fiesta week for the use of all newspaper men.

These press badges will be provided by The Times, Herald and Express newspapers of this city, which have agreed to defray the cost of them, and they will be issued by the Fiesta Press Committee.

Messrs. Wood and Aiken of the Los Angeles Railway Company were present at the meeting and stated they would grant the courtesies of their lines to all newspaper reporters and correspondents, and would issue passes for them to be distributed by the Fiesta Press Committee. Arrangements are also in progress to make the press badges good for admission to the races, and to the Orpheum and Burbank theaters.

The Committee on Programme for the reception at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday afternoon of fiesta week reported the following programme, which was adopted: Presentation of the freedom of the city to all newspaper men by Mayor Rader; response by T. A. Filcher, president of the California Press Association; welcome on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce by W. C. Patterson, president; response by William A. Mills of San Francisco; welcome on behalf of the local press by H. Z. Osborne; and welcome on behalf of the citizens of Southern California by Congressman James McLachlan.

Music and light refreshments will be furnished by the Chamber of Commerce. The general committee then adjourned to meet again at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday next at 5 p.m.

COUNTY DEPUTIES.

THEY GET THEIR WARRANTS DISCOUNTED.

One Man Who Evidently Believes the County Will Pay the Claims of the Extra Employees—No Mandamus Yet.

Although the papers in the proposed mandamus proceedings to compel County Treasurer Fleming to cash the warrant of one of the extra deputies at the Courthouse have all been drawn up, the test case has not yet been commenced, nor do any of the parties interested appear to know just when it will be.

For the past week the extra deputies have been more or less gloomily pondering over the question as to how they were going to live through the current month. In view of the fact that almost every attorney approached upon the subject expressed the opinion that, under the law, the county was not liable for their salaries, the situation was depressing, to say to the least. It was rendered more so in the County Clerk's and County Recorder's offices, for, with the view of avoiding possible litigation, the principals of those departments of the county government required their deputies to sign an agreement that they would not hold their employers responsible in case the county declined to pay them for their work.

Yesterday, however, Jesse D. Hunter of Tropico, as a matter of accommodation to some of his friends in the Sheriff's office, cashed their warrants for them at a discount of 2 per cent. The news of this action spread like wildfire, and within five minutes of the cashing of the first warrant a crowd of lady copyists from the Recorder's office, and male deputies from the Clerk's, Assessor's, Tax Collector's and other offices, beseiged the waiting-room of the Sheriff's office. The result was that Hunter did a rushing business for an hour or so, but after signing checks upon the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank to the extent of several thousand dollars, he was compelled to call a halt, much to the disappointment of a number of the later arrivals.

Even they, however, brightened up considerably, for the very fact that some one was willing to accept their warrants, at a discount, convinced them that there was more than a mere chance that they would be worth their face value in time.

What the outcome of the matter will be remains to be seen. That the county's business is too voluminous to be transacted by the officials provided by law, is generally conceded. To compel the county officers to pay their own deputies out of their present salaries is ridiculous; for, in the case of the Assessor, who has over one hundred deputies in the field, for instance, the amount he receives would be utterly inadequate for the purpose. The worst feature of the case is that no one seems able to suggest a feasible remedy, although it is generally admitted that there must be a way out of the dilemma.

NEW RUNNING TIME.

Changes in Local Southern Pacific Service.

Passengers from This City for the Naval Reception at San Diego.

Orange Shipments are Increasing—An Important Trio to Arrive—A New Service—A Mexican Extension.

Seven of the twenty new electric cars ordered for the Pasadena and Los Angeles Electric Railway are on their way hither from the Eastern shops, having passed Colorado Springs yesterday. They are expected to arrive here by Monday. These cars are thirty-five feet long, exceeding the length of the University cars, run on eight wheels, and in many respects are more elegant than anything of the kind in the West, having upholstered seats, plate-glass mirrors and other attractive appointments. One end of these cars has platform seats much like the University cars, but in inclement weather they are to be inclosed in plate glass, forming an excellent observation apartment particularly adapted for the convenience of passengers who will find delight in viewing the landscape along the route.

Work is progressing on the viaduct over the Terminal track at South Pasadena, but it does not seem far enough advanced to warrant the statement that cars will be running over it next week during La Fiesta. The Pasadena power-house is being roofed, and the machinery within it is being placed in position, so that the day is not now far distant when that plant will be in operation.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

The shipments of oranges to the Eastern markets show signs of increase, but have not attained their normal magnitude. Those being made are mostly of seedlings shipped, not to order, but on the mere chance of finding a market at prices that will at least recoup the grower's expenses and leave a small profit. During the last week the imports of foreign fruit have been small, and the holders of navel fruit, who are still bound by association rules, are beginning to ship cautiously.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IN PASADENA.

It is understood that the Southern Pacific Company's agents are making good headway in acquiring property along its proposed route on Broadway, in Pasadena, and have settled with nearly all the owners who are at all reasonable. Though lots have jumped in price in some cases from $60 to $600, and the company's agents sometimes despair of ultimate success, it will not be long now until actual construction is begun. One of the property-owners who from the first opposed the coming of the road so strongly that he declared a willingness to expend the whole value of his property to keep the road out, has so far modified his stand as to place a price upon the lot which the railroad company needs, the transfer of which would remove the most serious obstacle to the railroad, though his valuation of the plot is a few thousand dollars above what the prospective buyers consider it worth. Whatever the road may prove to be worth to Pasadena as a community, it is evidently proving a good thing as a stimulant to real estate prices on Broadway.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CHANGES.

Tomorrow the new time card of the Southern Pacific will go into effect. A new round-trip service will be inaugurated between Redlands and Los Angeles; the new train, to be known as the "Eli," will leave Redlands at 11:10 a.m., Colton at 12:01 p.m., and reach Los Angeles at 1:45 p.m., making the run from Redlands to Los Angeles in two hours five minutes, thus saving passengers from that city thirty-two minutes. The return train will leave Los Angeles at 2:55 p.m., bringing passengers to Colton at 4:45 o'clock, and to Redlands at 5:07 o'clock, in ample time for dinner, making the run in only two hours and twelve minutes. These trains make connection with the midday San Francisco trains.

The other changes embraced by the card are as follows: The Redlands and Crafton local passenger, heretofore leaving at 10:39 a.m., will leave at 7:45 a.m.

The Atlantic express, heretofore leaving at 8:30 a.m., will leave fifteen minutes later, waiting for connection with the train from Santa Ana.

The Redlands and Crafton passenger, heretofore leaving at 4:30 p.m., will not be changed.

The Ontario and Chino local, heretofore leaving at 5:25 p.m., will leave at 5:45 p.m.

The morning Monrovia local will leave at 9 a.m. instead of 8:50. The afternoon local will leave at 2:25 p.m. instead of 2:15 p.m. The 5:15 o'clock train to Monrovia will run at the same time as heretofore.

The Crafton and Redlands passenger, heretofore arriving at 10:10 a.m., will get here at 9:30 a.m., connecting with the Santa Monica, San Pedro-Long Beach and Santa Ana-Whittier trains.

The Redlands train, heretofore arriving at 4:58 p.m., will not be changed.

The morning Chino and Ontario local, which has heretofore arrived at 8:45 a.m., will get here at 8:16 a.m., leaving Chino at 6:30 a.m. and Ontario at 7 a.m.

The Monrovia train, which has heretofore left Monrovia at 12:05 p.m., will not leave there until 12:45 o'clock, reaching Los Angeles at 1:28 p.m.

There will be a new round-trip motor train put on between Redlands and San Bernardino, to leave Redlands at 11:45 a.m., reaching San Bernardino at 12:15 o'clock, and leaving San Bernardino at 12:25 p.m., reaching Redlands at 12:56 p.m.

The San Pedro and Long Beach train will leave at 9:31 a.m. instead of 9:25 a.m.

The Whittier and Santa Ana afternoon passenger will leave at 2 p.m. instead of 1:55 p.m.

Several changes will be made on the Santa Monica branch. There will be two morning trains, neither of which will run around the Soldiers' Home loop, but will run direct to Los Angeles; the first leaving at 7:10 a.m. and reaching Los Angeles at 7:40 a.m., running right through to Redlands and Crafton. The second train will leave Santa Monica at 8:15 a.m., arriving at Los Angeles at 8:51 a.m. These two fast morning trains from Santa Monica have been put on with a view of fully accommodating all people who wish to take up a summer residence at the seaside, and still come to Los Angeles daily to transact business.

The morning Santa Monica train will leave Los Angeles five minutes later (9:35 a.m.) The last train for Santa Monica and Soldiers' Home will leave at 6:25 instead of 6 p.m. The mid-day train from Santa Monica will leave that point at 11:20 a.m. instead of 11:35 a.m., and the last train will, on week days, leave the wharf at 3:45 p.m. instead of 3:20 p.m., but the leaving time from Santa Monica (4:05 p.m.) will remain the same as at present.

AN IMPORTANT TRIO.

Yet one more gathering of notables is to take place in the city. United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, who has been at Coronado for the past week, will return today. Col. J. J. Cook, one of the receivers of the Santa Fe, who was prevented from accompanying the remainder of his party to San Francisco by the indisposition of one of his children, will also return to Los Angeles today. Last, but by no means least, Mr. R. C. Kerens, president of the Terminal Railroad, arrived on the Santa Fe train, belated by wind and snow in Kansas and Southern Colorado. It is understood that these gentlemen will be entertained by some of the prominent citizens for the purpose of discussing the harbor question, the Salt Lake Railroad and the Nicaragua Canal.

THE NAVAL RECEPTION.

There was a small rush for San Diego yesterday morning. The new parlor car of the Southern California was filled, and two extra coaches had to be added to the ordinary train. While a number of these passengers were, doubtless, attracted to the bay city by the demon fair, now open, others went down to attend the reception tendered last evening to the officers of the U.S.S. Monterey, and a brass-buttoned reception is always a pre-eminent attraction in the eyes of the fair sex.

A MEXICAN EXTENSION.

It is currently reported that the Interoceanic Railroad is to be extended from Chietla, the present terminus, toward Acapulco, on the Pacific. J. H. Kain, ex-chief engineer of the Central Railroad, is ready to take the field with a corps of engineers to survey the destined route.

The proposed extension is run from Chietla, on the Morelos branch of the Interoceanic Railroad, and almost due south of the City of Mexico. The distance from the capital to Chietla is 294 kilos, and from the latter point to Acapulco about 487 miles. There is said to be now no doubt of the successful culmination of the railway enterprise, as the route is lined with towns of large size and business prosperity.

The Mexican, Cuernavaca and Pacific Railroad, which is also headed for Acapulco, will also push the construction of the seven additional kilos on from Fierro del Toro, the present terminus of the line.

THE FIESTA TROOPS.

Gen. E. P. Johnson, commanding the First Brigade, N.G.C., is spending much time in close conference with the officials of the Southern Pacific and Southern California roads, in arranging the details for transporting the troops next week. Friday is to be the one especial day when the military will be so much in evidence, and it is desired, so far as may be possible, to bring all outlying detachments to the city on the day previous.

AND STILL THEY COME.

The following-named passengers arrived in Los Angeles from the East yesterday morning on the Burlington excursion: Miss Laura Coler, I. W. Coler, Mrs. I. W. Coler, Barnard, Mo.; Scott Spencer, William Mannis, Ottumwa, Iowa; R. W. Vincent, Los Angeles, Cal.; Ed Maguire, Rockford, Ill.; James Sellers, Mrs. James Sellers, Mendota, Ill.; Miss Fannie Forward, Burlington, Iowa; Mrs. L. J. Clay, Walter Dyer, Aurora, Ill.; Miss Emma Rasmussen, Hastings, Neb.; Mrs. L. Stewart, Lincoln, Neb.; Miss Flossie Rinne, Broken Bow, Neb.; E. R. Curtis, Mrs. E. R. Curtis, Miss Ethel Curtis, Miss Eldred Curtis, McCook, Neb.; Mrs. L. A. Harman, Glen Harman, Maryville, Mo.; Miss L. B. Turnbull, Kansas City, Mo.; Atwood Richards, Dodgeville, Wis.; Alex Wood, G. H. Bennett, Mrs. G. H. Bennett, Chicago, Ill.; L. J. Fisher, Mrs. L. J. Fisher, Robert Fisher, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Miss Dora Mann, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; J. H. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Smith, St. Joseph, Mo.; William McClelland, George Jackson, Peoria, Ill.

SANTA FE REORGANIZATION.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Atchison Reorganization Committee issued its plan today, which is signed by all the members of the joint Executive Reorganization Committee, and which has been approved by the New York General Reorganization Committee, the London Bondholders' Committee, and Hope & Co., of Amsterdam, acting for the Dutch bondholders. The plan proposed is to foreclose the general mortgage and other mortgages, if deemed desirable, and vest the properties acquired at foreclosure sale in a new company. The capitalization of the Atchison Company under the reorganization will compare as follows, with the present figures:

First—New general mortgage fours, $96,990,582, with fixed interest at $3,879,623, and 4 per cent. adjustment bonds, $51,723,311, non-cumulative until after July 1, 1900, in place of present general mortgage fours, amounting to $129,320,776, with fixed interest of $5,172,831.

Second—New 5 per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock, $111,485,951, in place of $77,957,500 second mortgage "A" bonds, with fixed interest at $3,117,500; $10,000,000 second mortgage "B" bonds, with fixed interest of $400,000, and $1,253,605 income bonds (exchangeable for "As") with fixed interest of $50,144.

Third—New prior 4 per cent. bonds, $13,020,414, with fixed interest of $480,816, in place of $9,000,000 guarantee fund 6 per cent. notes, with $540,000 fixed interest; $1,850,000 equipment trust series "A" 5 per cent. bonds, with $87,500 fixed interest, and $1,270,414 equipment lease warrants.

Fourth—New common stock of $102,000 in exchange for a like amount of present capital stock. The Chicago and St. Louis first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, amounting to $1,500,000, with $90,000 fixed interest may be left undisturbed. The capitalization under the reorganization will amount to $377,268,208, with fixed interest of $4,528,547, against an existing capitalization of $335,595,247, with fixed interest charges of $9,536,083.

Under the plan the Atchison general mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, with the coupon of January 1, 1894, and all subsequent coupons thereto attached, will receive 75 per cent. of the principal in new general mortgage fours 100-year gold bonds, bearing interest from October 1, 1895, and 40 per cent. in 4 per cent. 100-year adjustment bonds, bearing interest payable only out of net earnings, non-cumulative to July 1, 1900, and cumulative after that date. Atchison 4 per cent. seconds, class "A" with coupon of April 1, 1894, and all subsequent coupons attached, will receive 113 per cent. of their par value in 5 per cent. non-cumulative paid stock of the new company. The bonds are assessed 4 per cent., of which 2 per cent. must be paid at the time of deposit and the remainder when the new securities are ready for delivery. Atchison 4 per cent. mortgage bonds, class "B," with coupon of April 1, 1894, and all subsequent coupons attached, and Atchison income bonds of 1889 with coupon of September 1, 1894, and all subsequent coupons attached, will receive 118 per cent. of their par value in the new company preferred stock. These bonds are assessed 4 per cent. to be paid under the conditions governing the class "A" bonds and the income bonds of 1889, Atchison capital stock is assessed $10 per share, of which $3 must be paid at the time of deposit, and the remainder of installment of not more than $3 each at intervals of not less than thirty days, when called for by the joint Executive Committee. Stockholders will receive for each 100 shares and assessment of $10 paid thereon, $100 in common stock and $10 in preferred stock of the new company.

The new general mortgage is to provide for the issue of additional general mortgage bonds not exceeding the following amounts: Five hundred thousand to take up if necessary the Chicago and St. Louis first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds; $1,500,000 for taking up the outstanding bonds provided for under the Atchison circular of October 15, 1889, consisting of various old liens; $15,500,000 to take up existing guarantee fund notes, equipment bonds and existing car trust obligations; $30,000,000 for the construction and acquisition of improvements and additions, such bonds not to be issued at a rate to exceed $3,000,000 for each fiscal year, and $20,000,000 to be used for the acquisition of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad and for the improvement of the property acquired. A possible issue of $17,000,000 prior line bonds is also provided for, with a view to making additional provision for funding or paying existing guarantee notes, equipment bonds and car trust obligations and for setting apart a fund to insure against contingencies.

The plan also reserves the right to issue $20,000,000 preferred stock for the acquisition and improvement of the St. Louis and San Francisco, Atlantic and Pacific and Colorado Midland railroads. Ample provision is made for the protection of security-holders in case of the issue of any of these authorized securities.

The cash assessments provided for will furnish the company with $13,567,644 for floating debt, receivers' certificates and working capital for the new company. Deposits of securities under the plan will be remade simultaneously by the depositors in New York, Boston, London and Amsterdam, beginning April 13.

MORE RATE DEMORALIZATION.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The demoralization in passenger rates west of the Missouri River was increased somewhat today. The Burlington and Missouri River announced that on April 15 it will make a $17 round-trip rate from Denver to Omaha. From Kansas City a rate of $5 will be made to points in Nebraska and one of $7 to Sterling, Colo. These tickets will have a return limit of ten days. Another feature which may add somewhat to the demoralization is the preparation which practically all the Western roads are making to run home-seekers' excursions to all points in Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, the Dakotas and Wyoming.

THAT TEMECULA BRANCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—For several years that portion of the Southern California Railway of the Santa Fe system between Temecula and Oceanside, has been abandoned, as the result of a washout. The people in that section are tired of being shut out from the world, and have sent a complaint to the Railroad Commissioners, asking for information as to the prospect of getting a road. As there is no one in this city connected with the Santa Fe authorized to explain the matter, the officials here have written to the general manager of the Southern California Railway to furnish the commission with a response.

(The Southern California Railroad Company justified the abandonment of the line through the Temecula Canyon by calling attention to the fact that with every freshet that annually rushed through that picturesque granite gorge, great sections of the main track were washed away. As the line was not profitable enough to warrant the reconstruction of several miles of track every spring, the company considered it the part of good judgment to abandon it altogether and use the coast line for all traffic to and from San Diego.—Ed. Times.)

BACK TO HIS FIRST LOVE.

PORTLAND (Or.,) April 9.—A private letter from Omaha states that T. H. Payne, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Omaha, will resign April 15, and return to the Missouri Pacific, which road he will serve in the same capacity.

CENTRAL PACIFIC ELECTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—At the annual election of the Central Pacific Railroad today the following directors were unanimously elected: Charles P. Eels, Isaac E. Gates, C. P. Huntington, William H. Mills, F. E. Spencer, Isaac L. Requa, C. E. Bretherton.

SCRAP HEAP.

Jay W. Adams of the Chicago and Alton came down from San Francisco.

R. W. Bryan, formerly superintendent of the Great Northern, arrived from St. Paul yesterday.

W. J. Shotwell, general agent of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, is in the city on a flying trip.

Carleton C. Crane, general agent at San Francisco of the Vanderbilt system, arrived in the city yesterday.

A chaperoned party of thirty people will go down over the Surf Line today to "take in" the lemon fair at San Diego.

M. M. Martin, superintendent of the car department of the Wabash road, with headquarters at Decatur, Ill., arrived in the city yesterday.

T. H. Duzan, local agent of the Burlington, went up the road yesterday to Riverside to find out when those naval oranges are going to move.

C. C. Clark, vice-president of the New York Central, who has been passing the winter in Southern California, arrived, with his son, from Santa Barbara yesterday, and has registered at the Westminster.

The first installment of steel rails for the extension of the Mt. Lowe Railway arrived at Altadena Junction yesterday morning and the rails are now being conveyed to the mountain where they will be laid as fast as spikes can be driven. The trolley poles are in place, bridges built and ties all ready for the rails. Prof. Lowe hopes to have a car over the line inside a month and all in running order shortly after.

Yale's Hair Tonic.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to the Excelsior Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. M. Yale—wonderful woman chemist—has made this most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally indorses its action, and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way, and has proved itself to be the ONLY Hair Specific. It STOPS HAIR FALLING immediately, and creates a luxurious growth. Contains no injurious ingredient. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky nor greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy, and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladies with hair a little gray, streaked gray, entirely gray, and men with BALD HEADS, it is specially recommended.

The National Bank of California is one of the few banks that successfully stood the shock of the late panic and maintained full coin payments right through.

The National Bank of California pays no interest on deposits in any form, offers no special inducements for business other than reliability when the customers exercise their right to demand their money.

In the matter of loans it looks more to reliability than high rates of interest, and desires no loans except from good and reliable parties, and then exacts good security, believing that no bank is better or more reliable than its loans.

THE CROWN CITY CYCLE CLUB'S GRAND ROAD RACE.

Mrs. Jones's Easter Bonnet Case is Straightened Out—A Charge of Battery Dismissed—School Election Blanks.

PASADENA, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) For two or three weeks the local cyclers have been all enthusiasm regarding the road race proposed by the Crown City Cycle Club, and that enthusiasm was shown this morning in the assemblage of the largest crowd ever brought together in Pasadena to witness a cycling event.

The course was an eighteen-mile stretch to Monrovia and back, through Baldwin's ranch, around the Monrovia Hotel, and back over the same road, and a very dusty road it was, with here and there a "wash," pebbly and uneven, and here and there a slight rise in the surface of the ground. The boys looked natty and handsome when they were ready for the start, the red, white, blue and orange sweaters and trunks, making a brilliant contrast to their bare polished limbs, their eager faces alert and excited. There was a difference, though, when those same natty, dapper young men came back about an hour later, their faces pallid, and covered with dust, their straining muscles grimy with the race, their "sweaters" performing their duty. Forty-five men lined up for the start at 9 o'clock. F. Savage was the first to start, having an eleven-minute handicap. A minute after him five others with nine minutes handicap set out, followed by three men with an eight-minute handicap, three with seven, and seven with six. Thirteen more handicaps, ranging down to four minutes, set off in their order, followed by nine more ranging down to one. Then the scratch men lined up, and a great shout went forth from the multitude. Represented among them were the crack riders of the various clubs in Southern California, men famous for their achievement in other contests. A finer-looking lot of fellows it would be hard to find, and they had scarcely started before all that could be seen of them was a gray streak of dust away off to the east, with glints of bright color visible as a light wind lifted the cloud. It was only a few minutes before they were all out of sight, but it seemed a long time to the waiting crowd; then off against the horizon was seen again the gray cloud and in its midst a swift-moving speck of color, growing larger and larger until it took a shape of moving legs and arms akimbo, and then all of the yelling done before by the crowd was proven but feebie compared to what they could do if they liked. On he came, crossed the line, and there were cries of "Stewart, Stewart! and it proved to be Will Stewart of Pasadena, who, with a handicap of seven minutes had made first place for himself.

When Ulbricht of Los Angeles came in there was another wild yell, for he had covered the distance in 50m. 40s., proving good his title to the sobriquet, "The Flying Dutchman." A. W. Cleaver same in second, in 51:13, and the other fast time men in the following order: Third, W. Hatton, 52:32; fourth, Phil Kitchin, 52:12; fifth, D. Whitman, 53:14; sixth and seventh, (tie,) F. H. Weight and W. Rodriguez, 53:15; eight and ninth (tie,) R. D. Massey and W. Hargreaves, 53:17; tenth, Alphonse Jay, 53:18; eleventh, C. Washburn, 53:22; twelfth, W. M. Jenkins, 5323; thirteenth, E. P. Neely, 53:35.

On the back stretch Gaylord collided with another cyclist and wrenched his wrist badly, and Pinney fell, breaking his wheel and bruising himself somewhat, but the injuries of both were comparatively slight.

The morning was bright and cool, with a light wind, and every circumstance, except the single one of the dust, being propitious for the race, and every thing went off in fine shape. A large number of wheelmen were to be seen all day about Braley's cycle store, and all were enthusiastic over the Crown City Club's great race, and over the victors in the contest. The prizes and their donors are as follows: First time, Syracuse pacer, Will Knippenberg, Los Angeles, and photographs from Crandall; first place, lady's Crescent, Tufts-Lyon Arms Company, Los Angeles; second time, handsome chair, George Frost, local agent for the Columbias; second place, rubber tires, Allen & Patterson, Stearns' agents, Los Angeles; third place, repeating rifle, Crown City Cycle Club; fourth, gold watch, C. Hewitt; fifth, tennis racquet, Victor Wheel Company; sixth, sweater, Stevens & Hickok; seventh, Kombi camera, Rambler Cycle Company; eighth, pair of bicycle shoes, Wetherby & Kayser; ninth, cyclometer, Aluminum Cycle Company; tenth, saddle, Hawley, King & Co.; eleventh, sweater, March Cycle Company; twelfth, shoes, E. D. G. Campbell; thirteenth, lantern, Russell Manufacturing Company; fourteenth, box cigars, Brunswick billiard hall; fifteenth, box of soap, Chicago Pharmacy.

DISMISSED THE CASE.

In the Recorder's court this afternoon, Luther G. Brown, principal of the Washington school, was examined upon the charge of battery preferred by Otis Fisher, but the case was dismissed by Recorder Rossiter, who ruled that the facts were not such as warranted his being held. The evidence showed conclusively that the boy, Otis Fisher, was disturbing the pupils of Washington school by whistling near the windows, and Mr. Brown merely took hold of his arm, thinking at the time he was a pupil, and warned him to desist, and when he found that Fisher was not a pupil of the school, told him that a repetition of the offense would result in his arrest. The story told by the lad was the same as that related by Mr. Brown, and the personal animus of young Fisher's father was shown at the conclusion of the trial, when he vented his anger upon Mr. Brown, and threatened him with dire results if he "did not let my boy alone." Mr. Brown showed admirable self-control and dignity, and it is certain that, had the boy been on trial for disturbing the peace, he would not have gotten off without a fine. Recorder Rossiter so admonished him, and defined the authority of teachers over pupils, as laid down by the State.

MRS. JONES'S BONNETT.

The Easter-bonnet case appeared in court this afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jones bringing their baby and little boy about 3 years old along and sitting amicably side by side until the case was called. Mr. Jones is a strapping, good-looking, young fellow, and his wife a frail, little body, whose expression of countenance was anything but pugilistic. When Jones was sworn, he declared that he asked his wife for more money "to bowl up some more," and that she refused it, whereupon he became so unpleasantly urgent that she gave him "one in the eye." He humbly declared that she "served me right, and didn't give me half what I deserved," and said he was sorry that he had brought the charge against her and caused her arrest. The bonnet, he declared, "had nothing to do with the case," and he said he had forgotten entirely, on account of the aforesaid "bowling up," which had preceded his application for a writ, that he had mentioned it at all. The recorder assured him that the bonnet was included in the complaint, and asked if the bonnet was in court. Being assured that Mrs. Jones bore it upon her head, the Recorder looked at it critically, and declared it a pretty bonnet, and one for which Jones should have been thanked instead of battered. It was a black bonnet, with red roses, and a glittering, sham scimetar on one side. The Judge's taste was sound on the matter of its beauty, and the compliment to the headgear was taken in good part by Mrs. Jones. The Judge assessed Mr. Jones $5.45 costs, rather than fine Mrs. Jones, who was not put upon the stand at all, and the reconciled husband and wife took their little ones under their arms and went away together as they had come.

W.C.T.U. CONVENTION.

The following members of the W.C.T.U. are in attendance upon the annual convention at Whittier:

County corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Ellen Terpinning, county treasurer, Miss Eva S. Keese; superintendents of departments, county superintendent work among colored people, Dr. Rachel F. Reid; county superintendent franchise, Dr. Ella Whipple-Marsh; county superintendent health and heredity, Dr. Kate S. Black; county superintendent soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith; agent white ribbon, Mrs. Mary Case Lord; delegates from the local union, president local union, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith; delegates, Miss Annie Longfellow, Miss Amelia Bedell, Miss Myrtle Ralston, Mrs. Mattie A. Hall, Mrs. Mary C. Glass, Mrs. Esther M. Werden, Mrs. Anna Shuks Pierce, Mrs. Sadie R. Boynton.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

Young Charles Calvin, who was viewing the bicycle race from a telegraph pole at the corner of Moline avenue and Colorado street, fell a distance of about twelve feet and struck the ground with such force that he was rendered unconscious. He was taken home in a laundry wagon that happened to be near at hand, and Dr. Hodge summoned. After an examination the physician declared that no bones were broken, but that the young man's hip was injured, his wrist and shoulder sprained, and that he had some skin bruises. He is resting comfortably this evening.

A delightful evening was spent at the residence of O. P. Gould April 6, when the pupils of Mrs. Belle Wood gave a music recital. There was an interesting programme rendered, in which the following persons participated: Duets, Clement Anderson, Lulu Reed, Marie Canfield, Miss Wood, Ray Gould, Queenie Cummings, Lulu Reed, Mabel Gould, Lulu Cummings, Clement Anderson; solos, Lulu Cummings, Bertha Eldredge, Mabel Gould, Miss Wood, Marie Canfield.

A subscription of $15 was raised by the boys, as their proportion of the amount to be paid toward a horse and caparisons for the same, for the use of Col. Schreiber.

The blanks for the school election arrived this afternoon, and the election has been set for next Tuesday, April 16. It is hoped that the voters will turn out in force, and vote the desired bonds, that work may begin upon the new schoolhouses.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Carter and three daughters of Chicago, who have been sojourning in Pasadena since November, left today for San Diego, from which place they will begin their return journey to Chicago. The many friends they have made in their stay here greatly regret their departure, and hope that another winter will find them in Pasadena again.

The electric cars will probably not be running between here and Los Angeles by fiesta week. A strike of the brick masons upon the power-house, though adjusted today by the exertions of Col. Fulton, has delayed the completion of that structure, and the material for the erection of the viaduct has not yet all arrived.

J. H. Jacobs sold his house on Park street to J. L. Lancaster, Monday, through the agency of Woodworth & Marriner, for $1600, and also a lot on Raymond avenue to M. H. Hamilton for $700. Mr. Hamilton will at once proceed to build on his new purchase.

Prof. I. N. Vail will speak at the Universalist Church Wednesday evening upon "The True Origin of Coal Oil." His theories of geology are novel, and attract much attention. His lecture is in the regular university extension course.

Mr. Aoki, the genial Japanese artist whose quaint color work has been so great admired in Pasadena, will leave town Saturday night for a Northern and Eastern trip, and will not return until next November.

Anglis Marlenus and Gabriel Vincennes, the two Mexicans brought in Sunday to sober off in the city bastile, were given each ten days as a temperance lesson by Recorder Rossiter this morning.

The members of the Knights of Pythias and their friends will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the founding of their lodge Wednesday evening, and a fine programme is promised for the occasion.

Mrs. C. C. Chalfant and daughter, Lottie, will leave for Catalina May 1, where they have taken one of Dr. C. H. Macdonell's cottages for the summer.

Co. B voted out two members at their meeting Monday evening, failure to perform duty having been proved against them.

Strawberries are today selling in the markets of Pasadena for 5 cents a box.

Single dress patterns, choice, chaste, silk and wool. Bon Accord.

Don't fail to inspect the choice silks for waists at Bon Accord.

ONTARIO.

ONTARIO, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) On the Fourth of July next Ontario will hold the most notable celebration in its history. The celebration will not only commemorate the nation's noted day, but it will open to the public the Ontario Electric Railway, which is to be seven miles long. All this was decided upon Monday at the meeting of the Ontario Electric Company. The differences between the rival companies was settled by the purchase by the Ontario Electric Company of all the stock of the Ontario and San Antonio Heights Railroad Company. A bonus of $3000 was paid for this stock. The company is under contract to complete the line within four months. The incorporators of the company are John Jenkins, C. W. Foote, Charles Frankish, G. T. Stamm, F. B. Stamm, George Stamm and Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins. Electric lights will follow close on the wake of the railroad. The unique gravity line will no longer be an advertisement for Ontario, but the new system will be of greater utility.

A dozen boxes of grape fruit were recently shipped from Ontario.

Turners' Shoot.

At the Turners' regular monthly medal shoot the following scores were made: Champion class—Theo Meyer's score of 213 points not being beaten he still holds the champion medal; First class—Joseph Maier first, 188; O. Freytag second, 184; E. Harris third, 171 points. Second class—F. Rademacher first, 158 points.

Anaheim's Coming Celebration—Garret Southern not Guilty—Real Estate Movements—A Big Fish Catch.

SANTA ANA, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The city election has come and gone and the Democrats, as usual, have demonstrated the fact that they are enough better manipulators of the wires political than their brethren of the Republican party. It was agreed several months ago between the Democrats and Republicans that no political lines should be drawn in the municipal election; that all the candidates should come out on a non-partisan basis, and that their merits should be considered independent of their political affiliations. The preparatory work of the election moved merrily along previous to the date when the right of suffrage was to be exercised, and, meanwhile, a citizenship league was organized with leading Republicans and a few Democrats at its head, with the apparent purpose of assisting the best men, without regard to their political preferences, into the various municipal offices. The unsuspecting Republicans—apparently a guilable set of fellows in Santa Ana—were rejoicing in the belief that the political cross in the city had been buried and that, at least in this election, they would not indulge in any means whatever of furthering political interests of any sort, but would exercise their "great American privilege" on the broad and manly grounds of true merit. Such a conclusion on the part of the Republican brethren was undoubtedly kind and considerate, at least for the Democrats, for it made it possible for them to resort to their old tactics, that of voting for the best man—when that man was a Democrat. With this usual reservation the "great unwashed" yesterday, in the face of a Republican majority, in the city of over one hundred and fifty, elected three out of five of the City Trustees, the City Treasurer and City Clerk—the five most important offices in the city. It was not until after the polls had been opened some time that it was discovered that the Democrats were drawing political lines, while they industriously plastered the Republicans with an unstinted coating of whitewash. Smart Democrats—fool Republicans.

A GREAT SCHEME.

In the City Council meeting tonight a scheme was unearthed by which the city water works has been systematically robbed of a large amount of water for the past two or more years. The city has two water systems, the Spurgeon and the system owned and operated by the city. A few days ago when Fourth street was being plowed up and the water pipes of the Spurgeon system torn up by the big plow, the cause of the leakage was discovered. The water had been flowing from the city water works into and through the Spurgeon system, therefore supplying, by means of taps, that system's customers the same as others with water.

W. H. Spurgeon, the owner of the Spurgeon system, leased it several years ago to C. C. Drake, since which time he (Spurgeon) has had nothing whatever to do with it. As far as can be learned tonight the matter reflects strongly on C. C. Drake and Charles Ward, former Street Superintendent. The City Trustees appointed a committee of investigation tonight, to report as soon as possible, when an action will, no doubt, be brought against the guilty parties, whoever they are.

Some rich developments in the case are expected, as from present indications the method of stealing water has been very systematic, and has been carried on for over two years.

THAT CELEBRATION AT ANAHEIM.

Preparations are going merrily on for the celebration in Anaheim Thursday evening of this week, in honor of the completion of that city's new electric light system. There will be a grand procession, an electrical display, an oration and literary exercises. The military companies of both Anaheim and Santa Ana, and the civic societies of the "mother colony" in their peculiar and brilliant regalia, will participate in the parade, and nothing will be spared to make the occasion one long to be remembered. The advent of electric lights in Anaheim is an important epoch in the history of that city, and is a step in the right line of its residents desire to keep apace with other cities and towns in Southern California. From this time on Anaheim evidently proposes to let its light shine.

GARRET SOUTHERN NOT GUILTY.

The trial of Garret Southern in the Superior Court on a charge of burglary, was concluded today, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. Southern, together with a chum named Jack McDonald, was charged with burglarizing the residence of W. S. Hall, south of the city, several weeks ago.

After Southern was found not guilty by the jury, the action against McDonald was dismissed on motion of the District Attorney on the grounds of there not being sufficient evidence to convict.

REAL ESTATE MOVING.

There may not be a boom in progress in Santa Ana now in the same sense that it was considered five or six years ago, but it is a fact that property is beginning to move quite rapidly now that the city has started in on the line of making so many substantial improvements. The sales recorded today are as follows: George D. Chaffee to Dora B. Chaffee, five acres near Garden Grove, consideration, $1200; L. W. Dennis to Mabel R. Green, lot 4 in block 17, of the Fairview tract, near the town of Fairview, consideration, $750; Henry Carpenter to A. Y. Wright, lot 2 in block A, of J. R. Porter's addition to Santa Ana, consideration, $500; L. W. Dennis of Chicago to Orlando Skinner, lot 3 in block 17 of the Fairview tract, near the town of Fairview, consideration, $750.

ELI CLARK ACQUITTED.

Eli Clark, the young negro who was arrested a few days ago on the charge of adultery, had his trial today (Tuesday,) before Justice of the Peace George E. Freeman and a jury of twelve men. The jury found, after a few minutes deliberation, that the defendant was not guilty. Clark was therefore discharged.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

One needs but visit Newport Beach these days to be convinced of the importance of the fisheries of that place. Yesterday 6200 pounds of halibut were caught and shipped to Los Angeles, and today 7000 pounds more of the finny tribe were hauled ashore. Telegrams were received here this afternoon to ship no more of the fish there until further orders were received, as the city was flooded with them.

Parties having products for the Orange county exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles should leave them at once at the Santa Ana Produce Company's store, on North Main street, where they will be properly packed and shipped to Superintendent Wiggins, to be put in place before fiesta week opens.

Frank Ey, through his attorney, Richard Melrose of Anaheim, has begun suit against J. W. Sprague and others to recover $1700 on a promissory note, executed on August 22, 1890, together with all interest yet unpaid, and the costs of the suit.

Co. F. of this city will be the guests of the citizens of Anaheim next Thursday evening, and to say the boys in blue will be royally treated goes without saying. Anaheim never does things by halves.

The "Rose Maiden," to be given by the Santa Ana Choral Society for the benefit of the public library, will be in the early part of next month instead of next week as stated in The Times this morning.

William Hesper of Fullerton was yesterday granted a license in Los Angeles to wed Miss Elizabeth Vidrovitsch.

Judge J. W. Landell of Anaheim was in Santa Ana today, and made a pleasant call at the Times branch office.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

An Official Statement Regarding San Diego City Water.

SAN DIEGO, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The shameful, false reports which have been published during the past month or two evidently by selfish, prejudiced people, concerning the water of this city, are officially refuted by the City Physician, Dr. D. B. Northrup. In his official statement he says: "Although I can form a very good idea of the quality of the water from daily use, I have made an especial examination of it and applied chemical tests. The quality I find to be very good. The water is soft and pure and free from any alkaline properties. The city is supplied with water conveyed by the flumes from Cuyamaca Lake, where it is stored in the reservoir amid snow-clad peaks, which, like a refrigerator, keeps the water cool and fresh. I am free to say that the city of San Diego is to be congratulated on the excellence of its present water supply, which helps to make it the healthiest city on the face of the globe."

The U. S. S. Monterey is expected to sail on Thursday for Callao, Peru. She is coaling today. On Monday she was visited by hundreds of sightseers. Senator Stephen B. Elkins, Charles Nordhoff and party were entertained by Capt. Francis J. Higginson prior to the departure of the Senator. Today the officers of the San Diego Barracks, including the commandant, Maj. T. M. K. Smith, Capt. Frank de Carrington, Lieut. Amos H. Martin, Lieut. Bert and Maj. Burton of the barracks hospital, pay an official visit to the officers of the big warship. On Wednesday evening a grand ball will be given at Hotel del Coronado in honor of the Monterey's officers. This will be their farewell ball in the United States for many months to come.

THE LEMON FAIR.

The Chamber of Commerce was ablaze with yellow inside and out last night in honor of the opening of the first lemon fair ever held in the world. Outside of the exhibition building lantern and electric lights and lemon decorations gave Fourth street a festive appearance. The City Guard Band and Boeckh's Orchestra filled the fair rooms with delightful music, as the crowds of sightseers surged to and fro. There were lemons everywhere, to the right, left, in front and behind and above the heads of the visitors. There were lemons in the very atmosphere. It was a sight to make the heart of the oldest grower from Sicily beat with envy. For in this San Diego exhibit were lemons such as Spain or Sicily never could produce. In the exhibit were great pyramids of lemons, horns of plenty made out of lemons, hearts and other designs. The heart design in lemons seemed particularly appropriate, because the hearts of San Diego people are set upon the lemon industry as the occupation which promises the greatest returns from their hundreds of thousands of frostless acres adjoining San Diego Bay, which are so admirably adapted for the perfect growing of this fruit. In the fair just opened are seventeen classes of lemons from the several districts of this county. Nearly every considerable lemon rancher in the county is represented and this fact makes the exhibition of increased value to visitors from outside of the county who desire to get an accurate understanding as to what this county is capable of producing in the lemon line.

THE NEW RAILROAD SCHEME.

Thomas Taylor, who is endeavoring to interest San Diegans in a railroad from his rich coal and iron fields in Southern Utah to the harbor of San Diego, is a Mormon bishop. He has made a favorable impression upon the leading business men here. On Monday the committee, consisting of U. S. Grant, Jr., A. E. Nutt, Dr. R. M. Powers, Heber Ingle and Watson Parrish, held two meetings with Bishop Taylor. His credentials were investigated closely, and details as to the organization of plans by the people here in co-operation with the bishop were discussed at length. After the meetings, Chairman Nutt of the committee, said that everything was found by the committee to be as represented by Bishop Taylor. The committee considers the proposition a good one for this city. Bishop Taylor says that his inclination is to bring this road to San Diego because of the harbor and other natural advantages here. Concerning the route of the proposed road, Bishop Taylor says: "We propose to build from Cedar City, Utah, 250 miles south of Salt Lake, southward along the Virgin River to its junction with the Colorado River, down the western bank of the Colorado River to Yuma, and thence west to San Diego. This route is estimated at 550 miles. From Cedar City to San Diego in an air line is about four hundred miles. The bishop has been over the route between Cedar City and Los Angeles four times, and before putting engineers in the field he proposes to go over the route a fifth time. He claims to have assurances from the Denver and Rio Grande Railway Company that it will build to Cedar City to meet a new road to the Coast, and he is positive that Salt Lake City people would build a line to Cedar City to connect with the road.

When the committee of San Diego citizens appointed to investigate Bishop Taylor's plans shall report in detail and offer convincing evidence that the scheme is worthy of support, doubtless hearty and prompt action may be taken by this city in support of the proposition.

"GOODY-GOODIES."

It appears that the book "Trilby" causes some San Diego "goody-goodies" to criticise the trustees of the free library. These "goody-goodies" think that the book is improper. They say so in print, and attempt to cast reflections upon the library trustees. Every one in San Diego has a high regard for every trustee and official connected with the free library. The mind that criticises the San Diego library trustees for passing a book which is generally accepted by the refined minds of the world, is either an intensely ignorant mind or else it is a mind afflicted with such an abnormally superlative sense of morality as to be too intense for comprehension by the average mind.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The February and March disbursements of Fisher's Opera-house were $2005, and the receipts $2363.

Humphrey and Fulton are about building a $13,000 block on Fifth street, between D and E streets.

B. R. Arnold has bought the north half of lot F in block 61 of Horton's addition from J. W. Sefton for $17,500.

Several sailors of the monitor Monterey yesterday signified their intention of becoming United States citizens.

The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of the Superior Court in the case of Receiver Pauly of the California National Bank vs. the cable road. The judgment of the lower court was in favor of the cable road. This reversal may delay the development of the cable road by George B. Kerper, who purchased it recently.

The schooner Wahlberg has arrived from Lower California. Skipper Martin denies that the Mexicans regarded his craft with suspicion. The schooner Acme has sailed for San Clemente Islands. The steamer Pacheco sailed for Ensenada on Monday. The steamer Corona sailed yesterday for San Francisco; U. S. Grant, Jr., was among her passengers.

Jacob Gruendike, president of the First National Bank, has returned to the city.

H. A. Howard has gone to visit his mines at Jacalitos, in Lower California.

Hon. J. S. McClelland, State Horticulturist of Colorado, says that "Southern California, and especially the country about Los Angeles and San Diego, is taking on new life. In San Diego there is an immense amount of building being done, and much interest being shown in real estate."

Col. Chalmers Scott, who has gone to the Rosebud Indian Agency in South Dakota as engineer in allotting 3,500,000 acres of Indian lands, will be employed several years in this work.

The Presbytery of Los Angeles meets in the First Presbyterian Church this afternoon. Its sessions will continue for three days. Tonight the Rev. P. E. Kipp will be installed pastor of this church, the sermon being preached by the retiring moderator, the Rev. R. W. Cleland.

POMONA.

Full Details of the Election in the City.

POMONA, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The total number of votes polled in the municipal contest Monday was 1063—First Ward, 216; Second Ward, 226; Third Ward, 208; Fourth Ward, 243, and Fifth Ward, 190.

The First, Second and Fourth, polling a total of 685 votes, were the three that elected trustees, and in this vote there was a majority for the high-license candidates for trustees of 98, although the First Ward beat Graber by 12, giving the anti-saloon candidate, Mr. Waters, that majority. Garthside's (high license) majority for clerk was 115; F. K. Adams (high license) led the next highest member of the Board of Education by 27; Lorbeer's (high license) majority for City Marshal, 10; Youngs, for Recorder, on anti-saloon, received 9 majority; Owen, for City Attorney, on same ticket, got 5 over his competitor; Soper, for Assessor, on same, is now said to have 1 majority over his opponent; Goodwin (incumbent) went in by 50 ahead of the high-license candidate for City Treasurer. For Trustees, Raynes (high license) got 96 instead of 94, as reported this morning. In short, it is a curious study, but all the same, the anti-saloonists have the Trustees by one and also the City Attorney, and all good Pomonans hope they can keep down the objectionable features that prevailed in this city in the days gone by, and that harmony and good feeling may exist in prosperous Pomona.

F. K. Adams and J. R. Garthside, both on the high-license ticket, led in the Third Ward. In the Fifth Ward, the banner anti-saloon ward, Garthside ran only 25 behind his opponent.

R. H. Hinman and wife, parents of E. Hinman of this city, will leave tomorrow (Wednesday) for their home, Cambridge, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Perkins of San Francisco are in the city on a visit to the family of O. F. Gilm, father of Mrs. Perkins.

E. M. Keller and wife of this city will be absent in Los Angeles until after the close of La Fiesta.

The Sunday evening services at the Congregational Church are now under the management of the Men's Club, who select choirs and special music for each service. Next Sunday night will be an especial Easter selection.

This community will be shocekd to learn that a telegram has just been received in this place, announcing the sudden death of the mother of Miss Jessie Coddington. It will be remembered that her parents, who had spent several months in Pomona, left about two weeks since for their home in the East, both in excellent health, their daughter, Jessie, remaining here.

It has just been reported to this agency that Harry Meserve of this city has been engagfied by some of the leading railway companies in South Dakota to teach the practical methods of irrigation. He will immediately start for his field of operations.

SANTA MONICA.

Three Men Booked for Vagrancy—Tribolet's Will.

SANTA MONICA, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The three men taken in Monday morning on suspicion of having picked pockets here on Sunday, were searched in vain for any incriminating articles, and nothing found upon them to warrant holding them upon that charge. They were, therefore, booked for vagrancy and Judge Barackman gave them fifteen days each in the County Jail. They answered to the names of James Talbot, W. F. Knowles and F. Casey. The Los Angeles officers think they are sure-enough pick-pockets and general all-round sure-thing fakers.

Robert Chisholm, familiarly known here as "Nigger Bob," is under arrest, charged with petty larceny by William Downs. He was arraigned before Justice Barackman this morning and held for hearing in $100 bonds. The security was furnished by William Phillips and T. H. Sampson, and the man will be tried before Justice Wells.

The will of the late Albert Tribolet has been admitted to probate, and the woman in the case becomes executrix of the estate which she already held to a large extent by assignment. Investigation shows that the murdered man was one of numerous family, no less than seven brothers and one sister having been located. The woman Lily at Bakersfield claimed at the time of his death to be his widow and demanded his personal effects of the Coroner, but on learning that a brother was en route to take matters in hand she disappeared and made no effort to produce proofs of marriage with the dead man. It is not probable that he was ever married.

The report now is that the new Southern Pacific time-card will go into effect on Thursday, the date of discontinuance of the "Sunset Limited." As understood the chief changes to be made as affecting this place will be to start the first train toward Los Angeles at 7:20 instead of 7:30, and the next at 8:15 instead of 8. Neither train will go by the home, that duty falling to the lot of the noon train, which will leave here fifteen minutes earlier in order to arrive in Los Angeles at the same time as now. The other changes, it is understood, will be immaterial.

James Orr, landlord of the St. James, has the foundations in and lumber on the ground for the new hotel he is to erect on Ocean avenue, nearly opposite the Arcadia. The building will be ready for occupancy prior to the termination of Mr. Orr's lease of the St. James, which expires in the fall.

The Southern Pacific proposes two theater trains next week, on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. There is some dissatisfaction with this arrangement as insufficient, and possibly a third train will yet be added. The price of 70 cents still holds, and if not changed may render additional train service less necessary. This place ought to have a 50-cent rate to the fiesta.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

THE MERCANTILE TICKET IN THE CITY ELECTION.

All Sunday-closing Laws Will be Promptly Repealed—Colton to Have an Electric Light Plant—Personals.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The election passed off quietly but energetically yesterday, and resulted in a sweeping victory for the Mercantile ticket by majorities ranging from 73 on Marshal to 417 for Treasurer. The whole number of votes cast was 1429 as against 1237 of two years ago. The question of the repeal of ordinance 157, on which the entire fight was made, resulted in 350 votes for and 907 against, a majority of 557, showing that the "400" voted that way. The vote on Marshal was: John C. Ralphs, 634; L. Van Dorin, 716. Assessor, E. B. Tyler, 550; W. J. Beaver, 796. Treasurer, Walter Hubbard, 469; George M. Cooley, 886. City Attorney, H. C. Rolfe, 401; C. L. Allison, 791. Recorder, H. L. Peck, 470; Smith C. Haile, 820. Board of Education, J. H. Barton, 547; L. N. Bedford, 486; J. W. Curtis, 483; A. S. Davidson, 808; J. W. Stephenson, 775; W. A. Vale, 848. For Trustees of the Third Ward, T. O. Carter, 93; M. A. Pace, 167. Trustee for the Fifth Ward, P. D. Hockaday, 111; J. B. Frich, 202. The result of the election was so overwhelmingly for open Sundays that it is looked upon as a rebuke to the churches not to meddle in politics.

The organization of the Mercantile Association and its work in preparing for the election, was undoubtedly the most thorough ever done in this city. It was known to them just how every man would vote and they were distributed around where they would do the most good in working to get out a complete vote. As a sample, in the Second Ward they had 210 voters on the list, and at 2 o'clock they had 205 of them voted and the workers went out and brought in the other five to make sure of them. The first work of the new Board of Trustees after organization will be to repeal all Sunday-closing laws, including all the merchants, barbers, butchers, cigar-stands, etc., and restore affairs to the status they were before the barbers, butchers, merchants, etc., asked for a closing ordinance for each branch.

ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

Colton is talking of having an electric light plant of its own, having become disgusted with the service which they have been paying $70 per month for. They now propose to put in a plant for $5000 that will light all their streets with arc lights and permit 1000 incandescent lights for stores and residences. They have in consultation with them two experts who are figuring to put in the plant. If they can secure cheap motive power their dreams will be realized in having cheap lights.

RIVAL TEAMS.

There is considerable rivalry between the members of Co. E of this city, and Co. G of Redlands of the Ninth Infantry, National Guard of California, and on Sunday the crack team of each company met at the shooting grounds of Co. E to try conclusions for the third time. As at both the former trials victory had perched on the Redlands banner, there was considerable local excitement as to the outcome of the third meeting. As before the Redlands boys were too quick of eye and too steady of nerve for our boys and again bore off the honors with the following score:

Co. E, San Bernardino—Sergt. Seaman, 36; Corp. Perdew, 34; Private Faris, 41; Private Holcomb, 40; Private Eastwood, 38; Private Wait, 38; Sergt. Roundtree, 32; Corp. Perry, 38; Capt. Ball, 41; Private Jeffrey, 38; total, 376.

Co. G, Redlands—Corp. Sherrard, 38; Corp. Maier, 32; Second Lieutenant Underwood, 35; Sergt. Wilton, 34; First Lieutenant Higbey, 40; Private Harthorne, 37; Corp. Cook, 42; Corp. Sheldon, 43; Private Moon, 40; Corp. Collins, 42; total, 384.

TOLL-ROAD TROUBLES.

There is a toll road up the mountains leading to Squirrel Inn, a famous mountain resort, and also to the reservoirs that the Arrowhead Company is building, and this road is a bone of contention between the company and the settlers. The latter have at times torn down the gates and once burned the tollhouse and nearly the toll-taker and his family. There is a petition, signed by sixty settlers, before the Board of Supervisors for lowering the tolls and placing the first toll-gate four miles up the mountain. This would throw open free the entire Waterman Canyon, which is used as a picnic and camping-ground in the summer time, and the toll to which is one of the chief resources of the toll company. They claim the whole road costs much more than the receipts at present rates and oppose strongly any reduction in rates or cutting off their main source of revenue from the campers. The matter came up before the Board of Supervisors yesterday morning, but was postponed until Tuesday, April 23, when witnesses on both sides will be subpoenaed and the whole matter be investigated.

TOOK IT ALL BACK.

Will Alder, the Redlands undertaker who attended the hop at the asylum and caused all the trouble by his freshness and lack of knowledge of the rules of the institution, came out in print, making vague charges against those high in authority in the management of affairs, but at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday he was summoned before them, but made a most abject apology and "knew nothing against nobody," taking back all he had said against everybody, and peace and harmony again reigns supreme.

OTHER NEWS.

R. J. Buckley, a switchman, was killed at Peach Springs, Ariz., Wednesday night last by being struck by a box car as he stepped back from uncoupling the engine of the east-bound overland. Buckley was for many years a well-known resident of this city, and married a few years ago Miss Nettie Grimes, the youngest daughter of I. C. Grimes of this city.

T. J. Wilson came down from Yucaipa Valley, fourteen miles beyond Redlands, and about 4000 feet above sea level, and reports that with no untoward accident there will be a magnificent crop of honey this spring, and a very large crop of cherries, apples, etc., providing there is no frost between now and the first of May.

Rev. J. H. McCracken, who is spending the winter at Lamanda Park for his health, has been the occasional supply of the St. John's Episcopal Church pulpit here the past winter, and made many friends among his pro tem. parishoners in this city. He will preach his farewell sermon Easter Sunday evening, and then return to his Eastern home.

The gain in the city's vote in two years would indicate that San Bernardino has made a growth of at least 1000 in population in the past two years, a very good showing for the hard times.

John McGyor and Miss Rankin, both of Colton, will be married tomorrow (Wednesday.)

Last Sunday a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Haskell.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday lowered the county saloon license to $120 per year for each saloon, making it now $180 per year.

Why Your Blood is Thin.
How You Know Your Blood is Thin.
How to Make Your Blood Thick.
How You Know Your Blood is Thick.

The blood is composed of liquor sanguins and red and white blood corpuscles.

Rich, thick blood has an abundance of corpuscles, while thin, pale blood, unable to nourish or enrich the body, has few blood corpuscles.

WHY YOUR BLOOD IS THIN.

Because the blood is made from the food you eat, and if you suffer from indigestion, torpid liver, inactive kidneys, irregular bowels, the blood is thin. Thick blood would gradually become thin as you become constipated, as your liver became inactive, as your kidneys became affected. The food that is composed of the essential elements to make rich, thick blood passes off as waste matter undigested.

HOW YOU KNOW YOUR BLOOD IS THIN.

Your blood is thin when your head aches, when you have neuralgia, when you suffer from dyspepsia, when your liver is torpid, when your bowels are constipated, when you have eructions of foul-smelling gases, when you have heartburn, when you have dizzy spells, when you have faint spells, when you have eruptions on the face, limbs or body; when you have those nasty pimples. These disagreable symptoms are all relieved by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR BLOOD THICK.

Your blood is thick when your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are active; your digestion and assimilation perfect. Your blood is thick when you use Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, a purely vegetable compound, acting as a mild liver stimulant, cleansing the stomach, promoting digestion, regulating the bowels and making your kidneys active. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla makes your blood thick.

HOW YOU KNOW YOUR BLOOD IS THICK.

You know your blood is thick when you feel well, when your appetite is good, when your digestion is perfect, when your liver is active, when you use Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, when your kidneys are active, when your skin is free from pimples and eruptions, when you are free from headaches, when you are free from neuralgia, when you are free from dizzy spells, when you are free from faint spells. You know your blood is thick when you use Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, purely a vegetable compound, stimulating the liver, promoting digestion, regulating the kidneys and bowels.

Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla contains no iodide of potassium, no deadly mineral Messrs. Mayes and Day, Slauson and Salisbury Will Represent the Two Sides of the Controversy.

Attention has already been drawn to the internecine troubles disturbing the First Presbyterian Church. Like the unregenerate outside the sacred walls, the church members have come to grief over the disposal of a large sum of money, and that, fundamentally, is all there is to it. But while the opposing factions have been warring among themselves there has been more fun developed than could be excited by a barrel full of monkeys.

Rev. Burt Estes Howard, while striving to keep the peace in the church and reconcile differences, has not hesitated to whirl the metaphorical shillalah himself. When The Times first ventured to publish a statement of the facts in the case, the reverend gentleman, on the following Sunday morning, was bold enough to state from the pulpit that whoever volunteered the information to The Times ought to be disciplined by the church.

At a very early stage of the trouble H. T. Gordon, a member of the church living at Azusa, after venturing to differ from Mr. Howard as to the removal of the church into the southwest district, concluded his address by plainly stating that if he lived in the city, instead of the country, and had vital interest in the matter he would enjoin the trustees from proceeding with their design. "Then I'd session you," responded Mr. Howard. "And I'd sue you for damages," retorted Mr. Gordon, who, being a lawyer, knew, presumably, what he was talking about.

But the sessioning of any of the rebellious members of the church is a matter for future consideration; at present the eyes of the congregation are fixed on the Presbytery now in session at San Diego. W. B. Mayes, one of the elders of the First Presbyterian Church at the time this site difficulty developed, and C. E. Day, as a lay member of the church, left for San Diego yesterday afternoon, having in their charge the written and signed appeal against the church being removed to Figueroa and Twentieth streets. Rather curiously the appeal bears the signatures of 252 members of the church, exactly double the number of votes cast for J. S. Slauson as trustee, when he was re-elected to office at the annual church election. Mr. Slauson has been identified with the church since its foundation and is the head and front of the movement, having for its purpose the removal of the church to the selected location.

J. S. Slauson and J. C. Salisbury will represent the trustees of the church and the committee appointed to act jointly with them. The appeal itself is not a lengthy document, but covers the grounds of complaint. These are that the action of removing the First Presbyterian Church westward is contrary to the spirit of Christ and Christianity, and that the center of the city with its evangelized masses is the special work of the church; that the members of the congregation live principally in the northern and central part of the city, 580 living north of Tenth street, 66 living north of Eighth street, 445 north of Fourth street, while only 140 live west of Hill and south of Fourth street; that the proposed site is in a district already occupied by the Presbyterian church, there being three congregations in that part of the city; that the money about to be expended for this undesired church was contributed by the donors for the purpose of carrying on work in the center of the city; that if the church is built at Figueroa and Twentieth streets the larger portion of the congregation will be left without a church or money wherewith to build one; that the change will seriously impair the work being carried on at the prayer-meeting, Sunday-school and Senior and Junior Endeavor societies, and for other reasons to be given should the Presbytery consider the appeal.

There are a number of the church members who have signed the appeal who realize that the First Presbyterian Church has been disrupted in any case, and are now only anxious that what they consider absolute justice may be done in the premises.

PRODIGIOUS PUMPKINS.

A Story They Told at the Chamber of Commerce.

The huge pile of squashes in the exhibition-room at the Chamber of Commerce tell a tale of reformation and vigorous resolution to lead a better life that contains a moral worthy the serious consideration of the jeunesse doree of America. A couple of visitors from the East strolling around the chamber stopped to view the mammoth vegetables, and one, catching sight of a card tacked to one of the leviathans of the pile, bent down to study it more closely. "Oh, come along!" said his friend. "It is nothing but a lot of deformed pumpkins. Lots of things better worth looking at in here than that."

"I'm not looking at the squashes;" replied the first man. "See that card? Young man, two years ago that fellow was the biggest dude in New York. He came out West somewhere, and, by Jiminy! here he is raising big pumpkins. Well, well! I never thought I'd see that man's name tacked on a squash. Queer, how things do change," and the pair walked on pondering at this latest miracle of a brand snatched from the furnace of Gotham, and thus transplanted to the land of the peaceful squash.

Jonathan Baldwin, of Indiana, an octogenarian Quaker who is making the tour of California with all the spirit of a young man, was taking in the exhibits at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. His admiration for the Golden State is hearty and outspoken. He declares that he came to California mainly to prove the truth of the wonderful tales told about the place, and his only comment is: "The half has not been told. It is the garden of America, and not one beauty has been exaggerated by travelers' tales."

An odd exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce is a calla, sent in by Mrs. W. W. Low of Long Beach. It is a genuine freak, showing upon one stem a slightly deformed, but full-sized blossom, and a leaf which is natural in shape and size but abnormal in its imitation of the flower in color and texture. It is pure white, and is either a leaf-shaped flower or a leaf trying to masquerade in the dress of the blossom.

S. P. Mulford has sent in a branch from an almond tree heavily laden with young almonds. The branch is taken from a tree in Antelope Valley, two miles south of Del Sur. There are 3000 acres set to these trees in this valley, and the indications are that this branch is a fair sample of the present crop on the trees. If so, nut-trees in this region would certainly be an excellent investment.

Edwin W. Ruddy of Rosemont displays some magnificent specimens of the "Papa Gontier" rose, the same variety that created such a sensation in the Los Angeles exhibit at the Midwinter Fair.

ASK THEM WHY?

Ask the men who are making imitations of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening, why they give up lard and try to trade on the merits of COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess why.

ASK HIM WHY?

Ask the grocer who attempts substitution, why he tries to sell an imitation when people call for that pure, palatable and popular vegetable shortening, COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess.

ASK YOURSELF WHY?

Why should not YOU use COTTOLENE, instead of lard or any other compound, for all cooking purposes? It has the highest possible endorsement; from Physicians as to healthfulness; from Cooking Experts as to superiority; from housekeepers as to economy. Use COTTOLENE and stick to it.
